BATTLE RAGES ON IN MADRID

POLES TURN TO BRITAIN; FEAR NAZIS, RUSSIA

Foreign Chief Seeks Backing in London.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 8. — The arrival here this afternoon of Col. Josef Beck, Polish foreign minister, with foreign office experts for a four day stay caused considerable stir among European diplomats. It is the first official visit of any Polish foreign minister to England.

Europe's capitals and, above all, Berlin, are watching closely for results of the Polish statesman's visit, which was planned in the hope of cementing Anglo-Polish relations and assuring Poland of more security.

Quarrel Alarms Warsaw.

Growing tension between Berlin and Moscow has made the Poles more fearful than ever that they some day are going to be caught between the hammer and anvil. They feel that France's treaty with Russia may render the Franco-Polish alliance useless at a critical moment. In view of Germany's constant refusal to enter the eastern European security pact the Poles want to find some one else to back them up in time of need.

That Great Britain is kindly disposed toward the idea despite the often stated determination not to be bound by any pact in eastern Europe is indicated by plans for Col. Beck's visit which include an audience with King Edward VIII. of England at Buckingham palace Tuesday.

JEWS MAKE APPEAL

BY DONALD DAY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WARSAW, Poland, Nov. 8.—A special prayer was offered in the synagogues throughout Poland yesterday for the success of Foreign Minister Josef Beck's conference with Capt. Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary, in London this week. Beck will make a strong plea to the British government to increase the Jewish immigration quota into Palestine.

Polish Jewry, numbering almost 4,000,000, is intensely interested in increasing migration to Palestine of tens of thousands of Jewish youths who are studying agriculture and other trades in special educational institutions in the hope of obtaining the coveted permission to migrate to their cultural homeland.

Jews and Poles Alarmed.

The announcement by W. Ormsby-Gore, British secretary of state for colonies, of another reduction in the immigration quota for Palestine caused consternation here both among the Jews and Poles. They are cooperating in seeking a solution for the pressing problem of over population. Poland claims this over population is one of its chief handicaps in overcoming the economic crisis.

During the next six months, 1,800 Jews will be permitted to migrate to Palestine. Three hundred of these comprise the quota allotted to German Jews who are already in Palestine, leaving Poland approximately 800 of the remainder to be distributed among tens of thousands of eager applicants. During the same period last year, 8,000 were permitted to enter Palestine, while in the last six month period, beginning April 1, only 4,500 visas were issued. According to Jewish leaders, this proves that Great Britain has surrendered to the Arabs' demand to reduce Jewish immigration.

Still Friendly with Germany.

Another reason for Beck's visit to London, according to Warsaw officials, is the necessity of explaining to London that nothing in recent developments in the Free City of Danzig threatens the friendly relations existing between Berlin and Warsaw. Beck also will inform British officials that Poland continues to regard the soviet government as the chief provocateur of trouble in Europe through the communist internationale's promotion of popular fronts, class warfare and the soviet government's meddling in European politics.

He further will insist that Moscow is attempting to surround Germany with a ring of hostile nations in an effort to provoke war and wipe out Naziism.

Beck will point out that bolshevik influence both on Czechoslovakia and Lithuania is a serious threat to peace. He will say that Poland is helping to combat this influence through its independent foreign policy and by avoiding alliance with either Germany or Russia.

STRIKERS CLAIM 231 SHIPS ARE HELD IN PORTS

New York, Nov. 8.—(AP)—The liner Oriente departed more than a day late for Havana without passengers today as a result of the maritime strike which caused a ten hour delay yesterday in the departure of the inter-American peace conference delegation headed by Secretary of State Cardell Hull.

Even after canceling passenger accommodations, the New York and Cuba Mail line officials were unable to complete the reduced crew of 130 men for the Oriente, as required by law, until 3:45 p. m. today.

Similar difficulties in enrolling a crew caused the delay in the sailing of the liner American Legion with the American delegation bound for Buenos Aires.

Report 16,849 on Strike.

The insurgent committee directing the strike, against opposition of regular officers of the International Seamen's union, claimed that 16,986 men were on strike in Atlantic and gulf ports today with 231 ships tied up.

They claimed 7,131 strikers were registered by midnight last night at two offices in Manhattan and one each in Brooklyn, Staten Island, and Hoboken, N. J., tying up 65 ships in the New York area.

The American Steamship Owners' association tonight said inquiries to sixty-four member companies which are signatories of the agreement with the International Seamen's union revealed that since the outlaw strike began Oct. 29, up to and including Saturday, 121 American flag ships have sailed from the port of New York with a total of 7,670 union men in their crews.

Passengers Transferred.

About 150 of the full crew of 205 for the Oriente went on strike yesterday before the scheduled sailing at noon.

The Oriente had a passenger list of eighty-two, some of whom were transferred to the steamship Monarch of Bermuda, which sailed yesterday, while fares of others were refunded.

N. O. Fano, vice president of the line, said the Oriente was sailing today as a cargo ship.

Ships to Be Unloaded.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 8.—(AP) Tension lessened on the maritime strike front tonight as the result of the unions' decision to ease the plight of stranded passengers and release perishable cargoes in some western ports.

The joint strike committee recommended that their membership return strikebound vessels to home ports. This promised relief for 600 stranded passengers and 900 strikers in Honolulu as well as for hundreds of maritime men idle in Atlantic and gulf ports.

Local unions decided to unload perishable cargo on idle ships here and urged fellow workers at other coast ports to do likewise.

Court Orders Cargo Removed.

The matter of unloading a consignment of bananas from the liner California at San Pedro remained an issue, however, when union leaders declined for the time being the invitation of Chief Deputy United States Marshal Ray Ransdell to handle the cargo.

Federal Judge Paul J. McCormick yesterday ordered the marshal to discharge the cargo on petition of the consignee.

Union leaders declined to aid Ransdell pending a meeting of the unions tonight to decide whether to handle all strikebound perishables there.

Move for Settlement.

Three conciliatory moves in quick succession eased tension and brightened peace prospects on the maritime strike front tonight.

Assistant Secretary of Labor Edward F. McGrady announced strikers representatives had authorized the reopening of peace negotiations with shipowners. He said he would attempt to bring representatives of the employers and one of the unions together tomorrow, or as soon as the central strike committee designated which union would inaugurate the peace conversations.

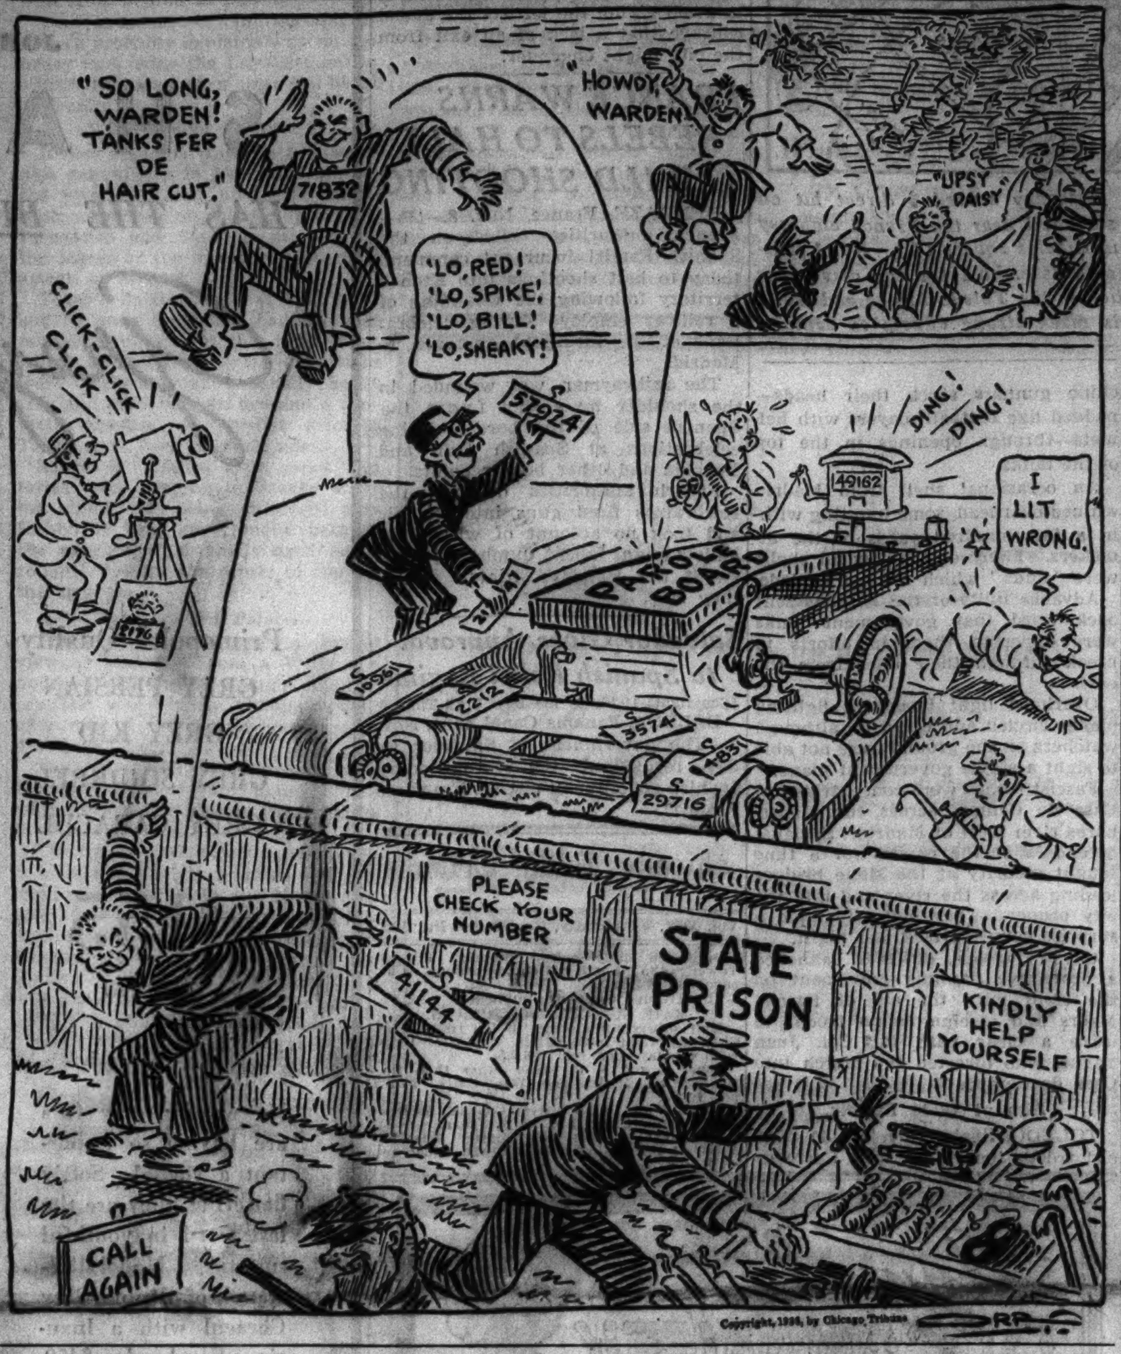
It was said the outlook for progress toward peace depended upon what proposals the union negotiations would present. Employers previously agreed to resume conversations if the unions would not insist upon certain conditions as a prerequisite.

At San Pedro labor difficulties were aggravated by a strike vote of the Deep Sea and Purse Seine Fisher men's association.

The strike will be effective tomorrow.

THE SPRINGBOARD

THE PAROLE MACHINE ON A PRODUCTION BASIS



Open 'Medical' Theater to Rid Folk of Phobia

Beacon, N. Y., Nov. 8.—(AP)—A Thereapeutic theater, the first in the United States, where the players will act spontaneously to try to rid themselves of mental worries or serious phobias, was dedicated here today.

The theater is new in both form and purpose. It is a medical experiment. Associate director of it is Mrs. Gertrude Franchot Tone, mother of Franchot Tone, movie star. Its head is J. L. Moreno, M.D., psychiatrist and originator of the "spontaneity" technique which the theater will use.

The dedication was attended by a party of physicians, educators, social work officials, and psychologists.

Departure in Construction.

The stage of the theater is a round platform at one end of the auditorium. Two concentric ring steps lead up to it. Overhead is a balcony.

A psychoanalyst, Dr. Moreno explained, might use this setup to place the person fully clothed on the platform, his soul an undraped figure on a lower step, and his idealized goal a sort of god on the balcony above.

As an example of the medical purpose, Dr. Moreno cited a man unhappy, upset, unable to succeed because he could not get along with his boss.

In the theater this man would take part in spontaneous play-acting, unprepared in advance except as those studying his troubles would choose a topic applicable to his unsolved problem.

Audience to Take Part.

The audience would participate in his acting. It would be a sort of kindergarten for adults.

Dr. Moreno has used this sort of acting in several large institutions. It was not confined to mental cases nor to social misfits. Adults, he said, seemed, like children, to find answers to their problems in spontaneous plays.

He said the theater was chosen for this work because it is the closest of all institutions to real life. It will be used in three ways—as a diagnostic instrument, as a research tool under direction of a board of advisers from universities and medical institutions, and for treatment.

College Cadets All Decked Out in Railroad Emblems

Lawrence, Kas., Nov. 8.—(AP)—R. O. T. C. cadet officers at the University of Kansas couldn't think of any command but "all aboard" when they put on their new uniforms. The firm which made them had sewed on buttons bearing a railroad emblem instead of "K. U."

WINS 'LIAR'S' MEDAL ON STORY ON UNCLE AND MIGRATING ISLE

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 8.—(AP)—The seagoing Ananias club—a celebrated crew of liars—pinned a medal on Seaman Art Longan of the coast guard cutter Northland today for the one about his uncle.

Longan's story:

"My uncle spent his summers on one of the Aleutian Islands, out near the international dateline.

"He set out for the island one year and couldn't find it. Next year he found it—10 miles from where it had been.

"That fall he waited for the boat to come and take him off, but it didn't come. After 17 years the ship found him. The captain said he had returned the first autumn but couldn't find the island.

"They finally figured it out. The island went south every winter to escape the cold and it returned to the Aleutians every summer. Well, sometimes it parked on the west side of the international dateline and sometimes on the east side. The year the captain couldn't find my uncle the island had moved over to the west side.

DOG IS RESCUED FROM LEDGE ON N. J. PALISADES

Alpine, N. J., Nov. 8.—[Special.]—Two mated Irish wolfhounds, each weighing more than 100 pounds, rushed over the brink of the Palisades sometime Friday, apparently when chasing a rabbit or squirrel. One was crushed to death on the rocks 300 feet below and the other, the male, stopped miraculously on a narrow shelf, jutting from the face of the cliff 30 feet from the top. This animal, weak from hunger, was rescued this afternoon by interstate park police.

Since Friday afternoon, James Reilly, a watchman employed by the interstate park commission, has heard the intermittent whines and howls of a dog near Lookout point, a favorite place for sightseers. Today he located the place they came from. On a shelf no more than two and half feet wide and fifteen feet long he saw the exhausted dog.

250,000 Join Protest Over British Dole

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 8.—A quarter of a million people gathered in Hyde Park this afternoon and joined in the climactic demonstration of 2,000 unemployed hunger marchers who reached London after marching for six weeks from all parts of England, Scotland, and Wales to protest against the means test and modifications of the relief law which will be effective Nov. 16.

Footsore and weary — some had come 500 miles—the marchers, backed up by London communist and labor organizations, poured into the park with the knapsacks still on their backs.

Listen to 36 Speakers.

The mile long column of marchers crowded around six platforms where they were addressed by thirty-six speakers, including Maj. Clement R. Attlee, Laborite leader, and a dozen Labor members of parliament, trade union leaders, and others.

The significance of the meeting, as stressed by Aneurin Bevan, fiery Laborite, was that for the first time leftist organizations were presenting a united front against the government's relief plans.

Denouncing the means test under which assistance is graded according to family income, not individual income, speakers claimed it has broken up family life in distressed areas.

Nearly 2,000 policemen were on duty, while radio cars and motorcyclists kept in constant touch with headquarters.

Mounted Police Charge.

Plainclothes officers, dressed in workingmen's caps and mufflers, mingled with the crowd and Sir Philip Game, commissioner of metropolitan police, watched from a control tower near the park gates.

The demonstration passed off quietly, apart from a few minor scuffles when the scare cry "Fascists was raised by unruly elements. A mounted police charge speedily got the crowd under control again.

A number of people were slightly injured when a sudden heavy storm caused a section of the crowd to rush for shelter. They surged across roadways and women and children were knocked down and trampled and trafic was held up. Despite the downpour, speakers continued to address the crowd from coal cart platforms.

J. Barrymore and Elaine Are Wed in Yuma

BULLETIN.

Yuma, Ariz., Nov. 9.—(AP)—John Barrymore, 55 year old actor, and his 21 year old protege, Elaine Barrie, were married here today a few minutes after midnight, after an airplane flight from Los Angeles. The ceremony was performed by Justice of the Peace Earl A. Freeman at his home. Witnesses were Miss Barrie's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Jacobs.

Mrs. Freeman said the bride kissed Barrymore and her mother after the nuptials, but did not bestow a similar caress on the judge. Barrymore said the party would return to Los Angeles by train.

A few minutes before the plane left Barrymore announced the wedding would take place in the Arizona city.

They were accompanied to Yuma by Miss Barrie's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jacobs of New York.

Barrymore said they would return probably tomorrow morning. He is due to start work on a motion picture this week.

Afterward, he said, they will make a picture together and later will appear together on the stage.

Barrymore indicated he had been responsible for a resumption of their stormy romance.

"Two weeks ago I called long distance across the continent and we decided to marry," he said. "We set the date then.

"Ever since I saw that girl I wanted to marry her, but how could I when she was in New York and I was in Hollywood?"

Miss Barrie Urges Haste.

Miss Barrie had arrived with her parents from New York at another airport two hours previously and went to a hotel. The party drove to the Glendale airport in a closed automobile which they left at the end of the field.

The actor was affable, but Miss Barrie was somewhat reticent and appeared a little nervous.

"Let's hurry; we'll miss the plane," she suggested as Barrymore tarried to talk with reporters.

Marriage Not Too Hurried.

Barrymore chuckled at the prospect of missing the chartered ship. He was attired in his usual careful fashion, with a brown camel's hair overcoat and white duck shoes.

Asked if their wedding plans were hurriedly arranged, Barrymore replied: "Not too hurriedly."

The romance, which began with their meeting in a New York hospital where Barrymore was a patient more than a year ago, blossomed with trips together to night clubs and beaches, a cruise on the actor's private yacht, and New York shopping expeditions.

Then a stormy scene in Miss Bar-

FLYERS ATTACK AS REBEL DRIVE INTO CITY GAINS

Perils Neutrality

Premier Blum of France tells Socialists he is ready to bolt neutrality agreement and send arms to the Madrid government if England will join in such action. Blum's speech creates consternation in London. Italian semi-official writer advocates dissolution of nonintervention committee in London the moment rebels capture Madrid. Details on Page 3.

MADRID, Nov. 9 [Monday].—(AP)—Fascist insurgent airplanes bombed Madrid early this morning following aerial and artillery bombardments of the capital yesterday in which it was semi-officially estimated thirty were killed and 170 wounded. Unofficially it was estimated nearly 200 were killed and many fires were started by the Sunday aerial bombardment.

Sirens screamed the warning of a new visit by insurgent planes at 12:15 a. m. today [7:15 p. m. Sunday, Chicago time], and shortly thereafter one loud explosion was heard.

Batteries of artillery roared through most of the night after the belligerents halted their man to man combat at nightfall.

[Rebel reports declared their troops had taken the Segovia and Princessa bridges over the Manzanares and fighting was carried into the district near the presidential palace.]

An official bulletin early this morning reported the Socialist defenders of the capital had lost some positions on the outskirts, but later recaptured them.

Sleep on Park Benches.

Thousands of men and women who lived in the area near the Toledo bridge slept under trees on benches in the fashionable Castellana boulevard in fear of night shelling that might crumple buildings.

Madrid's defenders were ordered by the defense junta to stand firmly at their posts whatever rain of shells and incendiary bombs the Fascists might again pour on the trenches in the heart of the city.

Most of those wounded in yesterday's hail of shells and bombs were stated to have been seriously injured. Three trucks were seen loaded with bodies of bombing victims from the area of Puerta de la Princessa alone. Near the Puerta de la Princessa there were two bomb craters 13 feet wide and 15 feet deep.

Ministries Damaged.

Several bombs fell on the platform of the North railway station, killing one person and wounding two. The first aid station in Plaza Mayor reported one person had been killed and 18 wounded. Fifty wounded persons were treated in La Latina first aid station.

Two houses wrecked in Sunday's bombardment were still on fire, flames casting glare upon the walls of other homes in the neighborhood.

The artillery shells landed in the Puerta del Sol near the ministries of interior and state and sprayed the southern section of the town. One shell scored a direct hit on the presidential palace and another hit Cibeles Square in front of the ministry of war and one block from the Associated Press office.

Another fell near the French embassy in Recoletos street.

Clouds of smoke overhung the sky as buildings ignited by the artillery fire went up in flames.

Citizens Panic Stricken.

The clanging of fire trucks rushing from one part of the city to another added to the panic of residents huddled in cellars and subways.

Eighteen bombs were dropped by the seven Fascist planes which appeared suddenly yesterday. The planes showered bombs in rapid succession as they swept low over the city with machine guns blasting.

The bombardment lasted four minutes. The planes escaped through a hail of anti-aircraft shot.

The bombers were escorted by pursuit planes. They flew low over the whole southwestern rim of the city to drop their cargoes of death among thousands of workers throwing up fortifications.

The Fascists kept terrific pressure against the city from the west. Concentrating artillery on newly constructed trenches about a mile east of Cuatro Vientos airport, [near Carabanchel] the Fascists forced government defenders to retreat several times.

Cobblestones for Defense.

A tour of Madrid's defense system before the aerial bombardment revealed a number of cobblestoned parapets starting at Puerta Hierro and ending at the Toledo highway bridge at the southwest edge of the city.

From Puerto Hierro southward along the course of the Manzanares river, five cobblestone bridges dominated the railroad bridge. There were barricades on the streets running from the main trolley car barns in the same vicinity.

On the Ronda de Toledo, passing the gasworks to the Mediodia railway station, every side street had a barricade of cobblestones with loopholes for firing.

Artillery was placed in position at various entrances to the city and at the entrance to the plaza de Legazpi another series of high parapets was taking form.

Ambulance Captured.

With almost 35,000 well armed men operating in the war zone at the southern outskirts of the capital, the new defense council had supplanted the government of Premier Francisco Largo Caballero.

One Scottish ambulance, manned by Irishmen, Joe Boyd and Fred McMahon, ventured through the lines toward Carabanchel early this morning and was captured by the enemy.

A new fleet of combat planes arrived to aid the defense of Madrid. Virtually every man able to handle a weapon was engaged in defense of the city. Hundreds of refugees continued to pour into the capital from suburbs declared in the war zone. Many brought their own mattresses and took up quarters in vacant buildings and apartments.

Goods Piled on Carts.

Tragedy etched their faces. Many came into the city on foot, or riding on mules which hauled two wheeled carts loaded high with family possessions.

Dogs, chickens, sacks of bread and grain were carried by those with vehicles. Children suffered from the cold as the carts wended their way slowly into the center of town.

Many families threw open their homes to the unfortunate refugees. One night watchman sheltered seventeen, including five children, in his three room, unheated apartment. The food shortage was felt more and more as the siege continued.

The United States embassy reopened as a refuge and reported 34 of 161 United States citizens in Madrid were within its walls. Many others sent their luggage, ready for a hasty entrance.

300 Prisoners Moved.

The present American colony included 92 native Americans, 35 Porto Ricans, 30 Filipinos, and four naturalized Americans.

Gen. José Miaja, commander of Madrid since the socialist cabinet fled yesterday to Valencia, urged the militia to "show the world the stuff real heroes are made of."

Reliable sources said 300 military prisoners awaiting trial on charges of complicity in the rebellion had been moved to Alcala de Henares and Tarancon.

Five tanks were placed on the ministry of war grounds for use in emergency.

Control Two Bridgeheads.

WITH THE SPANISH FASCIST TROOPS OUTSIDE MADRID, Nov. 8.—(AP)—Spanish Fascist troops, after gaining a few yards on the south side of Madrid, encamped tonight at the bridgeheads on the banks of the Manzanares river for a renewed attack at dawn tomorrow in which their commanders hoped they would be able to sweep into the capital.

Today Gen. Francisco Franco's army blasted a hole in Madrid's first line trenches which the Socialist militia defended with withering machine gun fire. A Socialist battalion of women was reported nearly wiped out and enormous casualties inflicted upon the stubborn defenders.

A part of Madrid, between Segovia and Toledo streets, was blazing, but the fire appeared unlikely to spread.

The Fascist artillery pounded Socialist lines throughout the day. Resistance of the militia to the assault never wavered until insurgent shells found the trenches in which they fought. Then the occupants ran up the white flag and hundreds of prisoners were taken.

The main fighting was in the valley of the Manzanares river, which skirts the city on the west and southwest.

Government defenders of their capital were most strongly entrenched between the bridges over the river on the roads to Toledo and Aranjuez.

The four Fascist columns which for weeks have advanced on Madrid on converging roads were hurled into the final assault.

Blast at Hidden Troops.

Four insurgent batteries—one heavy artillery and the others light—blasted steadily at infantry troops hidden in ravines. Their quickening fire mixed with the clatter of machine guns and rifle volleys.

The Fascist batteries, with trip-hammer regularity, fired every fifteen seconds, increasing the rapidity to ten seconds as the battle wore on.

An occasional shell from Madrid whined overhead, some bursting within a few hundred yards of the attackers. Many of the Madrid shells were "duds" which did not explode.

Overhead light insurgent fighting planes circled and dived in, although watchers on the ground were not able to sight a single government plane.

Fascist troops were concentrated at Casa de Campo, across the Manzanares river west of Madrid. Socialist defenders of the capital for a time sought security at the stone bridges leading across the river and into the city proper. They had attempted a surprise counterattack last night.

Cavalry troops, however, launched a protective flanking movement on the right with the aid of Fascist Moors and foreign legion troops to leave a clear path for Col. Juan Yague, who directed the march into Casa de Campo.

Aim at Wide Streets.

TOLEDO, Spain, Nov. 8.—(AP)—Fascist troops today took over Cerro de Los Angeles with a cavalry attack.

Madrid's narrow streets on the south retarded the Fascists, who tried to encircle the city for an entrance through wider streets on the west and east.

Violent explosions from the direction of Madrid sounded like mines shattering buildings to block oncoming troops.

Troops which captured Cerro de Los Angeles found a giant statue of Christ, which marked the geographical center of Spain, destroyed by bombs and shells. Only the foundation remained standing. Government dead littered the ground nearby. Many of them were marines from the Barcelona naval base.

Gen. Emilio Mola at the front ordered newspaper men back of the lines until further notice, a customary procedure when Fascists are attacking a major objective.

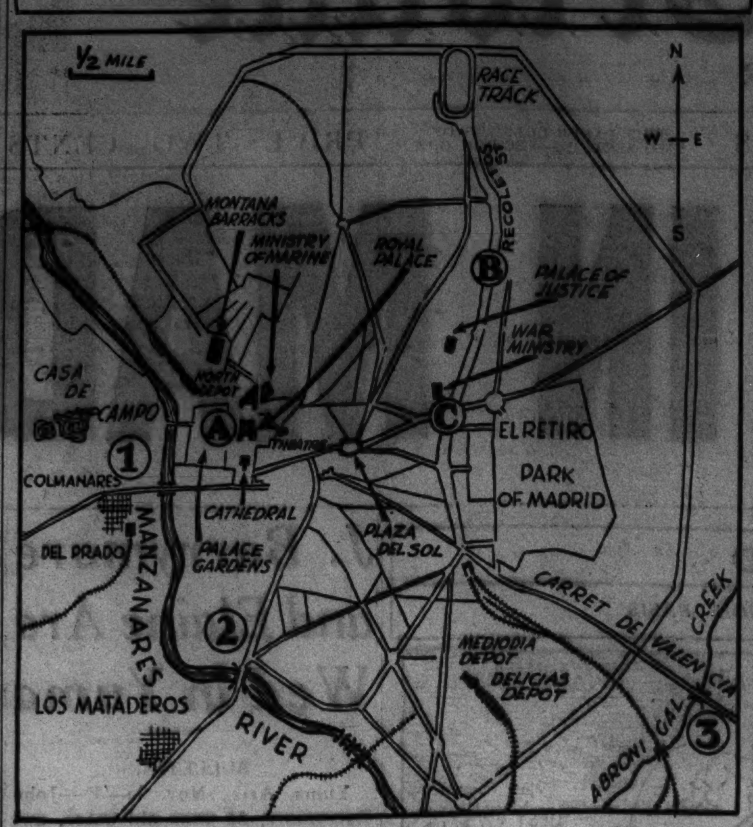
[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

TOLEDO, Spain, Nov. 7 [Delayed.]—The insurgent high command, it was announced here, has intentionally left open the highway to Valencia as a means of escape for the defenders of the capital. The aim is to avoid giving the leftists the added courage that a lack of an exit from the city might engender.

REBELS CARRY FIGHT INTO MADRID



Rebel artillery shelling Madrid yesterday scored a direct hit on the presidential palace (A); another shell fell near the French embassy in Recoletos street (B), and a third in Cibeles square (C). No. 1 indicates Casa de Campo, where insurgents assembled for the drive that carried them into Madrid. No. 2 indicates the Toledo bridge and No. 3 the Vallecas bridge which the rebels made strong efforts to capture.

FRANCE WARNS REBELS TO HALT WILD SHOOTING

HENDAYE, France, Nov. 8.—(AP)—French authorities called on the Spanish Fascist insurgent command today to halt shootings into French territory following the wounding of a railway employé during celebrations of the insurgent approach to Madrid.

The railwayman was wounded in the shoulder by a shot from the Spanish side of the border during celebrations at Spanish Irun and Behobia and other border points.

French authorities declared the celebrators fired guns into the air and took no account of where the bullets might fall. A number of shots swept the Hendaye-Biriatou sector, they said.

SAY GEN. FRANCO AGREES TO GIVE RIFFS FREEDOM

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

CASABLANCA, French Morocco, Nov. 8.—From inquiries made among leading native nationalists in Tetuan, Spanish Morocco, there appears to be good reason to believe that negotiations between them and Gen. Francisco Franco, Spanish insurgent leader, have led to an agreement whereby Riff tribesmen are to receive autonomy along the lines of the freedom accorded to Iraq by Great Britain and to Syria by France—namely, complete internal freedom with Spanish control only of foreign relations.

Various names have been mentioned as possible heads of the new state, among them chieftains of Iraq, Hedjaz, and Yemen, but the most popular choice so far appears to be a certain member of the former Turkish royal family. The proposed autonomy apparently would become effective as soon as Gen. Franco had conquered Spain.

If the Spanish decision is carried out the consequences, even from an internal point of view, may prove very serious for the French in Morocco, where even under the administration appointed by the Popular Front government in Paris native nationalists are already chafing under a sense of tutelage.

New York, Nov. 8.—(AP)—The New York division of the American League Against War and Fascism announced today that the Spanish motorship Sil will sail tomorrow from Brooklyn for Alicante, Spain, with 3,500 tons of clothing, food, and medical supplies for defenders of the Spanish Socialist government. The supplies were the donations of American workers collected and purchased through relief agencies here.

FRANCE READY TO SCRAP PACT ON NEUTRALITY

Blum Hints He Plans to Aid Madrid.

PARIS, Nov. 8.—(AP)—Premier Leon Blum told a Socialist meeting today he was ready to scrap the nonintervention agreement and supply arms and munitions to the Spanish Madrid government if Great Britain would agree to join France.

The premier said assurance by Britain that it would stand by France would make French aid to the cabinet of Socialist Premier Francisco Largo Caballero's government possible.

Lack of such assurance of English aid, he intimated, had been one reason that France proposed signing the European nonintervention agreement.

"We could not allow the working class to walk into a blind adventure," he said. "If a general war had come along we would have found ourselves alone with Russia."

See Firmer Foreign Policy.

The premier did not say whether there had been negotiations with Britain or whether any were planned.

Indications Blum's remarks were indicative of a more firm stand by the government in its foreign policy were seen also in a speech by Defense Minister Edouard Daladier to a Radical Socialist gathering at Labrit.

"France extends the hand of friendship to all peoples," he said. "It is hard luck for those who refuse it.

"With England and the United States, France knows how to defend democracy. France will not go to any conferences as a beggar."

Blum's Words Stir Britain.

LONDON Nov. 8.—(AP)—French Premier Blum's declaration he would scrap the nonintervention pact and send arms to the Madrid government if Great Britain would join him created consternation tonight in British official circles. Comment was withheld until spokesmen have time to study the text of Blum's speech carefully.

In Whitehall it was said officials had no intimation that Blum would make such a speech, and it was recalled that France only last week supported Britain in efforts to smooth out the nonintervention tangle.

The subcommittee of the nonintervention group is scheduled to meet tomorrow afternoon to draft methods for making the agreement more effective.

The British foreign office announced the government had no plans for immediate recognition of the Fascist insurgents in Spain should they capture Madrid. A spokesman said, however, that the government would maintain "de facto contact" with Gen. Francisco Franco, rebel commander, to protect British interests in the capital.

Italian Urges Dissolution.

ROME, Nov. 8.—(AP)—Occupation of Madrid by Spanish Fascists should lead to dissolution of the European nonintervention committee in London, the authoritative writer, Virginio Gayda, contended today in the newspaper La Voce D'Italia.

Pointing out that "four-fifths of Spanish territory" is under command of Gen. Francisco Franco, the Fascist rebel leader, Gayda asserted "this reality has not only a national value, it has evident international value.

"The committee of nonintervention in London will soon, perhaps, recognize the futility of its existence.

"The most reasonable governments cannot ignore the fact that the new government of Spain was generated by a national resurrection of a people which has not lost its pride and has not renounced its task in western civilization."

TIMMINS, Ont., Nov. 8.—(AP)—Five children, all under 10 years of age, were burned to death here last night in a fire which destroyed their home. Their father, Arthur Charbonneau, Hollinger miner, was in a hospital today in serious condition from burns.

Barrymore Elopes with Elaine

[Associated Press Wirephotos.]

Plan Film and Stage Roles Together.

rie's New York apartment brought it to a halt, and Barrymore boarded a train for Hollywood. Elaine relented and set out in pursuit, to Chicago and then to Kansas City, with Barrymore eluding her. She returned to New York, and it was not until last spring, when she came here by plane, that their romance was resumed.

Actor Only Recently Divorced.

Barrymore's prospective marriage with his youthful protégé follows by less than a month his final divorce from Dolores Costello Barrymore, who obtained an interlocutory decree Oct. 9, 1935.

Only last August Miss Barrie announced the termination of her engagement to the Greek-profiled actor with the statement:

"Recent events have shown conclusively that it would be impossible for us to plan a happy married life together. With this realization I would infinitely prefer to terminate our blessed relationship at this time, rather than when we married."

A month previously Barrymore had denied he was ever engaged to the brunette New Yorker, adding: "A man can't get along with a gal like that."

Relations Termed "Platonic."

About the same time, in the course of a court action Barrymore had brought against a former secretary, an affidavit signed by Elaine on June 18, 1935, was disclosed in which she said:

"With regards to the personal relations between Mr. Barrymore and myself, I state most emphatically that they have been and are of a strictly platonic nature, and only on the basis of the professional artistic relationship indicated by the fact that we have already made a radio appearance together and are planning to do theatrical work jointly in the future."

It was accompanied by an affidavit signed by her mother, Mrs. Edna Barrie Jacobs, which said:

"As her mother, I have seen to it that my daughter and Mr. Barrymore have not been alone together, but always have been in the company of Mr. Jacobs or myself, or of some trusted friend or employé."

Summer in Sanitariums.

Barrymore was confined to sanitariums for long periods during the summer with what was described by physicians as a heart ailment, while hearings in his suits with two former secretaries, later settled out of court, were postponed from time to time on the doctor's statements that his condition would make court appearances dangerous.

Miss Barrie was in a hospital here several days last August receiving treatment for injuries received in an automobile accident. Last month she was named in a suit demanding $10,000 damages for injuries to a 15 year old boy said to have been a passenger in the machine with which her automobile collided.

ITALY'S FOREIGN CHIEF ARRIVES IN VIENNA FOR 3 NATION PARLEY

VIENNA, Nov. 8.—(AP)—Count Galeazzo Ciano, Italian foreign minister, arrived tonight for preliminary discussions before the conferences of the Rome protocol nations beginning Wednesday.

The conferees represent Italy, Austria, and Hungary, and it was indicated that Ciano's first talks would concern Premier Mussolini's ideas for economic and political coöperation in the Danube basin. Foremost in the interests of Austrian participants was the desire for knowledge of what Mussolini would think of Hungarian rearmament and restoration of the Hapsburg Prince Otto to the Austrian throne.

LOYALISTS TURN GUNS ON OWN MEN TO CHECK FLIGHT

Officers Order Cowards to Be Shot.

BY ALEX SMALL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WITH SPANISH REBEL ARMY ON MADRID FRONT, Nov. 8.—In the village of Villaverde between the Toledo and Aranjuez highways on the rebels' extreme right flank I picked up today a copy of an order issued by the military commander of Madrid. It ordered the government troops to stand their ground or they would be shot from behind as they fled.

The presence of murderous file closers probably explains why on Saturday and today the Loyalists put up stiffer resistance than since the battle of Irun.

No Chance to Run.

It also explains why the fighting is now sanguinary in Madrid's suburbs, the loyalists being unable to follow their usual line of putting up a short resistance and running as soon as the Moors or the foreign legionnaires attack in earnest.

Today's battle began at 6:30 a. m. and by noon the rebels had made no notable progress on the right flank, which was all I saw. The operations were marked by an unusually heavy rifle and machine gun fire and a complete absence of loyalist aircraft. Tanks were used by both sides.

South of Madrid four rebel batteries were keeping up steady shelling which was being answered only feebly by one government battery, the proportion of shells fired being roughly five for the rebels to one for the loyalists.

Fire Toward Palace.

This hot action was going on in full view of Madrid. From a Villaverde housetop the flag of Spain's expiring republic was plainly visible waving over one of the bigger government buildings.

The Villaverde batteries—at least four—apparently were firing northwest toward the former royal palace in the west part of Madrid.

The rebels' first objective evidently is to occupy the royal palace and gardens and drive on to the North railway station and the university buildings, a movement which is considered strategically the best for getting the control of the whole city since they will have in their favor the down slope toward the Puerta del Sol.

RUSH TO AID TANKER AGROUND IN STRAITS WITH 19 MEN ABOARD

Radio messages identified the vessel as the J. Oswald Boyd, 1,800 tons, owned by the Gotham Marine corporation of New York. It was outbound from New York with a crew of nineteen men.

News of the Boyd's plight was flashed by the oil tanker Ferris. No details were given, but it was assumed, in the absence of information to the contrary, that the crew were safe.

The Escanaba is expected at the scene about 10 a. m. tomorrow. The run from Grand Haven was estimated at eighteen hours.

Abraham Grossman, 65 years old, 6200 Sheridan road, owner of a woman's dress shop, and his son, Milton, 23 years old, resisted last night when an armed robber attempted to hold them up near Foster and Winthrop avenues and thus saved $200. The robber struck Grossman with a pistol and hit the son when he went to his father's aid. Then he fled. The Grossmans were treated for bruises.

FIND NO TRACE OF GERMAN SHIP THAT SENT SOS

LONDON, Nov. 8.—(AP)—The German ship Westernland searched the high seas off Land's End in vain tonight for a trace of the 4,454 ton Hamburg-American motorship Isis which flashed an S O S Sunday afternoon. The number of the Isis' crew was not stated.

The master of the Westernland in a wireless message said his ship reached the position last given by the Isis at 11 p. m. [6 p. m. Chicago time] about 200 miles east of Land's End, the southwesternmost tip of England. The Westernland captain reported he found neither the Isis nor any lifeboats, and that a 60 mile an hour wind was piling up heavy seas.

The first S O S from the Isis said her number one hatch was stove in and the forecastle ahead was awash. Lifeboats were swung free, she reported. The British liner Queen Mary, the British ships Mirror and Seminole and a tug from Land's End also were battling heavy seas toward the Isis' position. The Isis, 376 feet long, left her home port, Hamburg, Nov. 3 for New York and gulf ports. The ship is engaged in general cargo service.

MANY PLUMS ON POLITICAL TREE FOR DEMOCRATS

President Slated to Make Appointments Soon.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 8.—[Special.]—The political plum tree is weighted down with lucious jobs for deserving Democrats. In the next two months President Roosevelt must shake the tree and send his nominations up to capitol hill in the opening days of the 75th congress.

The manner of harvesting may give an inkling of the answer to the question which has been gathering volume since the election:

"What about 1940?" If Mr. Roosevelt is looking toward the smashing of another precedent four years hence New Dealers expect to see the lucrative jobs distributed over the entire field of liberals from mild pinks to flaming Reds.

May Create Own Party.

Such a distribution might bring disappointment to many a deserving Democrat not only over the loss of fat federal pay checks but also over indication of the extinction of the party. New Dealers are convinced that Mr. Roosevelt will move toward creating his own party out of his class against class struggle.

The President's task of job filling is tied up with possibilities of changes in his cabinet. Of his present collection of advisers only three or four are expected to continue wiping their feet at the door of the cabinet room Friday afternoons.

Mr. Roosevelt's cabinet is conceded to be one of the weakest at the command of a President. Under the New Deal this lack of strength has not been felt because the presidential ear was reserved for brain trusters and heads of his alphabetical units.

Hull Rated at Top.

Out of the ten members of the cabinet Secretary of State Cordell Hull stands head and shoulders above the rest. In guiding the ship of state through some rather treacherous international shoals Mr. Hull has emerged second to the President in popularity, and but for his age might well be the party's nominee for the presidency in 1940 if Mr. Roosevelt did not choose to run. Hull will remain at his post.

Another member certain of his seat at the cabinet table is Secretary of Agriculture Wallace. To New Dealers Wallace's greatest asset is that he looks like a farmer and makes fine window dressing for brain trust operation of agriculture.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr. is likely to remain largely because he won't resign. According to a cabinet colleague "the greatest secretary of the treasury since Wee Willie Woodin will never resign—it will take the army, navy, and marine corps to get him out."

See Morgenthau Remaning.

There have been reports that Morgenthau would be kicked upstairs to represent his country at the court of St. James's and the treasury post would be given to Joseph Kennedy, former chairman of the SEC. Morgenthau declined to comment on the reports with a satisfied smile that indicated he will be around for four more years.

Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes is another who is not expected to resign easily. Ickes, according to reliable sources, did write two resignations shortly after he lost his fight for the spending of billions to WPA Administrator Hopkins. One was a curt announcement of retirement and the other contained a lengthy blast against Hopkins' boondoggling. Neither one was sent.

The remaining members of the cabinet are expected to retire as soon as they can find a graceful way of exit. In the New Deal it is hoped that the first of these will be Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins, the first woman to sit in the cabinet and acknowledgedly its least popular member.

Labor Secretary May Retire.

Secretary Perkins will not be missed by her colleagues who have writhed in their chairs as she rattled incessantly at cabinet meetings. A colleague recently said, "I hope she leaves before I do because I'd like to say one word at a cabinet meeting before I quit."

It is expected that Assistant Secretary Edward F. McGrady would hold the job temporarily in the event of the secretary's resignation, and that the job will be filled by the choice of John L. Lewis, powerful boss of the United Mine Workers, a leading Roosevelt supporter.

Postmaster General Farley, who returned to his job after his leave of absence to direct the reëlection campaign, is expected to leave shortly. It is believed his seat will go to Frank Walker, twice former chairman of the national emergency council and former treasurer of the Democratic party.

Gov. McNutt Mentioned.

Harry Woodring received a recess appointment as secretary of war after the death of George H. Dern. The post is expected to go to Gov. Paul V. McNutt because Indiana's governor has been persistent in seeking a place to hang his hat in Washington. Friends say he has aspirations in 1940.

The position of Attorney General Homer Cummings is one of indecision. Mr. Cummings would like to get out and make some money practicing law, or as high commissioner to the Philippines, but he would like to end his days on the Supreme court bench.

Secretary of Commerce Daniel C. Roper is tired of his job. He despairs of ever bringing about a voluntary NRA. His job may be offered to Henry I. Harriman, one time president of the United States chamber of commerce and one of few business men with the New Deal.

Swanson Plans to Retire.

Secretary of the Navy Claude A. Swanson plans to retire to nurse his health. Swanson is one of few men who have sat in the navy chair equipped for the post by a sound understanding of the navy gained through long service on the house and senate naval affairs committees.

Of the other plums the most important is that of controler general vacated this summer by the expiration of the 15 year term of John R. McCarl, watchdog of the treasury. Mr. Roosevelt is expected to find some one with little regard for red ink for the job.

GEORGE GETZ DOUBTS 'ANY REPUBLICAN' LAND COULD HAVE WON

Miami Beach, Fla., Nov. 8.—(AP)—George Fulmer Getz, retired Chicago capitalist who was active in the Republican party for nearly half a century, said today he doubted "if any Republican could have beaten President Roosevelt."

The former Republican national committee treasurer expressed surprise, however, at the Democratic landslide.

"I don't know what hit us," he said. "I should like to have an analysis of what happened. Maybe some of these leading Republicans can tell me who is to blame for our overwhelming defeat."

Getz, here aboard his yacht Virago for the winter, said Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan would be here Wednesday and that Col. Frank Knox, Republican vice presidential nominee, would visit him soon.

Referring to himself with a smile as a "retired Republican," Getz said all Americans should support the President 100 per cent as long as he does what he has promised to do.

TWO STATEVILLE ESCAPES SPEED PRISON INQUIRY

Bishop Schlarman to Call Quiz Session This Week.

While Chicago police were aiding in the search yesterday for two desperate convicts who escaped Saturday night from the Stateville penitentiary, arrangements were under way to resume this week the prison inquiry that was permitted to lull during the political campaign.

Assistant State's Attorney Emmett Moynihan, member of the commission appointed last February by Gov. Horner after the slaying in prison of Richard Loeb, announced that the chairman of the commission, the Rt. Rev. Joseph H. Schlarman, Catholic bishop of Peoria, was coming to Chicago to take whatever action is necessary. A meeting will be arranged within a day or two, according to Mr. Moynihan.

New Evidence for Study.

The commission most certainly will consider the latest escapes, he said. James O'Connor and William Pat King, both of whom have been in prison before, got over the Stateville wall Saturday evening when some one obligingly threw a master switch which shut off every light in the prison. O'Connor escaped once before. Both he and King undoubtedly will kill to avoid recapture, officials said.

The two escapes brought home to the members of the commission the realization that they had only investigated and had not reported, according to Henry Barrett Chamberlin, one of the members. The incident, therefore, speeded up resumption of sessions. Chamberlin, who is operating director of the Chicago crime commission, said all members agreed that no report should be made before the election.

Comments on Executives.

The report as now contemplated is not to be complimentary to the current system of administering prisons and paroles, it is understood, though the commission members individually are said to regard as competent executives A. L. Bowen, state director of public welfare; W. C. Jones, head of the parole board, and Joseph E. Ragen, state superintendent of prisons and warden of the Stateville and Joliet penitentiaries.

Post-election rumors were to the effect that Bowen and Jones, both Republicans, were to be replaced. Col. Chamberlin asserted yesterday that he regarded Bowen as a very competent administrator, a "straight shooter," and eminently qualified for his position. Chairman Jones, a man of fine reputation, tended to keep the parole board well balanced, he commented, and of Ragen he said:

"I think he is a 'natural' who has done a good job but who has too many duties."

Find Fault with Paroles.

Observing that he spoke only for himself, Col. Chamberlin said the faults found with the operation of the prisons and the parole system are not chargeable to Bowen, Jones, and Ragen.

That the commission would inquire into several paroles which became public after the election was regarded as "most probable" by Col. Chamberlin.

After the election it became known that among the 982 convicts released on parole during the first ten months of this year were Walter Lambushevicz and Fred Bessenhofer, kidnapers and gunmen.

Lambushevicz entered prison March 19, 1935, and was paroled Aug. 4, 1936. Bessenhofer entered prison March 7, 1935, and was paroled April 4, 1936. They were charged with brutally and mercilessly beating the victims they kidnaped and robbed, and their early paroles caused bitter resentment of their victims and the police who arrested them.

Webb Case to Be Studied.

A report that the way was being prepared for the release of Robert [Teddy] Webb, first Chicago "automobile bandit," will certainly be investigated, Col. Chamberlin stated. He said that upon his last visits of inspection Webb was a bath attendant in the old prison at Joliet and manifestly is "stir crazy" [unbalanced by incarceration].

The commission will have many recommendations for the legislature, Col. Chamberlin declared. It was given, among other duties, the task of considering plans to spend $17,000,000 for additional buildings and facilities in the prisons.

The killing of Loeb by a fellow convict, James Day, who was later acquitted by a jury in a Will county court, exposed conditions at the prison that were termed "coddling convicts." Loeb was sentenced with Nathan Leopold for kidnaping and killing Bobbie Franks here in 1924. It was testified that many convicts enjoyed unusual privileges and that many had the run of the institution.

Loeb, according to testimony before the commission, was allowed the unlimited use of money and he could get "good jobs" for convicts who became his friends. There were stories of unrestricted gambling in the prisons.

Information Alleged Secret.

It was admitted that paroles were kept secret, and whatever the commission uncovered regarding the state's generosity with convicts' time was not allowed to become public. Whether the cloak of secrecy will now be torn off was a question left unanswered by members of the commission.

"We had hoped to have our report prepared by Nov. 15," Col. Chamberlin said yesterday. "Now it appears we will not be ready by that time, but I believe we will have the report ready when the legislature convenes on Jan. 2.

"We made a thorough study of the subject. We visited every institution in the state and spent a great deal of time in gathering facts. Now we will meet and talk over our ideas and opinions and discuss what is to go into our report. We hope to present constructive criticism."

Governor Orders Inquiry.

Gov. Horner stopped at the prison yesterday on his way to Chicago and ordered a thorough investigation.

The governor was told that the ladder used by the convicts in getting over the wall had probably been buried in the prison grounds for many months.

It was of wood. Guards reported several times in recent years the digging up of ladders fashioned from pieces of pipe. It was believed that O'Connor and King made the ladder during unobserved moments of night work in the furniture factory and buried it in the yard while waiting for an opportunity to use it.

They left behind their prison caps which was taken as an indication that some one in an automobile awaited them on the outside as the weather was bad and if they anticipated any walking they would not have discarded their caps. It was believed they were motored into Chicago and that they are hidden here somewhere.

More than 100 trafic employés from Chicago and other middle western offices of the Associated Press met yesterday in the Edgewater Beach hotel and formed a permanent organization to meet annually for discussion of technical problems.

4 DIE, 8 INJURED AS CARS COLLIDE IN FRANKLIN PARK

Trafic Injuries Fatal to 6 Others in County.

Four persons were killed, two of them outright, and eight others were injured seriously yesterday in the collision of two automobiles at Grand avenue and Mannheim road in Franklin Park.

The dead are William De Hartog, 24 years old; his sister, Miss Grace De Hartog, 21 years old, both of Waupun, Wis., and Miss Marie Gellus, 19, of Kilbourn, Wis., all passengers in De Hartog's car, and Charles Ryckman, 6 years old, 2046 North Laramie avenue, who was riding in the other machine. Miss Gellus and the Ryckman boy died following the accident in the Westlake hospital in Melrose Park, where all the injured were taken.

Others Injured in Crash.

Others riding in De Hartog's car were two brother—Henry, 18 years old, and Herbert De Hartog, 20 years old—and William Darrow, 21 years old, of Columbus, Wis. The De Hartog party was driving south in Mannheim road on the way to Gary when their machine collided with the car of Louis W. Fenner, 36 years old, 2046 North Laramie avenue, who was westbound in Grand avenue. Police were unable to determine who was driving the De Hartog car.

Riding in the Fenner car were his son, Louis Jr., 8 years old; his brother-in-law, David Ryckman, 38 years old, father of Charles; Ryckman's wife, Pearl, 38 years old, and Mrs. Margaret Stenson, 36 years old, 4610 North Racine avenue. Fenner, after being treated for severe cuts, was locked up at the Morton Grove police station pending the inquest today.

There were no witnesses to the accident and police were unable early to establish the cause of the collision. It was believed the early morning rain and snow may have obscured the vision of the drivers.

Six Others Die in County.

There were six other automobile deaths in Cook county yesterday.

Lawrence Kosup, 25 years old, 5800 School street, a postoffice employé, was fatally injured when the automobile in which he was riding crashed into the steel structure of the viaduct abutment in Clark street, just south of Kinzie street. Erick Paulsen, 35 years old, 6011 Roscoe street, the driver, was injured only slightly.

Philip Juchniewicz, 34 years old, 4319 South Francisco avenue, died in the Berwyn hospital of injuries incurred Saturday when he was struck by an automobile while crossing Cermak road in the middle of the 4800 block in Cicero.

Olie Opsal, 57 years old, 4242 Overhill avenue, Norwood township, died in the Swedish Covenant hospital of injuries incurred Oct. 26 when he was struck by an automobile in front of 7535 Irving Park boulevard.

Trafic Injuries Are Fatal.

Benjamin Levick, 50 years old, 2050 Foster avenue, died in the County hospital of a skull fracture incurred Saturday night when he was struck by the automobile of a hit and run driver in front of 1439 North Ashland avenue.

Timothy McCarthy, 60 years old, 4749 South Aberdeen street, died in the County hospital of injuries suffered Thursday when he was struck by an automobile at West 55th street and South Winchester avenue.

Dr. John F. Barrett, 55 years old, a dentist, 1133 East 63d street, died last night in the County hospital of injuries received the night of Oct. 25 at 63d street and Ellis avenue when he was struck by a Yellow taxi driven by David Weil, 23 years old, 648½ East 79th street.

Roy Vowell, 50 years old, a farmer living near Chesterton, Ind., was killed last night in a head-on collision between his car and that of John Kubistol, 2647 West 24th street, on U. S. highway 12, north of Chesterton.

Girl on Bicycle Injured.

Lillian Nelson, 16 years old, 8008 Burnham avenue, was critically injured yesterday when she was struck by an automobile while riding her bicycle at Muskegon avenue and 81st street. She was taken to the South Shore hospital unconscious. Edwin Swanson, 22 years old, 2824 East 79th street, driver of the car, was held.

Alex Deckert, 20 years old, 309 South 25th avenue, Bellwood, was seriously injured yesterday when his automobile was struck by a Chicago-bound Chicago, Aurora, and Elgin electric train at the Main street crossing in Lombard.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 861 persons had been killed in automobile accidents in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 653 were killed in Chicago. In the same period 16,590 were injured in trafic accidents in the city.

RESCUE 7 IN ONE FAMILY STRICKEN BY STOVE FUMES

Seven members of a family, including a grandchild, were overcome by coal gas from a kitchen stove in their home at 4939 West Grand avenue last night. All were revived by Inhalator Squad 6, commanded by Lieut. Harry Moore.

Those affected were Mrs. Catherine Radzik, 39 years old; her sons, Edward, 22, Matt, 18, Edwin, 15, and Alvin, 14; her daughter, Mrs. Frances Kalewski, 22, and her granddaughter, Patsy Kalewski, 18 months, daughter of Mrs. Kalewski. The child was the worst sufferer, and was taken to the Belmont hospital. She will recover. The Kalewskis live at 2218 North Parkside avenue.

The family's plight was discovered by the landlord, who lives below them on the first floor, a few minutes after they were overcome. He notified Cragin police. The oldest boys, Matt and Edward, were revived quickly. The inhalator and artificial respiration were used on the others.

SOUTHERN WINDS TO BRING WARMER WEATHER TODAY

Below freezing temperatures in the early morning but generally fair skies and warmer weather later is the forecast for today by J. R. Lloyd, government meteorologist. Warm winds from the south should also dispel the last traces of the light snow which fell yesterday morning in the city and suburbs.

Recorded as only a "trace" in the city, where it often changed to rain or melted as soon as it reached the ground, the snow remained all day on the ground in sections of the western and northwestern suburbs. Equestrians found a light white blanket on forest preserve trails.

Other regions of the middle west had snow yesterday and may expect more today. Two inches of snow covered northwestern Iowa, where the temperature dropped to 2 below zero at Inwood.

FEDERAL AID DIES IN PLUNGE.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 8.—(AP)—Leo. J. Brierley, 40, administrative assistant in the Federal Bureau of Labor Statistics here, died in a hospital tonight, three hours after he had jumped from a third floor window of the bureau offices.

N. Y. BROKER'S WIDOW KILLED BY FALL FROM HORSE IN N. J. HUNT

Peapack, N. J., Nov. 8.—(AP)—Mrs. Arthur Russell Jones, prominent horsewoman and widow of a Wall street broker, died today in a hospital of injuries received when her horse rolled on her at a hunt with the Essex foxhounds.

She was found lying near a fence yesterday after her riderless mount galloped up to other hunters near the Somerset-Hunterdon county line, west of here.

Apparently no one saw the accident. It was assumed that Mrs. Jones' horse failed to clear the fence, threw his rider and fell on her. The hunt was in full cry at the time and the riders were well scattered.

Mrs. Jones, the former Helen Morgan Parker, lived with her two children on an estate between Peapack and Far Hills. About 45 years old, she was active in the horse show ring and in following the hounds.

Jones was killed in an automobile accident near here three years ago.

LET DOWN SPAN OF OUTER DRIVE BRIDGE TODAY

A milestone in the twenty year old campaign to lighten trafic on Michigan avenue will be passed today when new machinery lowers a great steel framework of the north span of the outer drive bridge.

According to Frank A. Randall, engineer for the Chicago park system, a month's work will be necessary to surface the bridge. Its pavement is to be of vibrated concrete instead of the slippery rubber which covers the Michigan avenue bridge. When the surface is laid, he said, it will be necessary to add counter-weight to the bridge.

By Nov. 1, 1937, Mr. Randall estimated, the entire outer drive improvement project, including Field boulevard and the Wacker drive extension to connect with the bridge will be ready for use. Automobiles then will be able to travel, largely on fast boulevards, from Lincoln park to Jackson park along the lake shore and without touching Michigan avenue.

DIES IN BRIDEWELL HOSPITAL.

Frank Vavra, 47 years old, 2410 North Springfield avenue, sentenced last Saturday to the House of Correction to work out a nominal fine, died last night in the bridewell hospital.

Moving Forward

Marshall Field & Company presents here each day observations and opinions, intended to be of interest and value to those it seeks to serve.

DINING-ROOMS

By CALEB

A READER of this column has written from downstate asking us if we believe in modern substitutes for a dining-room in the home. We are of the personal opinion there can be no real substitute for a dining-room.

In Europe, we must admit, there are gormands, gourmets, and epicures as there are here. Brillat Savarin, although a Frenchman, discoursed knowingly of food and its joys. Nevertheless, eating on the Continent has long been something to be done wherever it seemed convenient. If the marquis is in the little blue room, let a table be set there. If several members of the family are in the back parlor, it is as well. The food will be brought.

This may be all very well for a little potage, some salade, and petits fours, or crepe suzettes. But here, we prefer the American meal according to the American way, which is a regular place to assemble around a substantial table adequate to the job at hand.

For all but breakfasts and luncheons, that job is catering fully and completely to the inner man. This is no job for a card table, a coffee table, an occasional table, or anything but a dining table.

It may be a beautiful and valuable creation of the Adam Brothers—or a lovely old Duncan Phyfe. It may be a heavy Jacobean—or an iron and glass summer affair. Or, indeed, just an old-fashioned dining table that the family hopes some day to renew. Just so it is adequate. For dining may vary from the no-maid, all-on-the-table, family affair, through the groaning board of the buffet supper, up to the formal dinner where exquisite cuisine is set off by equally exquisite eye and texture appeal—gleaming silver, resplendent crystal, colorful china, and snowy damask.

Only a dining-room is the proper setting for such meals. (We speak emotionally, not practically. Hunger is less fastidious and exacting than tradition.) Where the family gathers once a day for an important meal, there is apt to be important and worthwhile family conversation. Moreover, where the dining-room is regularly used, the occasional meal served here or there in the home or yard is not simply to be tolerated: it is to be relished as an interlude.

Yes, we believe in full grown dining-rooms—but we must finally confess to a willingness to eat a thoroughly good dinner in almost any kind of room, off any kind of table.

JAPANESE BEGIN INVASION OF NEW AREA IN CHINA

EasternProvinceAttacked by Manchukuans.

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

SHANGHAI, Nov. 8.—The fact that China continues steadfast in refusing to give favorable consideration to Japan's demands for creation of a special area in north China and coöperation against communist activities is believed here to have an intimate relation with the renewal of attacks upon the eastern Suiyuan province border.

Chinese and European sources agree that the long expected attempt to invade Suiyuan is beginning. Many skirmishes have occurred within the last few days, with the attackers assisted by five airplanes. It is confirmed that Manchukuan forces are assisting Mongol irregulars and northern Chahar forces.

Nanking, Tokio Deadlocked.

Behind the scenes almost daily conferences have been occurring in Nanking between Kao Chung-Wu of the foreign office and Consul General Yakichiro Suma of Japan. The conferences apparently are deadlocked and the Japanese refuse to deny reports that Ambassador Shigeru Kawagoe is likely soon to proceed to Tokio.

Not only is China obdurate concerning demands that Japan considers of vital importance, but Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, in a public address, assured the nation that he was intent on regaining administrative authority in Hopei and Chahar provinces. This further conplicates a situation already almost hopeless of adjustment.

An official Japanese statement that agreement over all the Japanese demands except those relating to north China and to communism can easily be arranged is met with an instant Chinese denial that a formal agreement has not been reached on any of the points at issue.

Terrorism Continues.

With the continuance of Chinese acts of anti-Japanese terrorism over a wide area — including Shanghai, Changsa, and Taiyuan—the danger ot some act of violence entailing loss of Japanese lives continues. Under the present condition of tension in Tokio any further incidents involving deaths of Japanese may be a signal for drastic army and navy action, thus taking the entire issue out of the hands of the diplomats.

China cannot risk further arousing the already excited public opinion by even partly agreeing to the mildest Japanese demands unless Japan agrees to conduct the negotiations on a basis of absolute equality, giving consideration to China's counter-demands, a concession that Ambassador Kawagoe has steadfastly refused to make.

POLES PROTEST NAZI RAIDS ON DANZIG HOMES

GDYNIA, Poland, Nov. 8.—(AP)—Shouting "give us weapons and we will restore order in Danzig," a crowd of angry Poles massed here today to protest a reported Nazi attack on two Polish houses in the Free City of Danzig. The group demanded reprisals.

Gdynia authorities frustrated an announced plan of the demonstrants to march to the Danzig border to repeat their protests.

The protest meeting was the outgrowth of an attack on two residents of Danzig, alleged to have been inspired by Nazis. Polish officials said the two attacked are Poles. Danzig authorities contended the two were Danzig citizens and members of the Nazi labor front.

All Planes Now Under Air Ministry.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 8.—A bitter fight for control of naval aircraft, now jointly commanded by the admiralty and the air ministry, is due to break Tuesday in the house of commons' defense discussion.

Unlike the United States, the British yielded in 1918 to the demands of air enthusiasts and created a separate air service.

Inefficiency was the price paid for yielding, according to charges pressed recently with increasing clamor by naval men. The army also objects to the existence of a separate service, but is less seriously affected thereby.

Called "Foolish Error."

The present system, according to one writer on the subject, is "foolish in peace and might be absolutely fatal in war."

The most skilful aviator is of little value to the navy unless he is trained in seamanship and knows the capabilities and limitations of surface vessels, the writer says.

Since 1924 the situation has slightly improved. That year the "fleet air arm" was organized so that 70 per cent of the pilots would be qualified naval officers. The other 30 per cent are royal air force officers.

Strange situations sometimes are produced by the dual control. An officer who is the superior of another on a ship's bridge may become his subordinate as soon as they enter a plane—a naval officer, when he qualifies as a pilot, gets a different flying rank and seniority from what he has for deck duty.

Air Force Gives Orders.

The same plane which is commanded by the navy aboard a ship comes under the royal air force as soon as it is assigned to shore duty. Coöperation planes based ashore are not commanded by the admiral whose fleet they are assisting.

Instead of sending them orders in a tight spot, he would have to send a request to a royal air force officer, who, if he saw fit, would pass them on to the pilots.

Flying boats are entirely under the control of the air ministry.

British experts admit readily the United States naval air force is the finest in the world. They ascribe this high efficiency to the fact that the air force is controled directly by the navy and that its personnel is all sailors who know exactly what is required of them by the fleet.

Splitup "Wholly Bad."

As the controversy here began to wax hot the memoirs of Vice Admiral Humphrey Smith appeared, saying: "When I joined the Campania the royal naval air service still was in existence, though under the sentence of death. Alas, on April 1, 1918, a most suitable date, the royal air force was born. . . . At the same time that the necessity for coördination was being drummed into everybody's ears it was decided to split the two services into three and saddle every operation with all the disadvantages of a combined operation. The decentralization was wholly good, but the dual control and dissolution are wholly bad."

The air correspondent of the Sunday Times asserts he is authoritatively informed the government never would consider removing naval aircraft from the jurisdiction of the air ministry.

The majority opinion, however, is inclined to believe the change is imminent because of the pressure of expert opinion and the increasing storm of protest over present conditions.

Paid For by Navy.

It is as illogical to have naval aircraft controled by royal air force pilots as to have a battleship's guns manned by artillerymen, assert naval officers.

The fleet air arm has 217 planes and is soon being increased to 350. The planes were selected and contracted for by the air ministry, but paid for by the admiralty. Nevertheless, they remain the property of the air ministry. A total of £3,372,000 [about $16,860,000] is earmarked for aviation in the current navy estimates.

The net result is a jumble of responsibility and authority capable of producing disastrous confusion at a critical moment.

The army also wants control of its own planes, but as less specialized knowledge is needed for effective coöperation with the army the situation is considered less serious.

GEN. CRAIG TELLS ARMY PROGRESS ON 5 YEAR PLAN

Goal to Set Up Defense of Minimum Needs.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 8.—[Special.]—In the second year of its five year rebuilding program the United States army gained ground toward its objective—a defense establishment of a size and efficiency up to minimum needs of the country—Chief of Staf Malin Craig reported today to Secretary of War Woodring.

In his first annual report Gen. Craig gave credit for initiation of the five year program to his predecessor general, Douglas MacArthur. Modestly he noted that personnel was increased and measures of betterment in accordance with the definite modernization program were carried out on schedule in his first year as chief of staf.

"It is of the highest importance that this program be carried to completion and maintained," Gen. Craig said. "It is a program for defense—intended solely to insure our national safety."

Army Solely for Defense.

Gen. Craig pointed out that the American army in conformance with the thought of the American people is an army of defense in contrast to the armies of Europe which are armies of aggression, at least potentially.

"Our military establishment is of a type that—conforming strictly to our national policy—is designed for defense and is unsuitable for aggression," Craig said. "This fact may not be clearly understood by our people. Our establishment is of a character exclusively its own, essentially distinct from the military establishments maintained abroad and now in the course of vast expansion.

"We may describe the type of the latter establishments as that of a finished machine, ready for instant use, within or without the borders of the country. In contrast, ours is an unfinished and unassembled machine. Some of its parts are not in existence, some exist as rough forgings, others in semi-finished form. Only a few are in condition for immediate use.

Only Wartime Nucleus.

"Our regular army is merely the nucleus of the wartime establishment that must be created in the event of a major conflict. But upon it devolves many and fundamental tasks. It must keep alive in the nation a knowledge of the military art and of progressive developments in tactics and weapons.

"It must provide the defensive garrisons for our outposts in the insular possessions and the Panama canal. It must furnish instructors for the civilian components. And it should be capable in war of throwing up a protective wall under cover of which our citizen forces can be mobilized."

Two cardinal elements of the civilian forces were named as the National Guard and the Reserve Officers' Training corps. Each of these, the general said, have benefited from the larger appropriations of the last two years to show a corresponding improvement in efficiency.

More Funds Available.

The funds appropriated by congress for the fiscal year on which Gen. Craig based his report, were the largest made available to the army in recent years. They permitted an increase in enlisted men from 118,750 to 165,000. In the year the enlisted personnel was raised to 147,000 men and in the coming year Gen. Craig will bring the army up to its full quota.

Gen. Craig reported on the progress of modernization made possible by the increase in the army appropriation. This included a summary of mechanization and motorization, and new equipment and building.

C. I. O. GROUP HERE HOLDS UP O. K. ON STEEL PAY BOOST

A group of steel employé representatives from a number of mills in the Chicago area met in the Morrison hotel yesterday and passed a resolution pledging themselves not to sign new wage contracts, embodying 10 per cent increases at this time. It is their intention to await approval of the workers they represent. The new wage increases, announced by the companies last week, will go into effect for nearly a half million workers on Nov. 16.

The employé group met for the second time as the Chicago wage district steel council. The council was formed two weeks ago under the sponsorship of the committee for industrial organization. Thirty members, representing seven or eight mills, were at yesterday's meeting.

The employés in a number of large mills have agreed to the new wage scale while the employés in several plants in the Gary district have yet to consent, it was reported.

LEWIS REFUSES TO MEET GREEN ON LABOR PEACE

A. F. of L. Head Explains He Lacks Authority.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 8.—(AP)—Weekend peace maneuvers in the American Federation of Labor big family quarrel collapsed tonight when John L. Lewis declined to meet William Green.

Only last night Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers and chairman of the Committee for Industrial Organization, asked Green for a conference to talk peace terms.

Green, federation president, replied he would gladly meet Lewis but lacked authority to "change the policy outlined by the executive council."

Lewis then shot back this answer:

"Under such circumstances a conference between you and the undersigned would be futile. . . .

Wants Stand Reversed.

"When the American Federation of Labor decides to reverse and rectify its outrageous act of suspension and is ready to concede the right of industrial organization to live and grow in the unorganized industries it will be time to discuss and arrange the details of a reestablished relationship."

Talking to reporters, Lewis said:

Ten Unions Suspended.

Lewis miners and 9 other unions in the Committee for Industrial Organization were suspended from the federation Sept. 5 for trying to bring all the workers in each big mass production industry into one union, without A. F. of L. sanction. Craft unionists who think that workers generally should be organized along craft lines control the A. F. of L.

Pressure from the International Ladies Garment Workers and the United Hatters, Cap, and Millinery Workers was said in unusually well-informed quarters to have been responsible for yesterday's peace gesture.

At the millinery workers request the federation's executive council several weeks ago named a committee to start peace negotiations if the Lewis committee was willing. The Lewis committee took no action, however, until yesterday when it proposed that peace negotiations be conducted by Lewis and Green instead of by committees.

Policeman Michael Toth, 32 years old, of the New City station, died last night in the Evangelical hospital of bullet wounds received yesterday morning when he and his partner, Policeman Thomas Bourke, attempted to search two gunmen in a tavern at 4830 South Wood street. Toth was shot in the abdomen, chest, and right hand.

Desperate efforts were made to save Policeman Toth's life. His wife, Margaret, mother of an infant son, gave a pint of her blood in a transfusion. Still more blood was needed, and 105 policemen at the New City station volunteered in response to Dr. A. C. Wendt's appeal. Toth lived at 2042 West 52d place. He had been on the force a year.

The shooting in the tavern followed a call to "Police 13-13" by Walter Godula, the owner, after two men, who spoke Slovakian, tried to sell him two revolvers for $10 each. A police radio alarm was broadcast, stating that there was "a disturbance" at 4830 Wood street. Toth and Bourke responded. As they approached the two men one disarmed Burke and the other shot and disarmed Toth. They escaped. Police said Godula told "Police 13-13" only that there was a disturbance, saying nothing about armed men.

FIREMEN RESCUE FOUR TRAPPED IN 2D FLOOR FLATS

Firemen carried four persons to safety yesterday after they had been trapped by fire and smoke in their second floor apartments at 2709 Millard avenue. Five other tenants on the first floor were driven out by the flames. The fire started in the basement apparently when sparks from the furnace ignited a rubbish heap and then spread up the stairway, cutting off escape from the second floor. Firemen under Acting Chief John Hennessey of the 28th battalion raised ladders and rescued George Timko, his wife, Theresa, and Ignatius Brzezinski and his wife, Victoria. Damage was estimated at $1,500. Two canaries in the Brzezinski flat were suffocated.

MORE NEW DEAL ACTS GO BEFORE SUPREME COURT

Utility "Death Sentence" Comes Up Today.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 8.—(AP)—Eight of the Supreme court's nine justices will listen tomorrow to arguments on the first of a series of cases involving New Deal legislation to come before this term of the high tribunal.

The ninth—Justice Harlan Stone—is expected to be absent from the bench because of a protracted illness. Friends said the liberal jurist, convalescing from dysentery, probably would follow argument in the cases from the briefs and could vote on decisions unless a relapse into serious illness occurred.

After handing down a maximum of twenty-seven opinions tomorrow, the court will turn its attention to the first of five arguments concerning New Deal laws.

The initial argument will involve the government's effort to postpone action by lower tribunals on cases challenging the constitutionality of the public utility holding company act until a final decision is obtained on preceedings against the Electric Bond and Share company.

On Tuesday the court will near opposing contentions concerning the right of the government to make loans and grants for publicly owned hydro-electric projects. The Duke Power company filed the appeal from a ruling by the Circuit Court of Appeals at Charlotte, N. C., upholding a PWA loan and grant to Greenwood county, S. C.

Next week there will be arguments on the 50 per cent tax imposed on profits made before the silver purchase act became effective, an embargo on shipments of arms to Bolivia and Paraguay for their Chaco war, and on the act requiring the labeling of prison made goods.

A final decision on some or all of these disputes may come on Dec. 7.

Three other New Deal cases probably will be argued in December, with decisions in January or February. These involve the Wagner labor relations act and the railway labor act, which guarantee collective bargaining to workmen.

Already the court has agreed to review two cases challenging the Wagner act. It is expected to announce tomorrow whether it will add three others for joint decision.

REPUBLICANS RETAIN WEBSTER'S DESK IN U. S. SENATE CHAMBER

Washington, D. C., Nov. 8.—(AP)—The oldest desk on the senate floor—once occupied by Daniel Webster—will remain in Republican hands during the next congress, despite the election tidal wave which splashed fourteen Democratic senators over to the opposition side of the chamber.

Senator Hale [Rep., Me.], whose seat was not at stake in last week's election, will keep the "Webster desk" in the center of a small Republican island, completely surrounded by Democrats.

Because they rolled up the most lopsided majority since the civil war, Democratic senators will take over both sides of the chamber, ordinarily split into equal sections by the middle aile.

Los Angeles Harbor Is Hit by 40 Mile Wind

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 8.—[Special.]—Whipping across Los Angeles harbor at a forty mile an hour gait, a strong wind today suspended small craft operations, capsized a small sailboat, and tore a navy launch from its moorings.

ACTOR'S WIDOW IS HELD BY U. S. ON VICE CHARGES

Seized with Five Girls in Luxurious Apartment.

New York, Nov. 8.—(AP)—Department of justice investigators announced today the arrest on Mann act charges of Lucille Malin, 35 year old widow of Jean Malin, female impersonator.

Rhea Whitley, agent in charge of the federal bureau, said Mrs. Malin and five girls were taken into custody in a raid last night on an apartment in a fashionable east side neighborhood. Four of the girls were found in the apartment, Whitley said, and the fifth, listed as Marcia Miller, 26, was taken into custody as she stepped from an expensive automobile attired in evening gown and ermine wrap.

The other girls, Whitley said, gave their names as Helen Thomas, 32, Mary Warren, 25; Vivian Bennett, 22; and Joyce Dean, 26.

Men Are Released.

Susie Vaughn, a negro maid, was held for questioning.

Whitley said that a man in the apartment and several other men who appeared at the place after the raid began were questioned but were not held.

Special agents have been investigating Mrs. Malin's activities for several months. They said she maintained apartments in Park avenue and several other exclusive neighborhoods and at one time lived in a "luxuriously furnished" apartment in Central Park West where she paid a rental of $10,000 a year.

The warant on which Mrs. Malin was arrested, Whitley said, specifically charged that she sent a girl to Montreal last January for purposes of prostitution.

Whitley described Mrs. Malin as "the largest call house operator in New York City."

"She is known to have sent girls from her establishment to fill dates with men of prominence in various cities throughout the east," he continued. "Among the inducements she held out to girls working for her were that the girls would meet men of wealth at her place and might thereby find affluent husbands."

Boston Raid Nets Three.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 8.—(AP)—Police announced tonight that two women and a man had been held for questioning about an alleged Back Bay "vice ring" whose clients "included members of Boston society." Police said a daylight raid on a fashionable apartment revealed the names of more than 70 girls.

PAROLEE ON TRIAL WITH GIRL TODAY IN POLICE KILLING

Walter Meyer, 22 years old, a paroled convict, and his sweetheart, Dorothy Bergholz, 19, are scheduled to go on trial today before a jury in the Du Page county Circuit court of Judge William J. Fulton at Wheaton for the murder of Policeman John B. Frost. The policeman was shot to death last Sept. 3 in Elmhurst when he sought to arrest the two for the theft of the Lombard police squad car. After his arrest Meyer confessed the slaying, but both he and the Bergholz girl have entered pleas of not guilty.

HUNTING CLEWS IN MYSTERIOUS WOMAN SLAYING

La Grange, Ky., Nov. 8.—(AP)—Authorities awaited the outcome of tests by the Louisville crime laboratory tonight for a clew to whether Mrs. Verna Garr Taylor, 40 years old, killed herself or was slain while she was out riding with Brig. Gen. Henry H. Denhardt Friday night.

Sergt. John Messmer, chief of the laboratory, tested the victim's hands with paraffine to determine whether the skin contained traces of exploded gases and gun powder. He said these usually were found on the hands of persons who had fired weapons.

Meanwhile, Gen. Denhardt, war veteran and Kentucky political figure for a decade and a half, remained inaccessible at his farm. A sister said he was engaged to Mrs. Taylor, but that her daughters opposed the match.

J. B. Hundley, a barber, stumbled over Mrs. Taylor's body Friday night after Gen. Denhardt and George Baker, a farmer, heard two shots from up the road where Mrs. Taylor had gone in the dark with Denhardt's revolver to look for her gloves.

Mrs. Taylor belonged to an old and prominent family of this section.

"YOU KNOW HOW IT FEELS to take just one ride," says Al McKee, shown at the controls of one of the steepest scenic railways in the country. "I do it all day long and digestion is no problem with me. He is one of the world's most famous explorers. He knows the Arctic and the Antarctic. He has crawled for 18 hours over treacherous, wavy, new-formed ice. He has known abysmal cold, and fought his way step by step through howling blizzards. He has lived on pemmican and biscuit. "Where I've gone, Camels have gone," says Sir Hubert. "An explorer needs good digestion," he continues. "In the Arctic, I take what I can get to eat and like it. Food is monotonous—concentrated—hastily prepared. Smoking Camels adds gusto to my meals and brings me a great feeling of well-being afterward. Camels set me right! When facing the rigors of the Arctic, a Camel has often given me the 'lift' I needed to carry on."

"MOST OF THE GIRLS HERE at college smoke Camels," says Miss Josephine O'Neill. "So I started smoking them too. Mental work often affects digestion. Smoking Camels helps digestion and makes food taste better. Camels always taste mild and cool."

HE POURS WHITE-HOT MOLTEN STEEL. C.V. Davis' job is plenty tough on digestion. He says: "Smoking Camels makes food taste better and set better with me. CITY-WIDE MASS MEETINGS HEAR PLEA FOR PEACE

11 Communities Observe Armistice Sunday.

The theme of all speakers who addressed Armistice Sunday meetings in many sections of Chicago yesterday was that the United States must be kept out of war.

Both political disarmament and personal pacifism were branded as futile and dangerous in actual war prevention by Dr. Joseph Fort Newton, noted Episcopal minister of Philadelphia, in an address last night before the Sunday Evening club in Orchestra hall.

"To blame the makers of arms for war is just another alibi," said Dr. Newton. "Arms do not make war. The spirit of war makes arms. Peace must be tied up more closely with justice. Though we talk of peace with the tongues of men and angels and have not justice it is empty eloquence."

Hear Ruth Nichols.

Ruth Nichols, noted woman flyer, was one of a corps of lecturers who appeared at eleven community mass-meetings sponsored by the Emergency Peace campaign. Speaking before an audience at the Washington Boulevard temple, 25 North Karlov avenue, Miss Nichols declared:

"Those closest to the international situation believe a general war in Europe will come soon. We have a fighting chance of keeping the United States out of such a carnage and to preserve an island of sanity. One way of accomplishing this is to put on a dynamic campaign of education, legislation, and organization against war."

Bishop James C. Baker of the San Francisco diocese of the Methodist church criticized American policies toward Japan as provocative of war.

"The immigration act of 1924 was a blow to the self-respect of Japan," Bishop Baker said, "and the naval maneuvers which we have put on in the proximity of Japan have been a challenge to that country. One can imagine the effect if he considers how Americans would feel if the Japanese maneuvers were held adjacent to the coast of California."

Other Prominent Speakers.

Other Emergency Peace campaign speakers included Albert W. Palmer, president of the Chicago Theological seminary; Prof. Albert H. Lybyer of the University of Illinois; Rabbi Felix A. Levy; Dr. Sylvanus M. Duvall of George Williams college; Kirby Page, author and lecturer, and Dr. John Haynes Holmes.

Gen. John V. Clinnin, addressing the Forges post of the American Legion at the doughboy monument in Garfield park, urged the preservation of the American system of government as insurance against war.

The auditorium of the Chicago Historical society was crowded yesterday afternoon for the Armistice ceremonies of allied veterans' organizations and other patriotic groups. Fifty Gold Star mothers headed by Mrs. Betsy Storms, president, and Mrs. Anna May Pries and Mrs. Lillian A. White, were guests of honor.

Many Posts Hold Parades.

Many Legion posts held parades and Armistice Sunday devotionals at their neighborhood churches. The Polish American Gold Star Fathers and Mothers' association held a colors presentation ceremony at St. Stanislaus auditorium.

Chicago's observance of Armistice day on Wednesday will center at two morning programs in the loop, one at the city hall and the other at State and Madison streets. Maj. Gen. Charles E. Kilbourne, commander of the Sixth corps area, will address the Rotary club at a luncheon tomorrow at the Hotel Sherman. Maj. Gen. Frank Parker, retired, will speak before the Union League club Wednesday noon.

Patriotic organizations which sponsored the erection of a bronze monument of a Negro soldier at 35th street and South Park way will attend its unveiling Wednesday morning.

SEIZE TWO MORE FOR QUIZ AFTER TAVERN SLAYING

Two new suspects were held at the West North avenue police station yesterday in the hunt for accomplices of Pasquale [Patsy] De Chiara, 20 years old, who was killed early Saturday while he and three others were engaged in a holdup of the Pow Wow roadhouse, River road and Belmont avenue, Franklin Park.

Policeman Wilfred Woodmaster of the West North avenue station, who was off duty and in civilian clothing, was a patron in the roadhouse and it was he who shot De Chiara. The other bandits escaped.

Those arrested on suspicion yesterday were Joseph Matroci, 21 years old, 745 North Hoyne avenue, who said he is a cabinet maker, and Samuel Ferrara, 25 years old, 2121 West Ohio street. Others held are Frank Rugo, 1844 Emerson street; Edward Koziol, 1758 West Grand avenue; Frank Guardino, 519 Hartland court; James Mazzie, 1923 Emerson street, and John Pirole, 2101 West Erie.

Koziol, Mazzie, Guardino, and Ferrara were booked on charges of disorderly conduct. Ferrara will be arraigned this morning in the Racine avenue court. The others booked will be arraigned in the Boys' court. The remaining suspects were still in custody, although not booked last night.

BOY, 13, STABBED IN FIGHT BEGUN IN CHURCH CLASS

Everett, Mass., Nov. 8.—(AP)—Thirteen year old Bobby Colaluca's championing of his Sunday school teacher in a quarrel with a classmate sent him to a hospital here late today critically wounded.

Doctors at Whidden Memorial hospital said Bobby had been stabbed by a jackknife—once just over the heart and again on the right arm. They sought volunteers for blood transfusions.

Police held a 12 year old boy identified by Bobby as the one who stabbed him in a quarrel just outside the Little Flower church.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 8.—Within five years an impassable barrier of invisible rays will protect the British Isles from invading airplanes no matter how high they fly, the Sunday Chronicle's air correspondent today quoted a high official of the air ministry as saying.

The rays, he declared, already are developed to the point where bombers flying at a height of several thousand feet will be completely disabled in the zones where they attempt to penetrate the invisible barrier. The rays will destroy life within a few minutes if man remains within the area affected, and are able to explode the more sensitive type of fulminate of mercury fuse used on bombs.

Two experts working in a secret laboratory since the principle of this beam was discovered have perfected it so that it is claimed a screening around a magneto which is sufficient to protect a craft against all other types of "death rays" is entirely useless against these. The only question now is said to be how long it will take to establish the necessary control points around the British Isles to make effective a "wall of death" against invading bombers.

PARIS FACES FOOD STRIKE; 150,000 MAY WALK OUT

PARIS, Nov. 8.—(AP)—Paris faced the possibility of a general food strike unless employers agreed to union terms in a new labor dispute. The food handler's union, numbering 150,000 members, announced the strike might be called unless employers settled differences with workers at Pantin, a suburb.

A union spokesman declared six union delegates, one with thirty-six years of service, were discharged by the management of the Pantin plant and that the employers' confederation refused to sign collective bargaining contracts.

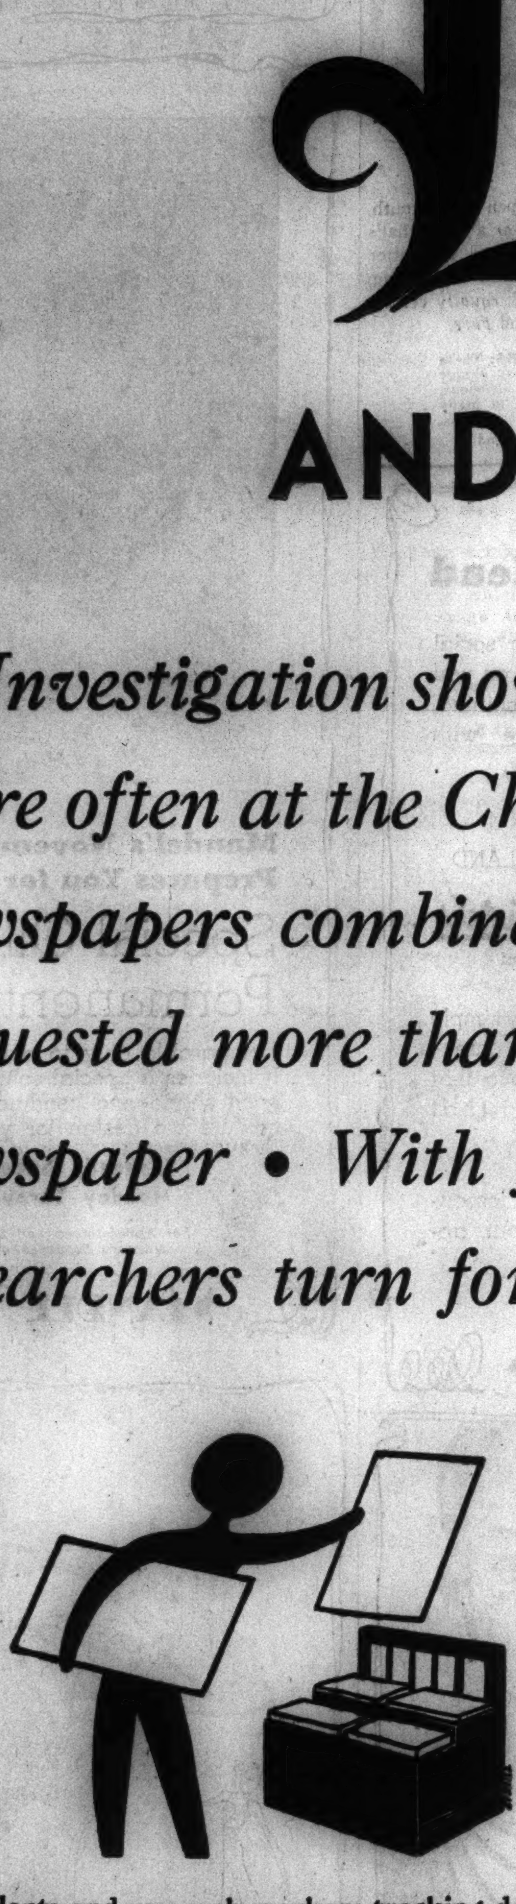
AND ON THE NEWS STAND

Investigation shows that the back files of the Chicago Tribune are consulted more often at the Chicago Public Library than are those of all other Chicago newspapers combined • Last year the bound volumes of the Tribune were requested more than four times as often as were those of any other Chicago newspaper • With four other contemporary newspapers equally handy, researchers turn for authoritative information to the Tribune.



Students and research workers tracking down facts . . economists and investors checking on market prices . . . historians and clergymen looking up eyewitness stories and forgotten sermons . . . lawyers and detectives seeking evidence . . . housewives and shopgirls hunting for menus and advice to the lovelorn—the Tribune is the preferred historical record of yesterday, as it is the preferred newspaper of today.

When news is hard to get because people are secretive, or because powerful interests want to suppress the facts, the Tribune gets it.

When news from remote centers of war or revolution becomes of paramount interest to Americans, Tribune reporters get the facts.

Wars, fires, floods, earthquakes, or other calamities of nature—none of these holds back the news from Tribune readers.

The Tribune records not alone the full range of man's activities in business, politics, science, crime, war, and disaster, but it also mirrors his close personal interests and diversions.

Tribune readers are served with the most competently written news of sports, movies, amusements, finance, business and agriculture, fashions, cooking, child care and other topics of interest.

Pages so vitally written and attractive to read hold greater fascination for the people of this community than do those of any other Chicago newspaper.

In all levels of family life, among all members of the family, the Chicago Tribune is more closely read, quoted and clipped than any other newspaper.

From this close and continuous contact with the majority of the families of metropolitan Chicago springs the strength of the Tribune as an advertising medium.

Manufacturers use the Tribune more than any other Chicago newspaper because it provides the large-scale response, the dealer co-operation, which modern merchandising demands.

For more than twenty years the Tribune has held indisputable advertising leadership in Chicago.

There are many ways to spend your advertising dollars to get results in the Chicago market. But there is none so economical, so productive, as concentrating your expenditure in the Tribune.

The Tribune's rate per 100,000 circulation is among the lowest in the publishing field. Per sales return in Chicago it is by far the lowest.

Ask your advertising counsel—or a Tribune representative—to show you how to sell more merchandise with advertising concentrated in the Chicago Tribune.

FINDS GERMANS SUFFER LACK OF BUTTER AND MEAT

"More Cannon" Is New Nazi Slogan.

[How does the average German live under Hitler? What are his advantages and what must he put with? The following account tells something about him.]

BY LOUIS P. LOCHNER.

BERLIN, Nov. 8. — (AP) — Otto Schmidt, Mr. Average German, under the dictatorship, has to take plenty of orders but he says he gets something in return.

He has to work for low wages, for jobs have to be spread among many; he has to make heavy contributions to "the good cause"—the Nazi régime; he suffers periodical scarcity of some foods, because Germany will buy abroad no more than it must; much of his off-time is occupied by prescribed exercises, rallies and organized entertainments.

Against these things, he feels reasonable security in his job; his employer must give him annual holidays with pay, sometimes with extra expenses to boot so he can enjoy a trip to the seashore or the Bavarian Alps or go on a "strength through joy" cruise to foreign climes.

Boss Can't Fire Worker.

Otto's boss cannot throw him out when he feels so disposed. When an employer tried that on a worker of 20 years' faithful service, he was told such action was anti-social and that he must reinstate the employé. The rule is that an employer shall cut down his profits to the bone, rather than reduce his staf for economic reasons.

In factories, workshops, and offices workers' interests are taken care of by a betriesrat [works council], the advice of which the boss cannot well afford to disregard.

If Otto is a true believer in the reichsfuehrer's rule, life need hold no doubts—leave it to the fuehrer; he knows best; he thinks for all.

The system does not appeal to all; but Schmidt, being an average German, submits readily to discipline and control.

Finds Butter Is Scarce.

Champagne is cheaper, Otto says, but butter is scarcer. Automobiles are lower in price and cost less to run, but Otto's wife finds her kitchen more difficult to manage.

That is not the Nazi ideal, but it represents a compromise between the ideal and the stern realities of domestic production and foreign trade.

If Hitler's economists had their way, all necessities would be cheap and plentiful and all luxuries would be reasonably expensive. But it has been easier to lower the price of what can be produced at home than to create an abundance of what has to be imported.

Germany's vineyards produce excellent "sekt," formerly burdened with a high luxury tax because it was considered a plutocrat's drink. Hitler has taken the tax off domestic champagne and endeavored to popularize the drink among Schmidt and his friends, who now can buy an ordinary bottle for the equivalent of a dollar.

"Less Butter and More Guns."

On the other hand, Germany produces less than half the butter it needs. When it comes to spending the precious foreign exchange in the midst of a rearmament campaign, the slogan is "Less Butter and More Cannon."

Otto, like many others, would prefer more pork and beef, and fewer automobiles and new highways. But Germany's farms cannot produce the desired quantity of meat, and Germany's industry can make the automobiles.

The government tries to do what it can for the average Mr. Otto Schmidt by fixing maximum prices and making an equitable distribution of the available supply at those prices. Dealers who dare to operate on the principle that scarcity boosts prices are fined and jailed.

RAIL MEN AND POLICE SAVE 4 BOYS FROM DEATH ON HAND CAR

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 8.—(AP)—Crossing watchmen, train dispatchers and police coöperated here tonight in a nerve-tingling dash to save four youthful joyriders on a hand car trailer from death beneath the wheels of a New York Central freight train.

The four, none over 14 years of age, jimmied the shackles of the trailer in the yards, pushed it to a start and began rolling down the six mile grade toward Charlotte station.

A crossing watchman saw them narrowly miss an automobile. Realizing a freight was due at any moment, he and dispatchers sought to halt the train, but failed.

The police radio sputtered and cars raced to the next crossing on the car's itinerary. Standing on the crossing, police yelled at the approaching trailer. The youngsters tumbled off and fled into the darkness. A moment later, just after police had yanked the car off the track, the train thundered past.

HITLER BOASTS OF MIGHTY ARMY AND DEFIES FOES

Says He Has No Anxiety for Nation's Future.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Nov. 8.—"For the first time in these many years I observe this day without deep anxiety for Germany's future."

Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler made this statement today in a speech at Munich on the thirteenth anniversary of his ill-fated beer hall putsch.

"It is true that our old enemy, bolshevism, still is active, but I now can say bolshevism will never get Germany," he said. "For three and a half years German factories have been working day and night to rearm the country and restore her to her rightful place.

Demands Respect of Others.

"We desire peace, but Germany again is a powerful state and claims the respect of others. Some say foreign countries do not love us. All I want is the love of my people and the foreign respect due all courageous people."

The old German army was not really defeated in the world war, but was undermined by the propaganda of its enemies, Hitler continued.

He glorified in the conviction that he had resurrected an army as powerful as that of imperial days, but immune from the possibility of falling prey to foreign propaganda.

"In almost four years of work we Nazis gave back to the German people their great old army," the Fuehrer said. "Tonight, the thirteenth anniversary of the Munich revolt, we can look back with pride on our achievements. Using the small, old republican army of 100,000 men as a framework, we created a national Nazi army which will fight with the same courage and determination as the old army did when the hour to fight comes.

Points to Talisman.

"There is one difference between our army and the old army. The old army was equipped to fight with all weapons except one—foreign propaganda which undermined it. Today our men have a talisman in the shape of the symbol on their flag—the swastika—which is carried before them and makes them immune to foreign propaganda.

"It is the greatest miracle that after fifteen years of defenselessness we were able to create a great national army. I am prouder of this achievement than of anything else."

Hitler spoke proudly of the daring he showed thirteen years ago when he led Hermann Wilhelm Goering [now a colonel general, minister of air, and economic dictator], Alfred Rosenberg [leader of the foreign political office of the Nazi party], Heinrich Himmler [commander of all German police], and Julius Streicher [Nazi governor of Middle Franconia and leading Nazi anti-Semite], and other Nazi chieftains in the putsch.

Rifle Fire Stopped Putsch.

They attempted to wrest power from the German republic in a revolt which was stopped by the rifle fire of the republican army.

With ever increasing splendor the reich celebrated the anniversary of the putsch and paid tribute to the men who died in the fighting. All the old fighters in brown shirts, stripped of badges of rank, crowded around Hitler in the same stall in the beer hall from which the putsch started.

Families of the sixteen men who fell in the fighting were honored by party comrades.

MODEL PRISONER HAS PERMISSION TO STAY IN JAIL

Boston, Mass., Nov. 8.—(AP)—A prisoner who refused parole because he could make more money inside prison than out of it, today won permission from a puzzled parole board to stay behind the bars of Massachusetts' grim state prison at Charlestown.

Joseph Treboski, 46, a former resident of Worcester, turned down all offers from the board, Parole Agent Thomas J. Mahoney reported, and, tonight looked forward to a Christmas rush for the miniature religious altars, boxes, and trinkets he fashions with his skilful knife.

Treboski, a model prisoner, was sentenced in May, 1934, in Worcester Superior court to serve two and a half to four years for breaking and entering with intent to commit larceny. He will be eligible for parole Nov. 21.

Officially Treboski works as a carpenter at the prison and receives 50 cents a day from the state which is placed to his account by the warden.

In his spare time he finds his skill with a knife a paying talent.

AFTER MADRID.

For Europe the capture of Madrid, if it finally falls to the army of Gen. Franco, will be less the conclusion of a chapter than the beginning of a new one. The international consequences of the event will be of immense importance. A study of the map of the Mediterranean will show how and why.

Italy for some time has been in a position to challenge the traditional British control of the eastern end of the sea. It was that fact which must have gone far to deter the British from employing force against Italy in the Ethiopian campaign. Britain could have attempted to blockade the approaches to the Suez canal, but did not do so. Part of the explanation, of course, lies in the fact that the British government did not regard Italy's ambitions in Ethiopia as a sufficient justification for war. But another reason was fear that the British navy would suffer severe losses from the attacks of Italian submarines and especially from Italian airplanes. The risk was too great in the light of the possible gains.

Now, as a result of the Spanish revolution, the British position in the western Mediterranean is likewise threatened. Italy's power in the eastern Mediterranean derives from her possession of naval and air bases within striking distance of British bases and the probable scene of naval concentrations. Italy has no such advantage in the western half of the sea, but she may acquire what she lacks as a result of events in Spain.

Gibraltar is impregnable and dominant only because the traditional policy of Spain has been not to arm and fortify against Britain. If Spain now undertakes to challenge British control of the western entrance to the Mediterranean and the sea routes which traverse it the British position will be endangered by submarines and airplanes. The menace to Britain would be even greater if a new government in Spain, in return for favors received in the revolution, should give either Italy or Germany air or sea bases within striking distance of the straits.

For France, Britain's ally, the presence of such bases would be equally menacing because they would threaten her communications across the Mediterranean. All French war plans assume uninterrupted communications with her possessions in North Africa. She depends upon them for man power and supplies. The threat to those communications implied by an unfriendly Spain or by German or Italian naval and air power in the Mediterranean is grave.

It is obvious from recent official statements that these considerations are occupying the minds of officials in all the countries of Europe. Mussolini's recent speech in Milan was addressed to Britain. It warned her to recognize the conquest of Ethiopia and to accept the fact that Italy means to dominate the Mediterranean in exchange for a guarantee that British communications will not be interrupted. Mussolini did not add "or else"—but the phrase was clearly implied.

Capt. Anthony Eden, Britain's foreign secretary, replied a few days later. Britain, he said, had no desire to attack any Italian interest in the Mediterranean, but regarded the Suez route to the east as vital. "Great Britain," he said, "proposes to defend this route with all its might." He went on to say that in the past the interests of Italy and Britain in the Mediterranean have not clashed and he hoped that this relation could be preserved.

In view of events in Spain it is at least questionable whether these hopes will be realized. The success achieved by the revolution in Spain owes much, if we may rely upon well authenticated information, to Italian and German cooperation in supplying weapons and trained men to operate them. It is hardly likely that these reinforcements would have been sent with no expectation of a return. Within a relatively short time the nature of the payment for services rendered should become apparent.

If it takes the form of naval and air bases the British government will face the choice between accepting a menacing situation in the Mediterranean or using British naval power to prevent its realization, even though that might involve the risk of a general European war.

Before the Ethiopian conquest the British foreign office might have regarded Signor Mussolini's recent speech as a bluff, but with the Italians in Addis Ababa his words will be taken pretty nearly at face value. A vital link in the communications of the British empire is likely to be threatened. If so, what will Britain do about it?

NEW JERSEY'S CANAL.

Slightly more than a hundred years ago, when the railroad was still a vagary and ten miles per hour rapid transit, a corporation was formed to dig a canal from New York bay to the Delaware river. It would offer a short and fast route from New York to Philadelphia. The waterway followed the Raritan to New Brunswick, N. J., thence through a series of fourteen locks over the height of land to Bordentown on the Delaware. Before the project was finished, however, the railway bug had severely bitten the American people, so the Camden and Amboy railroad was constructed by the same capital group to parallel the canal. Eventually the Pennsy fell heir to both properties, but in later years the state of New Jersey acquired the waterway, which in the meantime had lost its commercial value and now forms one of those picturesque reminders of another day that may be found all over the east.

Casting about for excuses to absorb government expenditures, the canal commission has discovered that a gold mine has been lying dormant in this property for three-quarters of a century. If the canal were dredged to fourteen feet and the locks rebuilt it would be possible for barge navigation nearly to circumnavigate the eastern half of the United States via the Mississippi river, the gulf and Atlantic intercoastal canals, the New York state waterways, and the Great Lakes. When the Florida canal is completed barge tows actually may go round and round. The first crest of the wave of propaganda has been released.

With the most efficient of railroads as well as modern superhighways on one side, and the cheapest of deep water transportation available on the other, what earthly chance is there for a barge line in the picture and how in the name of common sense can trafic be coaxed to loop the loop? If the federal government must continue to spend money on so-called public works, surely it can find some with a grain of merit to complete before it starts to parallel the Atlantic seaboard with a canal system.

THE BUILDING CODE.

One of the first matters to which the city council should now turn its attention is the enactment of a new building code. All signs indicate that the city is about to see a considerable revival in the construction industries. It is important for a number of reasons that the new code be enacted as soon as possible.

One reason is that some building is being delayed until the new law is on the books. These delays are costly because it is precisely in the construction industries that recovery has been slowest. When the building mechanics who are out of work or are employed in one or another form of relief project are restored to independence the last great obstacle to recovery will have been passed.

It is important also that the new buildings to be erected conform to more advanced standards of safety and design than are found in the existing code. New materials are available and their use should be encouraged. The use of unsightly and unsafe constructions, such as the characteristic wooden back porches on apartment buildings and outside fire escapes, should be discouraged. Regulations covering the area and height of rooms need revision in the light of modern experience.

Many observers are confident that Chicago is about to see another building boom. They point to the great increase in the number of marriages, to the obsolescence of much of the present residential and industrial space, to the gradual increase in family incomes and to some increase in rents. The revival of residential construction in the suburbs has been noticed by every one, but thus far there has been no comparable activity within the city itself. The sooner the new code is adopted the sooner the revival in Chicago will take place.

A new code will mean more work for Chicago's building mechanics, more property to share the community's tax burden, and a safer and a better looking city. There is no good reason for delay and plenty of good reasons for prompt action.

Editorials of the Day

ACCOUNTED FOR.

[Baltimore Sun.]

Although it is only a little more than three months ago that Father Coughlin made his startling promise to discontinue radio broadcasting "if I do not swing at least 9,000,000 votes to Lemke," it seems years. When the reverend gentleman made that rash promise it seemed to us one of the brightest prospects that could be realized from a not particularly inspiriting exercise of the popular franchise. We still hope against hope that Father Coughlin will not interpret himself out of his promise, or at any rate that he will refrain from announcing apocalypse more than two or three times a month.

The dilemma of Father Coughlin is not, of course, the most important aspect of the insignificant showing of the minor parties. Their almost complete disappearance is accounted for by the extraordinary adulation of one man, President Roosevelt, around whom the American people rallied in spite of his vagueness in stating his policy for the future and his not entirely consistent record for the past. Against the personal popularity of Mr. Roosevelt neither the relentless logic of Norman Thomas nor the magnificent illogic of the Lemke party could prevail. The President got 'em all. The wise ones among third party enthusiasts went to Mr. Roosevelt with hopes for 1940 leaping high in their bosoms. Only the thin fringe of consistent outside party backers seem to have remained to be divided against Lemke, Thomas, Browder, and Aiken.

This is, after all, not altogether inexplicable. While Father Coughlin was breathing fire against the international "bankers," and while Mr. Lemke was promising more abundant abundance to the farmers, and while Dr. Townsend was shouting for bigger and bigger pensions and worse and worse currency, and while Messrs. Browder and Thomas were working to "make America over" along Marxian lines, Mr. Roosevelt, ably assisted by Messrs. Farley, Hopkins, and Wallace, were dishing it out. When a major party is in a dispensing mood the going for the minors is tough.

INSANE NOT TO BE FORGOTTEN.

[Bloomington (Ill.) Pantagraph.]

Too often when a person is admitted to a state hospital for the insane he might be listed as an inhabitant of the "port of missing men" so far as his community is concerned. His relatives and immediate friends keep in touch with him, perhaps, and of course the staf of the institution must bear its responsibility for his care and recovery, if recovery is possible.

To make recovery possible in a larger percentage of cases the state of Illinois is now engaged in a building program at the state hospitals for mental diseases. A. L. Bowen, director of the department of public welfare, has lately disclosed the character and purposes of these new structures which are to be added at Manteno, Elgin, and Kankakee, with later additions of similar sort at Peoria, Alton, Jacksonville, and Anna.

The new buildings are to house diagnostic clinics, wherein a new patient may be kept for periods of from 30 days to six months for study of his individual case. The mental experts may there determine in just what class or group the new patient may be placed with an assurance of the greatest degree of recovery. Formerly the new patient was assigned in a sort of haphazard manner.

The large sums of money being spent for these new adjuncts to the mental hospitals will be wisely expended if they result in the restoration of a considerable number of Illinois persons to their homes after shorter periods of treatment at the state institutions.

CLUB MEETING.

Tea cups, and lemon rind, and pale blue bread,
Old songs in chorus by the firelight's glow,
Warm coats and scarfs across a crocheted spread,
Gay yarns, and needles, clicking swift and low,
Some talk of art, of poetry, and plays,
A few reports, and plans for work begun,
A clock's soft chiming through the twilight haze,
Another trivial council meeting done.
And yet a while, and through that open door
Some little ones are clothed, and some are fed;
Clean sheets and pillows ease a painful bed.
O, that a world of women might partake
The magic tea they drink, and bread they break.

GOOSE AND MONGOOSE.

We have been thinking what a wonderful columnist could be made out of Jeff, the mongoose which speaks six languages, sings Spanish songs, and throws the English courts into turmoil. The job would be easy; simply chop off the first syllable, give him a coat of feathers, and let him forget five of the languages.

One of the classic stories of the trade relates to the tailor who wished to purchase two irons. He first wrote to the manufacturer: "Send me two tailor's geese." This he erased, after some pondering, and in its stead wrote: "Send me two tailor's gooses." Still dissatisfied, he started all over again: "Send me a tailor's goose and then send me another one just like it." One mongoose like Jeff, however, would be enough.

A MEMBER REPORTS.

(After attending a Woman's club lecture.)

"Good evening, John. Yes, I am very tired. Grace had a few of us in for lunch and then we went to the Woman's club. The speaker was just splendid; a Dr. Evans from England, I think. He spoke on 'The Financial Conditions of the Various Nations of the World.' Yes, it was a large subject, but he covered a great deal of ground in a short time. It was enlightening to see how he treated the subject of the money conditions in France. My, their condition is quite unique, isn't it? So very different from the conditions in Russia. Now, their money condition is deplorable—now, let me see how did he put that? I was going to remember it word for word; but anyhow he led you to think things were not on the up and up.

"Now, in England, he said, they had a very good plan and it was a shame it hadn't worked out better. Or was it in Czechoslovakia that they had the plan that didn't work? He spoke of Italy, but I can't remember just what he did say about their money. He was a very forceful speaker and just seemed to drive his points home; you felt that there was a man who knew and could make everything clear to his hearers. Oh, yes, he touched on the United States. It was interesting to hear how he said 'The United States of America'—he was so careful about things like that. He said our condition was far reaching, and very interesting. He spoke quite at length on the gold standard. All of Enigand's gold was in France's vaults and all of France's gold was in our vaults, or something like that. Anyhow, you got the idea none of the gold was where it should be. That's the kind of man you should have at your men's clubs. . . . I am going to the reading club tonight to give the girls a sort of resumé of his talk."

CONTACT GLASSES.

THE widespread use of spectacles came with the invention of printing and the sixteenth century witnessed the beginning of an industry that has today grown to huge proportions. Every one reads—for news, recreation, and information—and seeing aids are essential to a goodly proportion.

Errors of refraction are universal and a suitable correction may now be obtained at but little cost. However, it was not always such a relatively simple matter, for until the latter part of the seventeenth century lenses were ground singly and by hand. Bifocals appeared about 1760, when a pair was made for that Nestor of American printers, Benjamin Franklin.

Now comes another forward step, probably with but limited usefulness, nevertheless filling a long felt want. Many persons dislike wearing glasses and in certain occupations are prevented from doing so. Also, there are irregularities of the surface of the eye in which the visual defect is not of the usual type which can be rectified in this way.

To meet these circumstances investigators have for a number of years been working on the problem of a glass which could be inserted under the lids and which, when filled with fluid, would give to the eye the curvature necessary to produce clear vision.

Such lenses were made first by a Wiesbaden manufacturer of artificial eyes. They were blown by hand and hence it was almost impossible to make them exactly alike. To avoid this obstacle an optical firm of Jena ground glass shells to the desired curvature, which fitted on the white part of the eye, leaving a space over the clear portion or cornea which was filled with a transparent solution.

These "eyes" proved of considerable value in conditions not proper for standard glasses. They could be worn by many patients for a number of hours and by some for even an entire day without annoyance. Others, however, were unable to utilize them because of abnormalities of the eyes which could not be cared for by ground lenses.

Dallos of Hungary, in 1932, secured an appropriate modeling compound—negokoll—with which accurate molds of the human eye could be made. From these forms precisely adapted glass shells were fashioned which fitted individual eyes well-nigh perfectly and which could be employed with greater ease than those manufactured by the former method.

Recent research conducted at Columbia university has confirmed the feasibility of this plan. The procedure is complicated and requires special skill. Furthermore, the patients must be trained to fill the devices with fluid and place them beneath the lids carefully, so that no air bubbles remain between the glass and the eye.

Popular opinion has leaped to the conclusion that these shells, which are almost invisible, will replace regular lenses for persons with common eye troubles. This is incorrect. The difficulties of making and inserting them, and the discomfort attendant on their retention, which is complained of by most persons in spite of improvements, make them impracticable in most instances.

In cases of uneven curvature of the cornea [keratoconus] good sight may be achieved only by such glasses. Nearsighted persons who require thick and unsightly glasses may resort to contact lenses for short periods when a stage appearance or a social function renders them particularly desirable. The vision secured is not better than that from ordinary glasses. In other refractive disorders calling for lenses of normal thickness the contact type will seldom be needed, since these individuals can leave off their spectacles in the situations mentioned.

We may say, then, that these new lenses are of great value in special cases and that they will become more efficient as refinements in their fabrication appear. For some time to come most of us with everyday eye disturbances probably will continue to wear conventional "specs."

DROPPED STOMACH.

H. A. writes: What are the symptoms of a dropped stomach and a slight curvature of the spine?

REPLY.

A so-called dropped stomach may cause no symptoms. The gastric pouch can function reasonably well regardless of its position. If there is a "pull," however, on other abdominal structures, symptoms of indigestion may appear. There may be some nausea and even vomiting, pain, feeling of pressure, weight, fullness, or distension of the stomach. Small amounts of food may satiate the victim and the appetite usually fails after the first few mouthfuls. Occasionally the distress simulates the pain of ulcer. If the condition is of long standing, patients begin to lose weight and strength. The slight curvature of the spine you mention is probably a lordosis which is often accompanied by a dropped stomach.

CANNED FOOD.

L. G. writes: We are in the habit of keeping canned chocolate sirup in the refrigerator, punching small holes in the can, and using as needed. After a day or two the top of the can turns black. Is there any danger of poisoning by using the sirup in this manner?

REPLY.

Probably not, but canned food may become contaminated after opening, and the same care as to cleanliness and refrigeration is necessary with it as with any home prepared food kept in an open dish.

WHICH VERMIFUGE.

LOUISE writes: I have recently discovered that I have worms. I am 23 years old. What is the cure?

REPLY.

What is the worm—tape, thread, pork, or round? Treatment depends upon the type of parasite with which you are infested. Dru[illegible] vermifuges are used and each is designed to make some particular worm so [illegible] that he will relax his hold and scurry out of the way. Consult a skilled physician.

NERVOUS BREAKDOWN.

Mrs. C. writes: About 15 months ago I had a nervous breakdown after giving birth to my child. Doctors tell me I am completely well and yet I find it difficult to adjust myself to family and friends. Will this feeling of dread disappear?

REPLY.

It should—in time. If not, ask your physician to recommend a good phychiatrist.

ESSAY ON MANNERS.

Chicago, Nov. 3.—Good manners are more than just an attractive embroidery on civilized living; they are a necessary element in modern civilization.

In Chicago, three and a half million of us are packed into a small space.

We struggle into and out of the loop every day, jammed suffocatingly into "L" cars, street cars, and buses.

When we step out to have some fun we discover, if the entertainment is any good, that many others of us stepped into the same place to enjoy it.

When we drive we must nimbly avoid collision with thousands of other automobiles, listen to their noises, and inhale their exhaust fumes.

We can never stay out of each other's way. Like shipwrecked people marooned on a tiny island, we are always together. We eat, sleep, play, and work, always within sound of each other's voices.

Without some good manners—some decent consideration for each other's comfort and peace of mind—we could not possibly live like that.

However, our manners in general could be a lot better. If they were, life in Chicago could be more gracious and more pleasant for everybody.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—For the year's biggest upsets I place in nomination:
Duquesne's defeat of Pittsburgh.
The Wildcats' defeat of the Gophers.
The Literary Digest poll.
The power of the press.
New England's traditional Republicanism.
Pennsylvania's ditto ditto.
The technically Rev. Father Coughlin.

THE ONE PARTY SYSTEM.

Chicago, Nov. 5.—According to THE TRIBUNE the Nazi papers applauded the Roosevelt victory on the theory that it will lead to the "one party system" now ruling in Germany.

What they fail to take into consideration is the fact that the majority of the American newspapers were against the person and party elected.

MAC D. LASKY.

THE SUBURBAN VOTE.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—That THE TRIBUNE has been broad enough to publish the critical letters in today's issue and similar ones all through the campaign, regardless of their unfairness, deserves the commendation of its readers. The vote of our outstanding suburbs, compared with other sections, is very revealing.

F. O. S.

EXCERPT.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—I just can't stop to write all the nasty things I could about your paper, but I hope you'll get hundreds of better ones than I can write because I'm not much of a letter writer.

Here's hoping I see this in your column and that others see it also.

MARY JANE WALSH.

CROW.

Chesterton, Ind., Nov. 6.—I see by your morning paper you can take it. Well, we Democrats here in Porter county, Ind., have to take it, too, and we like it about as well as you do. We didn't elect a single Democrat to office.

There's a big crow roost near here, and every so often local sportsmen go out and kill a number of them, and it's always been a problem as to what to do with the dead crows.

Now I suggest that the editorial staf of THE TRIBUNE join the defeated Democrats of this county in a great crow banquet. We can have stewed crow, baked crow, fricassed crow, creamed crow, and crow on toast. There will be plenty for all. We would like to have Mr. Parrish and Mr. Orr as special guests, as we believe they will be able to eat quite a little. Let's all eat crow together.

B. T.

CARRY ON!

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Don't let them get you down, TRIBUNE; you did a magnificent job, even if your best friends did think you a bit rough. One presidential election more or less is only an incident in the 90 years of public service of the great CHICAGO TRIBUNE. Your batting average is still higher than most of them.

Whoever sits in the White House, and however big the vote that put him there, there is still room in this country for the hammer as well as for the anvil. It takes both to hammer out the horseshoe—and that's what counts.

Political thinking in America will be clearer for generations to come for the truly big work of THE TRIBUNE during this campaign in focusing attention on the fundamental requirements of American democracy and constitutional government.

Revalue, if you must, the temper of the American people, but ever zealous to preserve what is most worthy to endure in American life. Carry on!

WALDO WARREN.

PARADOX.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Strange as it seems, the recent rout of the Republican party has revived the two party system of government. Since the world war there have been two parties in name only. Almost identical platforms offered the voter little choice of public policy. Most of us inherited our political beliefs along with religious views and other family peculiarities.

Recent developments, however, have sharply divided liberals and conservatives, regardless of their former party affiliations.

Paradoxically, the success of the liberals' policy of spreading the wealth of the country among a larger percentage of its people will tend to strengthen the conservative minority, it being a proved fact that the more one possesses the more conservative he becomes.

This, then, is a healthy condition, and as business improves we will have two real parties balancing the scales of social justice.

TOM PAPWORTH.

A LITTLE LESSON.

Austin, Minn., Nov. 5.—Not to rub it in unduly, because the recent earthquake was a surprise to the most sanguine New Dealer, but it might teach you a little lesson in temperance of language. If you believed one-half of the things you said during the campaign, you ought to be getting ready to migrate to England. Surely this obscene New Deal, with its wild orgy of spending, together with ultimate inflation, dictatorship, and bankruptcy, under which no bank account and no insurance policy is safe, cannot possibly provide us with a country which is fit for any decent human being to live in.

But of course you did not believe those things any more than any other Republican campaigner did. You were just trying to scare us into voting Republican, and we did not scare worth a cent. Your money is still in the bank, and your insurance policy is still in force, and you are going to leave them that way. A little more temperance in language will leave you with less to swallow on the morning after.

The greatest blow of the recent campaign was that dealt to the power of the press. With practically every newspaper outside of the south Republican, and usually bitterly and fanatically so, the recent cataclysm took place any way. The sweep was too tremendous to be accounted for by any alibi of WPA vote buying; it was the clear voice of the people. You might as well replace your editorials with a comic strip. We, the people, have demonstrated that we don't believe a word you say.

T. M. BAXTER.

RETROSPECT.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—It was sporting of you to give up almost the entire V. of P. to the crowing chanticleers in your issue of Nov. 5. We are confident that, undismayed, you will continue the good fight against all forces which seek on any pretext whatsoever to undermine, directly or indirectly, the fundamental principles of liberty on which this nation was founded and to which it owes all its glory. That the President will sustain these principles in the days to come is our hope and prayer, for his reëlection has given him tremendous power over our destinies.

READER.

NOT SORRY.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—I have just been reading some of the kicks you are getting and would like to say I am all for you and think you did the right thing. I voted for Landon and am not one bit sorry.

DIVORCE IN ILLINOIS.

Chicago, Nov. 1.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. Will you please tell me how long a person must be a resident of Chicago before being able to sue for divorce on grounds of desertion?

2. How long after filing suit must one wait before a divorce is granted, and [3] how long before the decree becomes final?

A. C.

1. Unless the ground for divorce occurred in Illinois, the party must have resided a year in Illinois. If this requirement is satisfied, no previous residence in Chicago is necessary.

2. Depends upon whether the case is contested and on other facts that are not before us.

3. It is final as soon as it is entered in the sense that it is effective as a divorce, but if errors are present in the proceedings appeal to a higher court would be possible. The attorney handling the proceedings would be in a better position to advise you than we are.

COMMUNITY FUND WORKERS REPORT 2 MILLION RAISED

Fourth Week of Campaign Will Begin Today.

The Community Fund campaign enters its fourth week today with $2,069,066.50 raised toward the 1936 objective of $3,400,000, it was announced yesterday by James B. Forgan, general chairman. All business and industrial employés will be reached by volunteer solicitors before the close of the week, Mr. Forgan said.

Approximately 625,000 persons have been supplied with pledge cards, according to T. J. Carney, vice chairman. This number is nearly 100,000 more than last year.

Twenty-one solicitation groups are still more than 50 per cent below their quotas, Mr. Carney said. He announced the following 36 groups as having obtained 50 per cent or better of the pledges alloted to them:

HOLMES DENIES COUGHLIN LEADS AS RELIGIONIST

The Rev. Charles Coughlin, Detroit radio priest, should not be classified with the nation's religious leaders, declared the Rev. John Haynes Holmes, pastor of Community church, New York, in his address yesterday before the Chicago forum, 32 West Randolph street. Dr. Holmes named such clergymen as the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John A. Ryan of National Catholic university, Washington, D. C.; Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick of New York, or Rabbi Stephen S. Wise of New York as the real religious leaders.

"These," said Dr. Holmes, "are the type of religious leaders who understand that religion is primarily concerned with creating society where all men may live in peace, security, and freedom. Their leadership will prevent dictatorships from getting a permanent stranglehold on our people."

He also predicted that religion is to be the greatest force in American social life and said the trend is toward freer opportunity for religion to fulfill its ideals.

After becoming head of the iron works he was made president of the Union Coal company of Shamokin, Pa., a corporation which shipped its anthracite to the seaboard and to Great Lakes points through the port of Erie.

He also was vice president of the Youghiogheny River Coal company until it was absorbed by the Pittsburgh Coal company, and was president of the Spring Valley Coal company of Illinois and of the one-time Erie and Pittsburgh railroad, now a part of the Pennsylvania railroad system.

50 Years in Light Field.

Strong organized the Edison Electric Light and Power company 50 years ago and it later became the Erie County Electric company, now a subsidiary of the United Gas Improvement company of Philadelphia.

He began a newspaper publishing career in 1902 with the organization of the Dispatch Publishing company, later succeeded by the Dispatch-News company, which published the Morning Dispatch. Later that corporation was suceeded by the Record Publishing company, present publishers of the Erie Dispatch Herald.

He organized the Hamot hospital, the largest in the Erie vicinity, and through the years gave it many large gifts.

Fought Dry Law.

In politics Strong was a lifelong Republican. Four years ago he helped organize the Erie branch of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment and was the Erie president.

He was a member of the Presbyterian church. His clubs included the Erie, Kahkwa, and Erie Yacht club; the University, Manhattan, Yale, and Delta Kappa Epsilon clubs of New York, and the Alumni association of Yale university.

Three years ago his alma mater made him a gift of the complete library collection from the Yale University Press and these volumes he presented to the Erie Public library.

OPEN FURNITURE SHOW TODAY; SEE GAIN IN MARKET

Buyers Set Advance Attendance Mark.

The advance attendance of buyers yesterday at the furniture and home furnishings show, which opens today at the American Furniture Mart, 666 North Lake Shore drive, was greater, officials said, than on a Sunday previous to any other of its intermediate seasonal exhibits.

More than 400 buyers were in the building yesterday, the officials said. Their appearance before the show actually opens, plus reports from hotels that there are many furniture buyers in the city, led officials to predict the market this week would be better than at the May show, which had the biggest of any of the mid-season shows.

Look for Good Market.

"We look for a very fine market," said Lawrence H. Whiting, president of the mart.

Approximately 700 manufacturers are participating in the show, which will last through Saturday. More than 2,000 buyers from furniture, department, and specialty stores from all parts of the United States are expected to attend. It is open only to members of the industry.

Appliances Draw Attention.

Besides the furniture displays in the mart's 700 showrooms, attention was focused on the building's new major appliance section, which is said to contain the largest concentration of displays by manufacturers of appliances in the world.

In this section are the latest designs in electric and ice type refrigerators, lamps, stoves, washing machines, mechanical ironers, stokers, heaters, and other household appliances.

Maj. Timberlake told of Gen. Sheridan's famous 20 mile ride from Winchester to Cedar Creek, Va., to instill new spirit in his men when he heard they were losing. In the campaign of 1864, said Maj. Timberlake, Gen. Sheridan was advanced from the rank of captain to major general within three months.

CONSIDER THEORY THAT BALLARD'S KILLER WAS SLAIN

Hot Springs, Ark., Nov. 8.—[Special.]—Unwilling to accept police contention that Robert Alexander, gambler, shot Ed Ballard, multimillionaire circus owner, in a hotel room here Friday night, and then committed suicide, Coroner J. P. Randolph tonight was investigating a theory that Alexander may have been killed by a third person.

When found in the hotel room Ballard had three bullets in his body and Alexander lay dying with two bullets in his right chest. Only one revolver was found. It belonged to Alexander.

Alexander's associates here contend that if the gambler had intended to kill himself he would have shot himself in his head or through his heart, since he was a man familiar with the more vital spots. They hold that he would not have taken the chance of wounding himself and suffering a lingering death.

Alexander's friends advance the theory that Ballard was accompanied to the door of the hotel room by some one now unidentified and that the man, if not in the room, on hearing the first shots, rushed in, grabbed Ballard's cane, knocked the revolver from Alexander's hand, seized it, and shot the murderer and dropped the revolver on the floor.

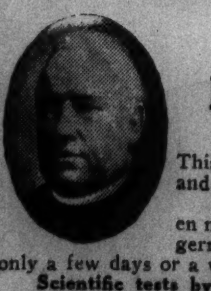
Colds Should Be Treated Internally



Science Proves Value of Father John's Medicine

When you have a cold, you feel sick all over. This is because the common cold is an internal disease, and should be treated internally. Doctors treat colds with medicines which strengthen natural resistance and help the body to fight off the germs that cause colds. Whether your cold will last only a few days or a week or longer, is mostly up to you.

Scientific tests by Dr. Frederic Damrau of New York prove that 9 out of 10 colds treated with Father John's Medicine clear up sooner. This explains why it has been prescribed for over 80 years in treating colds and coughs due to colds. Be prepared—keep Father John's Medicine in your home.

TELLS EX-SHOW GIRL'S DEMAND IN GROSS SUIT

$40,000, Then Alimony, Says Husband's Lawyer.

The financial demands made by Mrs. Elina Orr Gross, former show girl, in her divorce suit against Henry R. Gross, wealthy Chicago manufacturer, and the settlement offered by Gross, who is suing her on a cross bill, were disclosed yesterday by Gross' attorney, Robert E. Cantwell Jr. The lawyer indicated that the case will be settled this morning before Judge John C. Lewe of the Superior court, who for three days last week heard evidence on the cross bills.

Mrs. Gross' demands and her husband's offer were discussed in Judge Lewe's chambers Saturday morning, but were not made public at that time. Yesterday Attorney Cantwell said that Mrs. Gross, who now lives in Columbus, O., was asking $40,000 cash and permanent alimony of $300 a month.

Husband's Offer and Terms.

Gross has offered a lump settlement of $12,500 in lieu of all alimony and other future claims, Cantwell said, but two conditions are attached to this offer. One is that Mrs. Gross give up her one-third interest in her husband's concern, the Unity Manufacturing company, makers of automobile accessories at 2909 Indiana avenue.

The second condition is that she amend her divorce bill to allege only desertion, then Gross will drop his cross bill and will not contest her suit. Mrs. Gross' present bill charges her husband with drunkenness and cruelty.

Settlement of the case was postponed from Saturday until today awaiting the arrival of Mrs. Gross' brother-in-law, Attorney Richard Simpkins of Columbus. Attorney W. T. Alden, counsel for Mrs. Gross, refused to comment on a settlement yesterday.

Gross Alleges Desertion.

Mrs. Gross, who is 32 years old, was a show girl in the musical comedy, "No, No, Nanette." Her husband, who is 42 years old, lives at the Racquet club, 1361 North Dearborn street. In the cross bill, he charged desertion.

When Mrs. Gross was on the witness stand for cross-examination Friday, the name of Count Edward Kulikowski, former Polish vice consul in Chicago, now with the Polish embassy in Washington, was brought into the case by Attorney Cantwell. Mrs. Gross admitted she was in Kulikowski's apartment in the Belmont hotel on Jan. 16, 1935, the day before she and her husband separated.

She added, however, that Count Kulikowski's sister was in the apartment at the time and denied that there was anything improper. Mrs. Gross admitted that when her husband asked her the next day where she had been the night before, she replied that she had been with a woman friend.

ONION BREATH INCURABLE ILL? CHICAGO FUMES

Scientists' Charge Sets Off War Here.

The question is of peculiar interest—yea, concern!—to Chicago, whose very name means Onion, being simplified from the "Chickagou" of the Illini language.

Open warfare began last week at the University of Cincinnati when two conscientious professors, Dr. C. E. Blankenhorn and Dr. M. R. Richards, concluding a scholarly treatise on the bulb of the Allium cepa [liliaceous plant popularly dubbed "onion"], announced with tears in their eyes:

One Faction Alleges Libel.

Immediately there arose an angry roar from onion growers, onion distributors, and onion lovers. In Kalamazoo, Mich., Saturday, the onion anti-defamation committee of the National Onion association assailed the alleged libel, and demanded that Blankenhorn and Richards retract it. Fear of onion breath is the greatest obstacle to onion consumption, the committee complained, though other scientists [according to the committee] have proved onion breath can be cured in thirty seconds.

To sample public opinion a reporter yesterday questioned chefs, actors, executives, policemen, and just people. Here are some representative comments:

ERNEST BYFIELD, hotel head: "The anti-sociability of the onion depends upon its voltage. Nothing will prevail against a raw onion breath. The solution is temperance in onions—but not prohibition."

How to Wear Strength Down.

RENE MONTBRAND, Hotel Sherman chef: "Yes and no. We chefs find cloves helpful, but not foolproof. Cooking for five or six hours takes all the fight out of the onion. And, really, it's indispensable in the kitchen."

SAM QUINN, elevator operator: "Hot coffee destroys it."

FOR WINE CELLARS: A CHOICE OF 11,604 DIFFERENT BRANDS

Washington, D. C., Nov. 8.—(AP)—The American householder, stocking his prohibition depleted cellar, now has a choice of 11,604 different makes of wine.

That is the number, at least, of wine labels passed on by the federal alcohol administration since Oct. 24.

Under the law creating the alcohol administration, Dec. 15 was set as a deadline for approval of labels.

VALLETTE DEATH QUIZ IS EXPECTED TO CLOSE TODAY

Capt. Andrew Barry of the Hudson avenue station announced last night that the inquest into the death of Miss Audrey Vallette, party girl, who was shot to death in her home in the La Salle Tower apartments, 1211 North La Salle street, on July 2, would probably be closed today when the inquiry is reconvened.

Capt. Barry said the police investigation had progressed no further than on the day of the shooting. He said he would confer with Assistant State's Attorney Richard Devine on the possibility of naming Mrs. Ruth Freed, wife of a former north side cabaret owner, in the inquest verdict. Witnesses identified her picture as that of the woman who fled from Miss Vallette's room after the shooting. Mrs. Freed has been missing since that time.

• • THIS YOUNG MAN

MAY SOON BE BALD

True, he now has a good head of hair. But he knows that he is rapidly losing it, because each morning his comb and brush are filled with fallen hair. His scalp is covered with scaly, sticky dandruff, and it itches constantly. He has tried to ward off baldness by dousing his hair with miscellaneous "cure-all" lotions, but has concluded that they merely make his hair fall faster.

Unless he takes immediate steps to find out exactly what is causing his loss of hair, he'll surely soon be bald. Please tell him, for his sake, that Thomas effectively treats 1600 cases similar to his each day; that Thomas has helped a quarter-million other men to avoid baldness, and can help him, too.

A Thomas scalp specialist will gladly examine his scalp (without charge) and determine exactly which of the 14 local scalp disorders are attacking his hair-growing structure. The reliable, 17-year proved Thomas treatment will then be directed to overcoming those scalp troubles, and almost before he realizes it his abnormal hair-fall will stop; dandruff will disappear; and new hair will start to grow on the thin and bald spots. Why not come in TODAY for a free comprehensive scalp examination?

Culbertson's "Gold Book of Bidding and Play"

Herewith is presented another portion of Mr. Culbertson's latest work on contract, "The Gold Book of Bidding and Play," which is being reproduced in this column in daily instalments.

THE REBID OF TWO NO TRUMP.

Unless holding a higher ranking biddable suit than responder's suit, or the specialized trump strength required for a raise in responder's suit, the opening no trumper's rebid [if he can rebid at all] should be two no trump.

♠A K 6 ♥A 7 5 ♦K 5 4 ♣K J 10 7

Over partner's takeout of two diamonds, bid two no trump. A bid of three clubs would be required to show the suit.

The Rebid in a New Suit.

Provided he is able to show a biddable suit without raising the bidding to the three level the opener may show any biddable suit over his partner's suit takeout if he has rebid values.

♠Q 10 9 ♥Q J 5 4 ♦A K Q ♣A 5 2

Over two clubs rebid two hearts.

The Raise in Responder's Suit.

[1] He must have A K x or A Q x in the responder's suit and he must have all of the unbid suits stopped. If he is weak in any unbid suit his hand should contain a minimum of four and one-half honor tricks. This applies in all cases to a raise in a minor suit and, in most cases, to a raise in a major suit.

[A second circumstance will be discussed tomorrow.]

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 club	1 heart	1 spade	Pass
1 no trump	Pass	2 no trump	Pass
3 no trump	Pass	Pass	Pass

West opened the heart queen and dummy's ace was played to win the trick. A low club now was led, declarer reflecting happily that even if the finesse he was about to take should lose it would lose to West and thus no lead could go through his vulnerable diamond king. But East had been doing some lightning thinking also. He saw that his Q-10-4 of clubs were valueless against declarer's probable holding of K-J, and saw, moreover, that the hope of the defenders probably rested on his gaining the lead for the play of diamonds through declarer. He knew there was little or no chance that his spade queen would be an entry. Declarer never would finesse into East's hand if he feared a diamond shift. All of which requires much longer in the explaining than East required to make his killing play. Without a split second's hesitation he played the club queen on the low lead from dummy! Declarer won with the king and fell squarely into the trap. If the club queen actually were a singleton, as it appeared to be, West had started with four to the ten spot, and now a simple finesse through him would return all five club tricks and, thereby, the contract. The nine was led, accordingly, and allowed to ride. East gobbled up the trick with his ten and laid down the diamond queen. Curtain! Down one!

Declarer really had beaten himself by his bad play at the second trick. There was no earthly reason why the club ace should not have been played first. With that done East never would have had opportunity for his splendid hoax.

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Question: Dealer bid one club. I, second hand, held ♠A 8 7 5 3 ♥A 7 5 2 ♦A 8 3 ♣10. What should I bid?

Good Morning!

Queer title, isn't it?

And really means something. I. e., that it takes courage to face the music and that cowardice is what makes crooks underhanded.

This truth is brought home to three boys by a judge in the Court of Domestic Relations—the three kids who are the main works in the picture.

"The Devil Is a Sissy" is a sidewalks of New York opus and little Freddie Bartholomew, as Claude, a child of gentle breeding, seeks to make a couple of worshiped older boys accept him as a member of their gang. . . .

Little "Limey's" desperate efforts to "belong" where he never really could belong, pull the heart right out of you!

His father and mother are divorced and he spends six months with each.

Mrs. Pierce is a wealthy woman who never lights anywhere. Mr. Pierce is a struggling architect. The breach between them has been caused by his pride, and refusal to live a life of idleness on her money and by her inability to comprehend or sympathize with his point of view.

He has a modest flat on New York's east side and the events that make up this story occur during Freddie's six months' stay with his dad.

In the end those two young muggs, Buck Murphy and Gig Stevens, discover that the English lad for all his pure diction and background of refinement has what it takes. But the pearly gates almost close on little "Limey" before he's able to put this fact across.

The picture is splendidly cast and was directed with power and simplicity by a man who knows folks and understands youngsters. Van Dyke is the name . . . as you know if you've glanced at the head of this column.

Jackie Cooper, who looks like a young longshoreman now, plays the gang leader in natural and believable fashion. Mickey Rooney, as his side kick, is equally good. Both boys demonstrate forcibly the effect of home influences on plastic adolescence. They certainly get under your hide in the episodes hinging on the execution of Gig's father!

Ian Hunter as Claude's understanding dad is a human sort of chap—the sort you feel you could always hang to and never get let down. Katharine Alexander was a perfect choice for the mother.

Peggy Conklin [poorly photographed—or made up—there was something awfully flat about her appearance!] is a bright and generous personality as Gig's Aunt Rose who, through Pierce's unobtrusive influence leaves Park avenue and a sugar daddy to become the sort of citizen a young boy's auntie should be. Other rôles are all splendidly handled—according special mention to Jonathan Hale as judge of the Court of Domestic Relations.

Speaking of judges—Judge Frank Bicek of the Juvenile court and Judge J. M. Braude of the Boys' court saw the picture in the B&K projection room at the same time I did. And, I imagine, found Judge Holmes' problems not unlike many of their own.

See you tomorrow.

Gable Makes Up Mind; No Beard in Parnell Role

Hollywood, Cal., Nov. 8.—(AP)—Clark Gable, the tall, dark, and handsome man of the movies, said today that a beard is about as romantic as yesterday's potatoes.

CLARK GABLE
as he would appear with a Parnell beard.

So he has refused to wear one in portraying the rôle of Charles Stewart Parnell, the Irish statesman, which is his next picture.

"No beard," the actor told the studio, tersely. "Women don't like 'em."

His director, John M. Stahl, has been pleading with Gable for more than a week to change his decision. Authenticity demands the chin whiskers.

"And besides," Stahl argued, "a lot of guys who were greater lovers than you are had beards.

"Look at Samson, for instance, and Don Juan."

Warming to his subject, Stahl produced historical records to show that Solomon, King Henry VIII., Sir Walter Raleigh, and Capt. John Smith were bearded men.

Gable merely replied that times changed, so on his own initiative the director took a poll of some of the actresses on the "lot." Their opinions were not very decisive, but Gable persisted in his "no."

Elman Again Proves Himself a Superb Artist

He's Sincere and Stately at Orchestra Hall.

BY EDWARD BARRY.

This is an attempt to squeeze into a few paragraphs an impression of a wunderkind of 1904, a precocious youth of 1908, as he appears now, a mature man of 45, at the very height of his powers. Excuse for the try is the Orchestra hall recital yesterday afternoon of Mischa Elman, whose superlative fiddling has held so many audiences breathless.

Mr. Elman is sincere, straightforward, without a trace of the charlatan in his makeup and with an evident hatred of the shabbier tricks of the trade. He plays calmly, allowing his music the place of honor, not forcing it to compete for attention with the contortions and grimaces of the player. He never even tries to look rapt, preferring to reveal the spiritual deeps of his own nature by means of the superior eloquence of his bow.

This, you may claim, is not news. It is simply a picture of the Elman of yore. Then there is nothing to say, either, about the Elman tone. Its roundness and ease are as apparent as ever. And its extra attraction is still the winning shimmer for which no directions appear in any instruction book.

His phrasing is stately, carrying the player's realization of the worthiness of the music. Those apologetic hurryings toward a climax have no part in his style. Neither has a patterned exactness of meter when a little waywardness will sweeten and humanize a sequence.

And if all of this sounds suspiciously similar to what others have been saying for twenty-five years, then I shall review Elman's next appearance here by simply clipping a notice from a 1912 paper.

The Jooss European ballet, ending a three performance stand at the Civic Opera house, presented last night "The Prodigal Son," a work never before seen in Chicago.

It is based on the Biblical story, but puts little emphasis on the fatted calf business and a great deal on the adventures on the road. Young Mr. Prodigal, it seems, had a much better time than any of us ever suspected. There were kingdoms to be ruled, a profusion of tractable beauties to be won.

The new ballet is a powerful piece of work. Its choreography has directness and strength, yet boasts a thousand subtleties. "The Prodigal Son" marks a definite advance in the struggle of this form of art to express complex emotional states without sacrificing sheer sensuous beauty. Ennui, fear, pride, wantonnes, love, revolt, innocence—all are represented in motion and grimace, with aid, of course, from music.

Matching the choreography itself in excellence was last night's polished performance of the new piece. Rudolph Pescht danced—or rather, lived—the leading part, with Ernst Uthoff tackling the difficulties of the mysterious companion. That was Kurt Jooss himself, leader and choreographer, concealed behind the whiskers of the prodigal's father. It was the first time he had ever appeared on a Chicago stage. Radiant Atty van den Berg mimed the young queen.

F. A. Cohen's music to "The Prodigal Son" is vigorous and bizarre. It seems ideal for the uses to which it is put, for the man's cleverness and sense of effect have produced a style which suggests standard musical practice seen in a strange focus, just as the modern realistic ballet represents real life interpreted from a new angle.

Both are attempts to strike below the obvious—what we would call the "real"—and exploit basic, as opposed to apparent, truth. There is no doubt but what the expressive power of music is profiting by such work. I mean that there is an increase in the number of ideas which can be made to lend themselves to musical expression. Or, more probably, to musical suggestion, for in most cases the aid of the eye is necessary if the impression is to be intelligible as a whole.

The Illinois Symphony orchestra, playing yesterday afternoon in the Great Northern theater, gave a large scale work by a resident composer its first performance anywhere. This was Robert S. Whitney's Symphony in E Minor. Even on first hearing, its sincerity and skill are apparent. Melodically, the second movement is excellent. It is hard to give an opinion of the first and third, much more complex, after a single experience with them.

Belle Tannenbaum, Chicago pianist, played the MacDowell A Minor Concerto in a manner that was poetic and assured at the same time. She, like Mr. Whitney and Conductor Izler Solomon, received a cordial tribute from the audience.

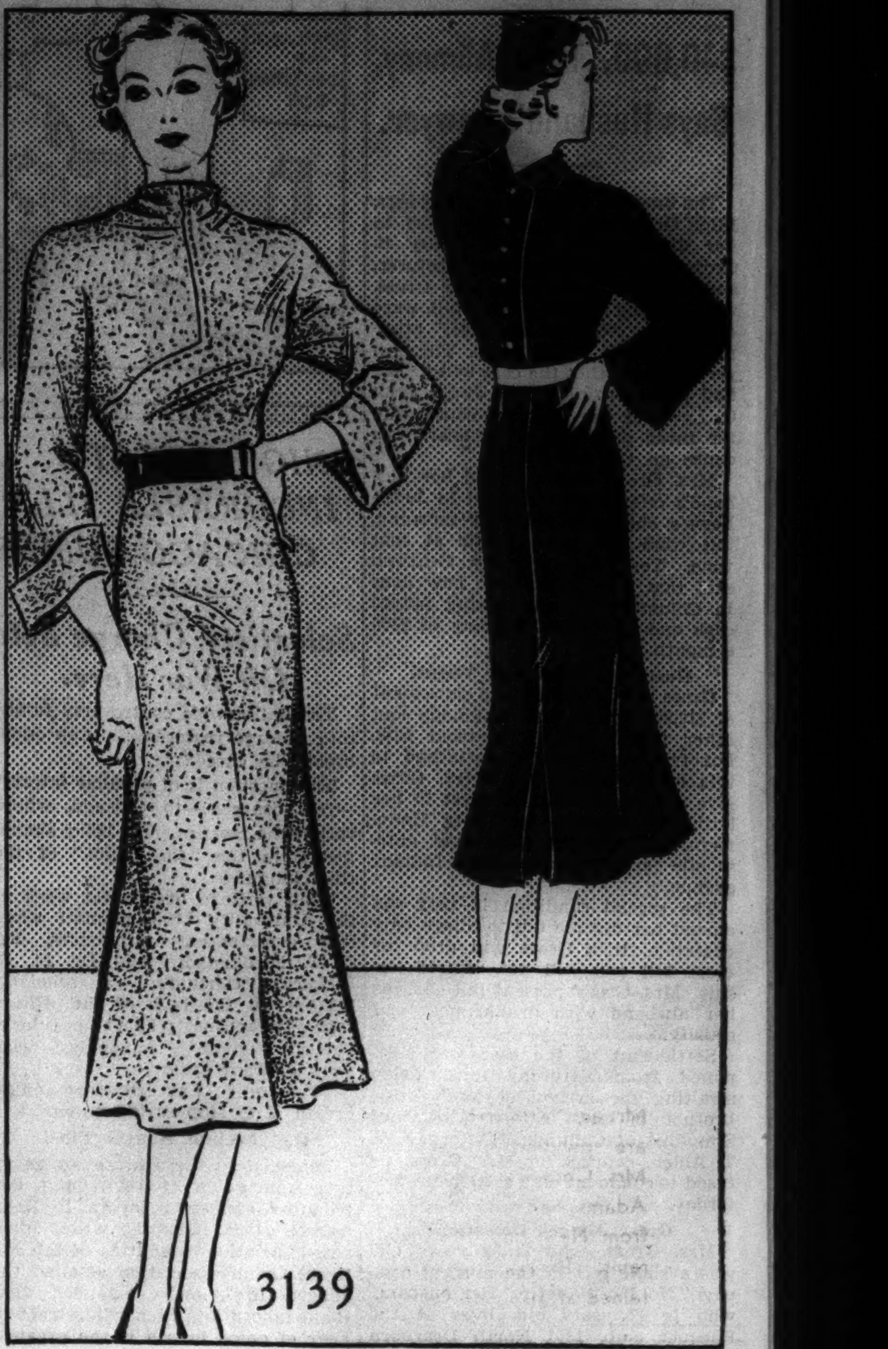
Style Interest in the Back



WOMAN'S AND MISS' FROCK.

It is seldom that one finds a frock which has just as much style interest in the back as it has in the front. Such, however, is the case with the model illustrated today. This dress is perfectly designed for all types of informal wear, and it lends itself equally well to woolens and fabrics lighter in weight. The neckline of this frock is high and draped in front and plain in black. The sleeves are the bell type and the entire front of the dress is styled to reveal a figure's pleasing curves.

Most of the interest is, however, definitly in the back. Buttons lend their share of glamor from the neckline to the waist, and a kick plait gives necessary fullness which is denied by the straight lines of the front skirt.

The original of this model is fashioned of gray-blue twill woolen. Velveteen is one of the currently popular fabrics which will make up well in this pattern. Crêpe silks, lustrous satin crêpe, satin-back crêpe, velvet and rayon novelty weaves also are pretty and suitable.

Style No. 3139 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, and 18 years, and 36, 38, and 40 inches bust measurement. Size 16 requires 3¾ yards of 39 inch material.

Former Miss Roby Visits

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Adams (Marjorie Janney Roby) are spending a week in Winnetka with her mother, Mrs. Cornelius Lynde, and Mr. Lynde. Mr. and Mrs. Adams had an adventuresome time motoring west from New York, for they ran into heavy snows and rains. They will be here a week and are being entertained at a round of informal parties during their visit.

Emeline Bush to Wed Dec. 14 at Birthplace

She and Frank T. O'Brien to Honeymoon in Italy.

BY JUDITH CASS.

It is unusual in Chicago for a girl to have lived all her life in one house, and perhaps that is one reason why Miss Emeline Bush has decided to forego a church wedding and to be married at home. Her wedding to Frank Thomas O'Brien will take place Monday, Dec. 14, in the living room of the home of her mother, Mrs. William H. Bush, in North State parkway.

That particular date was determined by sailing schedules. Mr. O'Brien and his fiancée have booked passage for Italy, and will spend their honeymoon there. They may possibly run across another newly married couple, Theodore Tieken and his bride, now Miss Betty Babson, who are sailing for Sicily after their wedding Dec. 3.

Only relatives will be present at Miss Bush's wedding to Mr. O'Brien. The service will be read at 4:30 o'clock, and there will be a large reception afterward. Miss Carol Bush will be her sister's only attendant, and Eugene O'Brien will be his brother's best man. Miss Bush and her fiancé are busy now hunting for an apartment on the near north side, where they will be at home after a month abroad.

Next Saturday's Brides to Be Busy this Week.

This week will be a busy one for next Saturday's several brides-to-be. Miss Jean Milsted and John J. Gallery Jr., whose engagement and wedding date were announced only last week, have decided to be married in the afternoon at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Thomas G. Milsted, in Winnetka. The wedding will be more or less a family affair, and a small reception will follow the ceremony.

Mrs. Milsted Smith will be her sister's only attendant, and Mr. Gallery will have his brother, Daniel Gallery of Glencoe, for his best man. There are parties every day this week for Mr. Gallery and his fiancée, including one tomorrow afternoon at which the newly-married Robert Biggerts [Beatrice Ripley Baker] will be hosts in Winnetka. Mr. and Mrs. Robert McDevitt will give a dinner tomorrow night in Winnetka. The junior John Y. Meloys started the entertaining last Saturday night at a large dinner party in their Lake Shore drive apartment.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Noyes are giving a dinner Wednesday night in their new Lake Forest home. The following night Mr. Gallery will give his bachelor dinner, and on the eve of the wedding Mr. and Mrs. James M. R. Glaser will give the bridal dinner at home in Glencoe. Mr. Gallery and his bride are going east on their honeymoon and will make their home temporarily in Winnetka when they return.

Party for Miss Bowen and Fiance Tonight.

Miss Frances Jeffery is giving a dinner party at home in town tonight for another of next Saturday's brides. Miss Gwendolyn Bowen and Jefferson D. Currier, will be married in the Church of the Holy Spirit, Lake Forest. Mr. and Mrs. Louis C. Seaverns will give a dinner tomorrow night for Miss Bowen and Miss Seaverns. Tomorrow noon Mrs. George Henry High, the bride's grandmother, will give a luncheon at the Casino. Mr. and Mrs. George A. Seaverns Jr. are giving a buffet supper Thursday night in Lake Forest, and on the next evening Mr. and Mrs. Joseph T.

Front Views and Profiles

The Seeing Eye.

THE slim, black haired, confident young man got out of the car and, his hand resting lightly on the harness of the German shepherd dog that accompanied him, stepped onto the pavement, passed through the doors of the Palmer house, went swiftly up the stairs, through the crowded lobby, and straight to the desk. He was Morris Frank, the blind apostle of The Seeing Eye near Morristown, N. J., and his dog was Buddy, the first scientifically trained dog to lead the blind in the United States. For eight years they have been comrade—Morris Frank and Buddy—since Frank had himself shipped to Switzerland by American Express to get Buddy from an experimental station there, and bring her back to help found The Seeing Eye in this country. They have traveled thousands of miles together, these two, spreading the news of this liberation for the blind, and sightless folk from all parts of America now go to Morristown for training and leave, a month later, independent, brisk, confident, with a Buddy of their own to take them through the world.

HOW can Buddy know where the hotel desk is? How can she know—and she always does—which is her master's luggage. How can she know enough to swing out to avoid low hanging objects that might strike her master's head? How is she able to negotiate trafic? Is she always responsible? These and other questions were put to Morris Frank by a small group gathered about him at the Casino club on a recent afternoon. And we fell silent with wonder and amazement at the things he had to tell—of helpless and hopeless blind made independent, freed from pity and become personalities of interest in their communities; of liberation, too, for the member of the family on whom the blind person had been dependent before he got his dog companion; of restored ability to earn a living or to pursue a college education. We heard about the school superintendent in Colorado, blinded in May, back on his job in September with a dog guide; of the justice of the peace elected to office after he came back from Morristown with a dog; of the blind minister and the faithful companion who takes him to and from the pulpit and who guides him to the homes of his parishioners; of factory workers and students given independence, and now identified, not as "that blind man," but, in admiring tones, as "that fellow with the dog."

IT was a comfort to animal lovers, too, to learn that a blind person must like dogs and treat them with affection before he can use one successfully as a guide; that an ill-treated dog will not work satisfactorily and therefore cannot be used. After all, what dog wants more out of life than to be close to the person he loves, to sleep by his side, and to walk abroad with him whenever he goes out. My own terriers, I am sure, would gladly suffer my dependence for the privilege of being permitted to go along every time I leave the house.

A DOZEN tales Mr. Frank told proved the efficiency of the dog guides and the extent of mental and economic independence they have brought their masters. The problem that remains is the raising of money, by memberships and endowments, to train more dogs and more trainers of dogs, so that more of the ten thousand blind in America who, it is estimated, could benefit from using dog guides might have them. There are about 200 now using them, and there is a long waiting list.

IT was time, now, for Mr. Frank to leave. As he rose to go, he dropped a coin he had been fingering and Buddy, waiting at his side, promptly retrieved it and put it into his hand.

"Once when a group who were at The Seeing Eye being trained to use their dogs got on the bus that takes them into the town for a workout in trafic, a coin was dropped and the dog of a Scotsman in the group snatched it up and gave it to his master," laughed the tall young man as he turned to go.

We watched Buddy guide him down the corridor, swinging out so that her master would not hit the terra cotta figure in the center of the passageway, pause at the slippery, twisting black stairs, and expertly take him down them to the street door. You never could have told his master was sightless from their progress. And you could not have felt pity for him, only interest and admiration.

The Stage

Gladys Cooper, famous English actress, and Philip Merivale, Anglo-American star, will begin an engagement at the Grand Opera house tonight in "Call It a Day," a comedy of family life in London. The production comes here under the auspices of the New York Theater Guild. This will be Miss Cooper's first appearance in Chicago.

A special matinée for the benefit of the Actors' Fund of America will be given next Thursday afternoon in the Erlanger theater by the "End of Summer" company, with Ina Claire and Osgood Perkins as stars.

Leslie Howard will make his New York début in the rôle of Hamlet tomorrow night at the Imperial theater. Other new plays of the current week on Broadway will be: "Black Limelight," dealing with a murder mystery; "Double Dummy," a farce comedy which has the game of bridge for atmosphere, and "Matrimony Preferred," a comedy adapted from the French, with Grace George as its star.

Plan Lady of Mt. Carmel Golden Jubilee Today

Mrs. Leo P. Cummings will give a tea this afternoon at the Woman's Athletic club for members of the committee planning the golden jubilee celebration of Our Lady of Mount Carmel parish, oldest parish in Lake View. A Thanksgiving eve party will be held at the Edgewater Beach hotel in celebration of the anniversary.

National Fur Week Is Feast of Big Values

There's Something to Fit Every Purse.

BY RHEA SEEGER.

The town's agog with values featured for National Fur week. Shrewd fur hunters are out to inspect all the special showings to get the best buys, see all the now-decided fashions, and to shop while all the collections are complete.

Everything from smart short fur coats for general wear and the appreciative younger set to glamorous evening wraps, the best the furriers can find are now on display.

Sports furs, inexpensively marked, are as high styled as the sleek afternoon sooty black broadtails or the rich golden minks. One shop shows you fabulously beautiful mink coats against a luscious flattering shade of salmon pink on the showroom walls. You'll never know how irresistible these stunning brown fur coats can be until you've seen them contrasted against this unusual color.

Mink coats are perhaps coveted by more shoppers than any other pelt, and Chicago furriers have a record breaking showing. Short coats, swaggers, and beautifully worked long, simple streamline affairs display the inimitable beauty of the skins.

Flared skirts are featured in the many black caraculs, the flat smooth fur that can be fashioned with this swanky dash and flare without sacrificing any slenderness.

Collars are perhaps the most reasonable ones found in years, they're small, snug, and the hazard of hat interference is thereby reduced to nothing. Fur coat sleeves are also restrained as to the shoulder fullness, and all of them are simple arrangements with snug cuffs.

Fashion photograph. . . . Sleek, distinctive black caracul fashions the flared dashing coat for general wear. A flared collar, sleeves that are moderately full and shaped to fit tightly along the wrist, a small waistline accented with a belt are the details that mark the high fashion fur coats of today. This particular model is available in a Chicago shop.

Shawn Dancers Score Hundreds of Touchdowns

BY CHARLES COLLINS.

Ted Shawn and his male dancers, forming nine-elevenths of what might easily be a dashing lightweight football team, appeared in a modern ballet recital in the Blackstone theater yesterday afternoon before an appreciative audience of Sabbath seekers of the fine arts along Michigan avenue. This team—let's call them the Shawnees—was in excellent condition for its two hours of vigorous, rhythmic exercise, and apparently it scored hundreds of touchdowns. At any rate, it often dashed its manly bodies upon the floor with great vigor.

The program was much the same as that of last year's appearance. It contained four sections, with twenty-seven separate titles, and in content it covered a wide field of subjects—primitive folklore, religious moods of dervishes, Franciscan monks, and American Negroes; Afro-Cuban impressions, modernistic poster themes, and the so-called "kinetic molpai," which are abstractions invented by Shawn to prove that the art of dancing is so deep that it cannot be explained.

The "molpai" section was composed of eleven little "molpe," bearing the following labels: Strife, oppositions, solvent, dynamic contrasts, resilience, succession, unfolding and folding, dirge, limbo, surge, apotheosis. In some of these passages the Shawnees were sad and flopped upon the stage as if ready to expire; in others they were gay and leaped through the air with the greatest of ease. The "patterns," as the ballet fans say, were ingenious, eccentric, and stimulating to the imagination. At times the movements suggested a college band, drilling to spell out some word which it had forgotten. The last episode contained some high jumping à la Russe which was loudly applauded.

"In its essence it is only the yerning of the whole dumb body to express that emotion for which words and harps and singing are not enough."

CARACUL
is first in flattery

CARACUL is the consummate flatterer. The matching of fine caracul is truly an art because no two pelts have the same markings. The working of caracul must be done by sympathetic hands because it is not a hardy fur. The skins must be sewn by hand and must be used in abundance. At Saks Fifth Avenue every phase of fur work is done by men long trained in the art of fur craftsmanship.

The Black Automatic

By William Byron Mowery

SYNOPSIS.

Inspector Noel Irving of the Canadian Mounted dynamites the hideout of Frank Rocco, master criminal, not knowing two women were with him. Noel is discharged, disgraced, while Rocco becomes a glorified legend. A young stranger, who calls himself Jimmy, calls on Noel and asks him to be his partner in a secret enterprise and to help him outwit an unknown gang who are pursuing him. While they are talking Jimmy is shot dead. Noel sets out to clear his name and avenge Jimmy's murder. Noel flies to Fort McMurray in a plane which was Jimmy's. He learns Jimmy's headquarters were at Manitou. Noel meets Harla De Long, a research worker for the Indian bureau, and Jimmy's sister. He reluctantly agrees to fly her to Manitou. Harla recognizes the plane as Jimmy's and grows suspicious of Noel. Noel fears that Harla would be endangered if he told her the truth. On the trip they are attacked and forced down by a mysterious plane. They are picked up by a river steamer bound for Manitou. On board is Raphael Flood, whose advances Harla resents, and whom Noel suspects to be the gang's leader. In Manitou Noel sees Harla go into his cabin with a gun. She takes aim at the cot where she thinks he is sleeping, but is unable to fire. Noel is forced to tell her the truth. Tah-Gomaugh brings word of an outbreak of smallpox in a remote Indian village. Noel and Harla fly there with aid. The Indian preserve is forbidden to prospectors. Noel realizes Jimmy discovered gold on the forbidden territory and that Flood killed Jimmy to get the gold himself. Flood abducts Harla. Noel finds Flood's camp at the gold placer, where Harla is imprisoned. He manages to free her and get possession of Flood's machine gun. He has reason to believe that Flood is Rocco, whom Noel is supposed to have killed. He intends to capture him alive if possible. Harla refuses to leave Noel to fight it out alone.

INSTALMENT XLIII.
EVIL LAUGHTER.

After carefully inspecting the Vickers and planting rocks against the tripod, Noel crept over beside Harla. With her rifle thrust through a chink she was lying flat behind a bowlder, watching the camp below.

"Cold?" he asked.

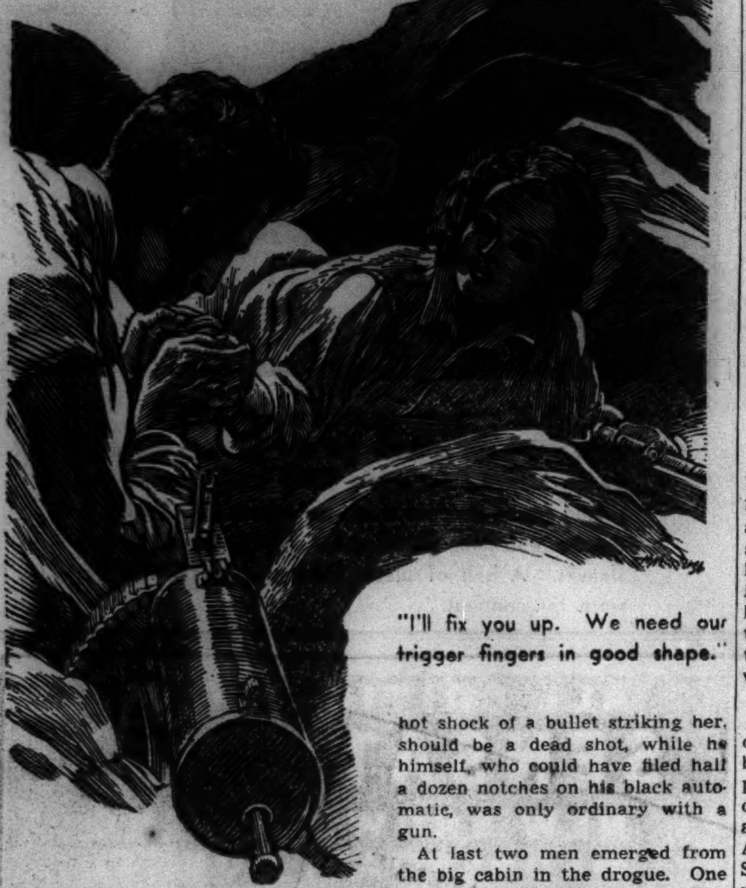
"My hands are, a little bit. I wish I had pockets, like you. These granite rocks are like ice."

"I'll fix you up. We need our trigger fingers in good shape." He took her right hand, cupped it in his and blew on it. "That help any?"

"A lot—thanks."

He felt her hand trembling and saw that she was badly frightened. For all her wild Indian girlhood and tomboyish experiences she was a gentle girl at heart; and this life-and-death battle looming up had awed and shaken her.

He hoped she would not go to pieces when the fight broke open. If she shot with her usual deadliness she would be of tremendous help. Strange that she, who had never heard the zz-ing of a bullet meant to kill or felt the hot shock of a bullet striking her, should be a dead shot, while he himself, who could have filed half a dozen notches on his black automatic, was only ordinary with a gun.



"I'll fix you up. We need our trigger fingers in good shape."

At last two men emerged from the big cabin in the drogue. One was young Paul d'Orleans. The other was a thin, smallish white man of forty-five, who had been one of the contestants at the McMurray rifle match.

"Who is that older man, Harla?"

"The others call him Jed. He's Flood's lieutenant. He and Paul are our two bad ones, Noel. They're both extraordinary shots. If your plan doesn't work and we have to fight, we ought to get them first.

Young d'Orleans came back and started to cook breakfast. As he worked he kept talking, joking; and some remark from him made his companion laugh. At that laugh Noel stiffened and his face went hard. He had heard that evil laugh before—out of the mist and moonlight of a Winnipeg night. It resurrected a memory, vivid as a lightning flash, of Jimmy clutching at his breast and sinking to the floor. Wantonly this man had laughed then, in confidence that he and his shadowy confederates could never be trailed and made to pay.

"Harla"—he touched her arm—"for certain reasons I want you to get that man there. We may never walk out of this valley alive, but neither must he!"

After ladling the food into tin plates young d'Orleans picked up a stick of wood and sent it whanging against the door of the big cabin.

"You, in dere!" he yelled. "Pile out of dem pokes, you lazy sons of a blue bull-mink. How you speck to tom-rock yourself a t'ousan' dollar wort' of dust today if you poun' de ear till noon?"

The rest of the men came outside, sleepy-eyed, pulling on their shirts and jackets as they came; and Noel had his first look at Flood's formidable outfit.

Ranging all the way from city whites to that dusky Yellowknife, they were a queer assortment of men to be running in the same pack. Only Flood's genius at gang leadership could have welded them into a tight, smooth-working group. Each in his own fashion, they were outstanding individuals, picked for some special quality. Besides the man called Jed, and young d'Orleans, who was hunter and guide, and the Yellowknife, who was tracker and bush-scout for the party, there were two Nahanni half-breeds, and three whites, and Flood himself.

Of those white men one was a shaggy-haired northern prospector, exuberant of spirit, like Paul d'Orleans. He evidently was boss of the placer workings; and those two huge Nahannis, as big and lumbersome as bears, were his chief helpers.

The other two whites looked to Noel like products of a city alley. One was the pilot whom he had seen at Manitou. The other was Flood's machine gunner.

After nodding good-morning to his men and telling them to "hit that placer hard today," Flood beckoned the pilot aside and talked with him alone, evidently making arrangements to fly Harla away from there.

Noel looked at Harla and saw her fingers tighten on the rifle barrel as she gazed down at Flood; and he was afraid that in the passion of a hot battle she would forget her solemn promise and drive a bullet at the man.

After his talk with the pilot Flood started for Jimmy's place; and as he neared it he said to the Yellowknife sentry, who was still guarding the empty cabin:

"Thanks for watching here, Stahmix. Go and get your breakfast. I want you to slip down the Dinokui river today and keep an eye on that Shagalasha detail, and find out, if you can, whether this Lanier man is under arrest."

He strode on to the cabin and knocked.

Noel motioned down at the camp. "Lord, what a layout, Harla—what a perfect layout for us, if we wanted to take it! There they were, all those men, close around that breakfast fire and wide open to the Vickers. He could get them all, the whole pack, with one long burst; and Flood, thirty yards from them, was entirely out of the danger zone. In his hands lay a chance such as he had never remotely dreamed of when he broke arrest and started up the Dinokui alone. Within the space of twenty seconds he could destroy that entire outfit and take Flood alive and avoid all danger of a battle in which Harla might get killed.

He turned toward the Vickers, to seize his fine chance before it passed. But Harla stopped him.

"Noel, don't! Don't make a shambles of that breakfast fire. It'd be too much like murder. Give them a chance to take your terms, Noel. If they turn you down and start the fight themselves then we won't have any blood guilt on our hands."

At the little cabin Flood knocked twice; and when he got no answer he opened the door an inch and peered inside. With a startled oath he flung the door wide and stepped upon the threshold.

For moments he stood there, stock-still, a picture of dumfounded surprise, staring at his sleeping-poke on the floor, at the bunk, the slashed-out window.

With no great effort Noel could imagine the man's thoughts. That empty cabin was a double-barreled disaster to Flood. He had lost not only Harla but the placer, too, for if Harla escaped down the river to the mounted detail and told them about him he would have to abandon his rich prize and clear out of the north altogether.

Flood whirled around, presently, and looked at the campfire, at the Indian to whom he had intrusted the guarding of that cabin; and his fists clenched and unclenched as he glared at him.

"Entertaining with Cheese," a booklet of novel cheese dishes, is on sale at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower, for 2 cents. By mail, 3 cents, stamps or coin. Address mail requests to Mary Meade, Chicago Tribune.

BY MARY MEADE.

Xantippe, the wife of the ancient teacher Socrates, was a mean, spiteful woman. Not only did she fail to appreciate her learned husband but she actually took pains to torment him. One of her favorite obnoxious little pastimes was to snatch away his dearly loved cheese cakes, brought to him by admirers, dash them to the ground and stamp upon them with her feet!

It is not known just which cheese cakes caused the old philosopher the bitterest pangs as he saw them trampled in the dust, but modern cheese cake lovers think it must have been a relative of this cream cheese cake. And they sigh in sympathy for poor Socrates as they nibble the delicate morsels.

Cream Cheese Cake.

1 package zwieback
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons sugar
1 cup sugar
2 tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon salt
5½ 3-ounce cakes cream cheese
1 teaspoon vanilla
4 eggs
1 cup cream

Roll the zwieback into crums, add the butter and 2 tablespoons sugar, which have been creamed together. Blend thoroughly and press over the bottom of a 9 inch spring form mold. Mix the cup of sugar with flour and salt, and cream thoroughly with the cheese. Add vanilla and egg yolks and beat well. Add the cream and mix again. Fold in the beaten egg whites, pour the mixture over the crums in the mold, and bake in a moderate oven [350 degrees] for about an hour, or until the center of the cake is set.

Coffee and cheese cake at midafternoon or at midnight are the ideal refreshment. Then there also is this cream cheese pie with currants and nuts, which is a dessert worth campaigning for.

Cream Cheese Pie.

3 3-ounce packages cream cheese
¼ cup sugar
⅛ cup salt
3 eggs
½ cup cream
½ cup currants
¼ cup chopped pecans
Pastry

Blend the cream cheese, sugar, and salt. Beat one whole egg and the yolks of the other two and add them to the cheese. Mix well. Add the cream, currants, and pecans and mix again. Fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour the mixture into an unbaked pastry shell. Bake for ten minutes in a hot oven [450 degrees] and reduce the heat to low moderate [325 degrees] until the filling has set.

Incidentally this is "national cheese week," so serving cheese cake or cheese pie tomorrow, the next day, or the next would be quite appropriate.

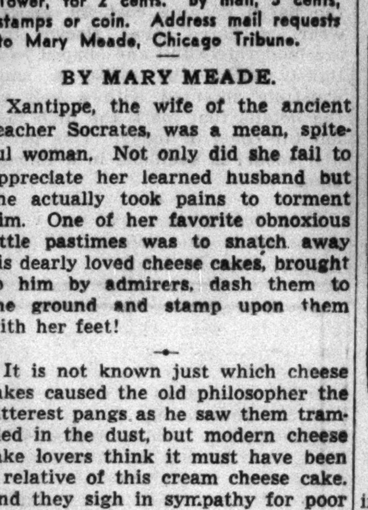
"Cut Glass Dish" Among Oldest of the Pieced Quilts

Patterns of this design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices: 1 South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.



Cut Glass Dish.

BY NANCY CABOT.

One of the oldest pieced patterns in the history of quilts is the "Cut Glass Dish." The many facets of the cut glass dish are easily visible in a quilt composed entirely of pieced blocks. The favorite color combination selected by most quilt makers has been red and white. Present day enthusiasts may select any arrangement of colors and obtain a gay and beautiful coverlet composed of sixty-three pieced blocks and measuring 84 by 108 inches when completed.

Bowen Jr., parents of the bride, will give the bridal dinner at the Mill Creek Hunt club.

Miss Betty Durham, whose marriage to Henry Varnum Poor, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry V. Poor of New York, will take place next Saturday, is returning today from New York with her mother, Mrs. Raymond E. Durham. They have been in the east since Miss Durham's engagement was announced early last week, selecting an apartment in New York where Mr. Poor will take his bride to make their home. The wedding will take place in the afternoon at Christ church, Winnetka, and Mr. and Mrs. Durham will give a small reception afterward in their Hubbard Woods home.

Gather Varied Articles for Eli Bates Sale.

The Winnetka board of the Eli Bates shop is providing new and exciting merchandise for its annual fall Winnetka sale to be held next Thursday in the home of Mrs. Morris Karl Wilson at 429 Sheridan road. The beautiful tea gown exhibited in the recent St. Luke's fashion show has proved so popular that it will be shown again Thursday so that more orders may be taken for it. The board also will show inexpensive Christmas gifts and some grand shoe boxes with places for all sorts of polishes, brushes, sponges and bags, and some new millinery boxes, just the right gift for a very young lady who wants to make a hat for her doll. The board has not forgotten boys, either, for there will be exhibited some splendid work aprons to save young men's clothes.

Mrs. William B. Hale, Mrs. James L. Houghteling, Mrs. Donald F. McPherson, and Mrs. Henry A. Gardner are giving luncheons that day and taking their guests on to Mrs. Wilson's.

Miss Annie Warren Mason, Mrs. Charles H. G. Kimball, Mrs. Henry Brigham, Miss Jane McWhinney, Miss Nathalie Starr, Miss Elizabeth Griffenhagen, and Miss Elizabeth Taylor will act as flower girls tonight at a Russian fair sponsored by the Evanston North Shore Smith club at Orchestra hall. The Kedroff vocal quartet and Ruth Page and Bentley Stone, dancers, are on the program.

The Women's Symphony associates will give a tea for Mme. Gertrud Wettergren, Swedish contralto, today from 4 until 6 o'clock at the House on the Roof at Hotel Sherman. Mme. Wettergren will sing tomorrow night at the Women's Symphony orchestra's opening concert at the Auditorium theater.

The Renaissance Society of the University of Chicago will give a tea today from 4 to 6 o'clock in Wieboldt commons for Richard Guy Walton, whose paintings, water colors, and drawings will be exhibited in the society's galleries, beginning today.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

One of the great beauty specialists has worked out a pretty practical idea for women who insist that their makeup be specially suited to their costume color. In small boxes not more than six by five inches in size she has assembled aids to be worn with various colors. Each box is made in the color of the costume with which the makeup is to be worn.

We could wish that the price of these boxes weren't quite so high, but it isn't exorbitant. Each box contains a perfect army of makeup aids that, bought separately, would cost even more—and in addition you have the benefit of having those makeup aids keyed to your costume color by an expert. It's really a good way to eliminate the hit or miss pitfalls.

Each makeup harmony box contains powder foundation, lipstick, rouge, eye shadows, mascara, eyebrow pencil and nail enamel, each item keyed to harmonize with a certain costume color.

The colors for which these makeup aids have been assembled are, for daytime, yellow, green, brown, red, steel blue, black with beige, black or black and white, black with sunburst, emerald green, gray, and tweed. And for evening coronation red, rajah purple with chartreuse, amarillo, which is another name for a rich yellow, and pastels.

You'll find them in several Chicago shops.

A Pistol Is a Fatal Weapon in Child's Hand

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

They were both about 9 and playing with pistols.

"Stick 'em up!" said one.

"Say, lemme see that gun. Hand it over. That's the swellest cap pistol I ever saw," said the other.

"It looks real. Stick 'em up yourself!" he commanded, and pulled the trigger and suddenly, horror stricken, saw the other boy double over and fall. At present writing, the child who was shot has entirely recovered.

Another story starts with a birthday party, and also has to do with 9 year olds.

The children had looked at all the presents, among which were pistols, much admired.

"My father has a real gun," said the young host.

"He has?" exclaimed the giver of the most villainous looking of the cap pistols. "Where does he keep it?"

"Oh, over there in the closet,'" said the birthday child and turned away. A minute later his friend stood in front of him with the shotgun in his hands.

"How does it work, Bill? Show me. Is it like this?" He shifted the gun as he pulled the trigger, and the little boy whose party it was did not live to see the candles lighted on his cake.

What are people thinking of who have guns lying around, even within reach of a child? I simply cannot imagine. Yet again and again we read and hear of boys, anywhere from 8 to 18 having easy access to firearms. A gun is a dangerous weapon, and even in cautious and experienced hands often leads to mischief.

Just read the stories of shootings in the papers. Many of the tragedies would never have happened if revolvers or shotguns hadn't happened to be in the house, or within easy reach.

A moment of adult anger so violent that the desire to kill blurs sanity is not so rare a thing as might be supposed, even among everyday people. If no weapon is at hand, these moments pass without the irrevocable act being committed. But if a gun is there, it suggests it own use. For the same reason—because a weapon is at hand—a tragedy may occur because two boys or a youth and a girl have quarreled, or because children are indulging is gangster or G-men warfare.

A gun has no place around a house. If you hunt or believe in owning firearms, lock them up where no child possibly can get at them. And remember that even if you are willing to take a chance with your own children, it's usually the other's child who is shot.

News of the Radio Stations

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

A letter came the other day from the agency representing the sponsors of the CBS Radio theater asking if we considered it better entertainment than six months ago [when it moved to Hollywood]. The answer is an emphatic No!

We have been very patient with Cecil B. De Mille's continuous whooping it up for "The Plainsman," the epic he lately has been filming; the antics of the glamorous heroes and ladies of Hollywood; the revelations of dancing masters, wardrobe experts, and makeup artists, not to mention the insistent and persistent dwelling on the diverse marvels of Hollywood in general. We have suffered through Marlene Dietrich's singing [?] without a whimper. But it was with the hope that ultimately the sponsors and producers would put an end to this exhibitionism and get back to the first principles of good acting. There seem to be few folks in Hollywood who are capable of projecting their art over the airways, fewer still who will give it a serious try. Hollywood's famous register better visually than by sound, we fear.

The program was distinguished when it emanated from New York, using the best actors in radio and from Broadway. We don't really begrudge Hollywood this chance to show off for a summer. But, after all, it's getting on toward winter now. Couldn't you, Mr. Sponsor, get the show out of Hollywood by Christmas?

The war in Spain is causing Xavier Cugat, NBC orchestra leader playing at the Stevens hotel, considerable anxiety. His mother, father, and sister, residing in La Bispal, about a two hours' ride from Barcelona, have been the cause of many a cabled inquiry from America by Cugat and his brothers in New York. To date they have always been assured they were still safe. A few days ago Cugat learned that seven sons of a friend had all been killed. Now Cugat's brother, Francis, a portrait artist of New York, is undertaking a trip to the French-Spanish border region with the view of getting the family out of the country if it is possible.

Gene Morgan, NBC actor, and his wife, the former Delores De Costa, also are watching all dispatches closely. Her father, José P. De Costa, is a Spanish sea captain who has been mentioned in several reports from the war-torn country. Her family lives in Barcelona.

This Season's Belts Demand Slender Waist

Adviser Tells How Girth May Be Diminished.

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Those who can't flaunt a clever looking belt this season are out of luck. The belt construction, contrasting color, and its general beauty make a good many of the season's best frocks. You see that from a study of any good shop window. The belts are grand this year. BUT—

The fancy belt, beautiful as it may be, isn't going to do a thing for either frock or woman if there isn't a neat, trim waistline around which to wind it. It's no end discouraging for numbers of women to have the smart looking belt thrown in with the dress or coat, and then have to discard it for fear it is going to make one look like the proverbial sack badly tied in the middle.

Now, a waistline is one part of the anatomy that may be remodeled with comparatively little difficulty. You can take inches off of it if you are determined to do so. I could present a few exhibits that recently have done this very thing. One proudly boasts of a four inch waist shrinkage. Another of a three. A third, met the other day, proudly slips her hand in behind her skirt band to show the shrinkage process is under way. One of these women has done her waist remodeling with an all-over reduction. The second with the three inch loss has done it largely with exercise, with a sane eye on what she eats. The last one signed up with an evening gym class about a month ago and the loose skirt belt proves that she's getting her waist where she wants it to go.

It isn't too late to begin the waist whittling. You can use the trim one at any season of the year, and there is something pretty alluring about a figure that curves in at the waist any year, any season. The corset helps, of course, but if there are wads of fat, or spare tires around the waistline, the corset that gives an indented waistline is bound to shove the fat up to make great bulges and a thicker, crowded bustline.

If the waistline is distorted out of proportion with fat, the only sane thing to do is to get the fat off and let the good corset do its most beautiful work outside of that. There's a gorgeous sense of freedom when the waistline is free of fat. Tomorrow I'll give you a few exercises for that crowded waistline. It's a terribly important point in this year's good clothes.

BY GEORGE STRICKLER.

A 44 yard march through the mud and George Grosvenor's 88 yard return of a punt led the Cardinals out of the National league cellar yesterday with a 13 to 0 triumph over the Philadelphia Eagles.

It was the Chicagoans' first victory of the season, following seven consecutive defeats and was accomplished in workmanlike fashion before an enthusiastic little audience of 1,500 paying clients.

Grosvenor scored both touchdowns, going over from the four yard line in the first quarter and turning in the longest punt return of the season in the third period for the second marker. This was an 88 yard sprint through the entire Philadelphia team behind superb interference.

Smukler Shows Punch.

Despite Grosvenor's scintillating performance, the outstanding exhibition of the game, contested on a gridiron flecked with puddles and ankle deep in mud, was turned in by Dave Smukler, the tempermental Jewish line smasher, whom the Eagles had disciplined earlier in the week for going bolshevik.

Smukler hurled his 225 pounds at the Cardinal line for more than three quarters, ripping open large holes and racing around end. Playing for the first time in Chicago and striving to regain the good will of his teammates, he established his right to a place among the outstanding players of the league.

The Cardinals, with full strength for the first time this season, played steady, sound football, particularly on defense, where Versil Deskin and Billy Wilson, ends, Mike Mikulak, full back, and Tony Blazine, tackle, piled up the Eagle interference.

The defeat dropped the Eagles into the National league cellar. An opening day victory over the New York Giants enables them to match the Cardinals in the win column, but they have lost one more game.

Cardinals Score Early.

For the first time in five games, four of which were defeats, the Cardinals were outgained. With Smukler making 87 yards in 22 attempts the Eagles advanced the ball 143 yards to the Cardinals' 116. They attempted 13 passes, had five intercepted and completed only one for a one yard gain. The Cardinals' only attempted pass was intercepted. Hanson and Frey of the Eagles outkicked Grosvenor and Vaughn, 37.8 yards to 33.4 on the average, and the Eagles made 10 first downs to four, although the Cardinals held the upper hand throughout.

After a few minutes of profitless sparring, both clubs made surprising headway in the morass and puddles. After the Eagles had put together two first downs in a march of 30 yards that ended with Tipton blocking Smukler's place kick from the 39 yard line, the Cardinals marched 44 yards to their first touchdown.

Grosvenor made a fair catch of Hanson's punt. On the first play he cut inside of Art Buss, former Bear, at left tackle for eight yards. Dowell carried the ball through the same hole, veered over to the side lines and went 29 yards to Philadelphia's 15 yard line, where he was knocked out of bounds by Hanson.

Eagles Start March.

Grosvenor added a yard at the Eagles' right tackle, then Nichelini swung around Right End Pilconis for five yards before being bumped out of bounds by Reese. Grosvenor made it first down on the Eagles' four yard line with two smashes at Buss and Manske. Dowell failed at center, then Grosvenor slipped inside Buss for a touchdown. Kellogg's attempted place kick for extra point was partially blocked and went wide.

The Eagles began a march again in the last of the first quarter, putting together 3 first downs for 36 yards with Smukler and Thomason carry-

COLLEGES SPLIT ON PLAN TO BAR AID FOR ATHLETES

Charlotte, N. C., Nov. 8.—(AP)—Battle lines began forming today for a finish fight within the Southern Collegiate conference over the year old Graham plan for control of athletics and scholarships, subject of considerable controversy in the current football season.

The conference president, Forest Fletcher, announced in Richmond that he would recommend complete abolition of the plan at the annual meeting next month. Dean R. B. House of the University of North Carolina countered with the statement that North Carolina anticipates no recession in its attitude favoring the plan.

North Carolina, like its Raleigh branch, North Carolina State, is headed by Dr. Frank Graham, the plan's sponsor.

Chief controversy over the plan lies in its provision concerning scholarships. This stipulates that athletes are barred from scholarships not open to general competition.

Bars Alumni Aid.

In addition to its scholarship requirements, the plan bars alumni financial aid to athletes and various forms of "recruiting" prospective athletes, particularly football players. It also lays down regulations covering other practices which have caused nation-wide argument about the commercialization of football on gridirons from coast to coast.

Several other athletic or student heads in conference schools voiced their sympathy with President Fletcher's opposition to the plan. Fletcher, who is faculty director of athletics at Washington and Lee, charged that not one of the sixteen conference members has adhered to the spirit of the rules, although no technical violations have been brought to light.

Unfair to Athletes.

William H. Harth, athletic director of South Carolina, joined up for the repeal Fletcher advocated, asserting the scholarship stipulations were unfair in respect to athletes. The plan, he said, virtually precludes any form of scholarship aid for athletes. He explained that although football players are hampered by training sessions and enforced absences they must compete with students concentrating on winning scholarships.

Wallace Wade, director of athletics at Duke university, and coach of the football team which seems headed for its second straight conference championship, was active in opposition to the plan when it was originally proposed. Jess Neely, coach and athletic director at Clemson, said he would not have a single seasoned player this fall if the plan were enforced.

N. U. Is Big 10 Champion and Those 'Ifs' Won't Help Gophers

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Northwestern, with five conference victories and without consideration for the outcome of the game at Michigan Saturday, is the Big Ten football champion. The Wildcats are champions, but the northwest still thinks Minnesota has the greatest football team in the nation.

The 52 to 0 parade of power against Iowa, which the Golden Gophers staged for 63,200 homecoming fans, is splendid argument for Minnesota superiority. But Minnesota fans can't forget the defeat by Northwestern. Nor does argument about the penalty for unnecessary roughness, which Referee John Getchell called on Ed Widseth, and which gave Northwestern the ball on the Gophers' one yard line, carry weight.

But Gophers Fail to Score.

Presume that Northwestern didn't score a touchdown. Presume that Don Geyer didn't kick a field goal after Alfonse's fumble, as he might have done. Minnesota failed to score against Northwestern and a scoreless tie [provided the Wildcats whip Michigan] still would cost Minnesota a Big Ten title.

Minnesota was a tremendously powerful team against Iowa. The Gophers Saturday played as brilliantly as any Minnesota team ever played. But Minnesota didn't play that way against Northwestern. Pittsburgh, Princeton, and now Southern California also have learned the same lesson.

Most remarkable fact about the Minnesota-Iowa rout was that the Gophers used only straight smashes. Only one lateral was thrown. This was after completion of a pass and didn't lead to a touchdown. There were no reverses, no spinners, no fakes. It was power that riddled the Hawkeye line and simple forward passes which confused the Iowa secondary.

Emphasizes Line Play.

No better example has been offered this year, unless it was Pittsburgh's victory over Notre Dame, of the absolute importance of fundamental line play. Behind the Minnesota line, all ball carriers ran like all-Americans. Behind that same line, Ozzie Simmons of Iowa, today would be hailed as the greatest runner of the year.

Simmons never has had a chance to develop and his best offensive game of football still is the game against Northwestern in his sophomore year. Simmons, a runner, who can't kick and whose passes are too hard to catch, must have blockers. Iowa would block if it could, but Saturday blocking the Gopher players was like hitting a wall. The Hawkeyes tried desperately. They were completely outclassed.

Chicago in Same Situation.

Chicago was in much the same situation at Ohio State although the Buckeyes didn't put on such a tremendous show of power in running over the Maroons, 44 to 0. And there is no immediate prospect that Iowa or Chicago will be able to meet Minnesota and Ohio State on even terms in the next few years.

Northwestern's conference championship is a remarkable achievement because the Wildcats have played to the maximum of ability in nearly every game. They were an outside choice at the start. Team spirit has been important and the coaches deserve credit for fostering and encouraging that spirit. No greater tribute to Coach Lynn Waldorf and his assistants can be given than that their players, almost by sheer determination, now have presented Northwestern with two great achievements: A victory over Notre Dame last fall and now an undisputed Big Ten title.

Incidentally the Wildcats have now played ten games without being defeated.

Syracuse, badly beaten in the east, seriously threatened Indiana Saturday, but the Hoosiers finally came through with a field goal for a 9 to 7 victory. Michigan lost to Pennsylvania, 27 to 7, as was anticipated.

Fordham Checks St. Mary's.

Fordham's line, which has held Pittsburgh to a scoreless tie, kept St. Mary's from crossing its goal line, also checked Purdue's attack. The Boilermakers' errors contributed largely to the size of the score, 15 to 0. Purdue, however, still will have a fine record for the year if it can de-

Referee—W. T. Halloran [Providence]. Umpire—E. F. Hughitt [Michigan]. Linesman—Dr. B. A. O'Hara [Boston]. Field judge—Bill Shupert [Brown].

Substitutions: Green Bay—Hutson for Becker, Seibold for Schwammell, Keisling for Evans, Gordon for Engebretsen, Miller for Monnett, Herber for Blood, Sauer for Bruder. Boston—Tosi for Malone, Seimering for Bausch, Carroll for Barber, Busich for Millner, Rentner for Britt, Weisenbaugh for Battles, Musick for Rentner.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 8.—[Special.]—The famed passing combination of Arnie Herber to Don Hutson brought the Green Bay Packers a 7 to 3 victory over the Boston Redskins in a National league football game before 10,000 in Fenway park this afternoon.

Badly out rushed and trailing for two-thirds of the game, the Packers put over the winning touchdown on a 22 yard pass from Herber to Hutson in the middle of the third period. The play climaxed a passing drive of 60 yards. Ernie Smith added the extra point with a place kick.

Riley Smith Kicks Field Goal.

The Boston score came early in the first period. Runs by Cliff Battles and Eddie Britt carried the ball from midfield to the Green Bay 10 yard stripe, where the Packers braced and Riley Smith place kicked a field goal from the 15 yard line.

Boston checked the Green Bay attack in its own territory throughout the first half and in addition to the drive which netted the field goal, later drove 60 yards before losing the ball on downs at the Green Bay 12 yard line.

Passes turned the tide of battle in the second half, however, as Clark Hinkle and Ernie Smith twice missed field goals after Packer drives into Redskin territory. The Packers were on the Boston 10 yard line when the game ended.

Boston piled up 11 first downs to 7 for the Packers, all of the Green Bay first downs being made on passes. The Redskins outrushed Green Bay, 114 yards to 18. Passing presented a different picture, however, as Green Bay completed 14 out of 29 aerials for 200 yards. Boston clicked on six of 21 passing attempts for 98 yards.

Packers Recover Fumble.

Green Bay kicked off, but could not capitalize its recovery of Malone's fumble on the Boston 28 yard line. The Redskins drove them back for three plays and took the ball on downs on their 46 yard stripe. A few minutes later Boston got the ball on Green Bay's 47 yard line when Millner partly blocked Herber's punt and Britt ran it back 10 yards.

The Redskins then launched a sustained offensive, which resulted in their field goal. With Battles supplying runs of [illegible] and 15 yards around the Green Bay ends, Boston advanced to the Green Bay 10 yard line. On fourth down with four yards to go, Riley Smith, stepped back to the 15 yard line directly in the center of the gridiron and place kicked a field goal.

Passes Fail to Click.

Though Green Bay sent Herber back to pass frequently, the Herber-Hutson combination could not connect on any long passes and the first period ended with the ball in midfield.

As the second period opened, Boston started another drive from its own 28 yard line after receiving a punt. Britt and Pinckert pounded out one first down and Britt completed a pass to Malone for another

Six Day Bike Race Opens at Stadium; Ignat and Diot Lead

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Messieurs Ignat and Diot, a couple of gay but sturdy looking Latins from Paree, took the lead in the six day bike race which began at Chicago Stadium last night. At the beginning of the first sprints, at 11 o'clock, the two Frenchmen, both of whom have the front name, Emile, were tied with Alvaro Georgetti and Tino Reboli, but they got busy in the sprints, and when Diot won three out of the first four heats, it was accepted as notice that the team is in shape to do a sight of pedaling during the sleepless week.

The activity in the sprints gave the Emiles a technical lead on points which was not conclusive. The way in which the newcomers conducted themselves on the track was watched with interest by the trainers, especially the handlers of Gustav Kilian and Heinz Vopel of Germany, favorites to finish in front next Saturday midnight.

14,000 See Race.

Through the strange mathematics of six day bike racing, the most interesting phase of the first night's rolling did not show up in the standings. The dueling of Torchy Peden and Jules Audy, former Canadian inseparables, now split up in their cycling endeavors and in their friendship as well, brought the loudest cheering of the night from the 14,000 first nighters, though neither the team of Peden-Peden nor Audy-Letourner led during the first evening's work.

Jamming Starts Early.

The race got under way at 9 o'clock when Leon Errol, a comedian, fired the starting gun. The artists, excused from the old practice of going into the first series of sprints immediately with the start of the race, rewarded the bugs with a lot of jamming, which is much more exciting to the initiated bike nut than are the formal sprints.

There was only one spill in the first fifty miles of the race, and that lone tumble was taken by Kilian before he had made his first official turn of the track. Kilian, who with Vopel, has won his last nine six day races, including the last two here, was not injured in the spill, though he took a hard flop when his front wheel collapsed as he hit the east bank of the track immediately after the start.

Frenchmen Take Lead.

The Rodman-Yates team started the first jam of the race at 9:08 and was the first to gain a lap. They gained another lap later on and were leading in the race at the end of the first half hour.

At the end of the first hour, the French team of Emile Ignat and Emile Diot, newcomers to Chicago six day bike racing, were leading. Georgetti-Reboli were second, Rodman-Yates, third, and Wissel-Winter were fourth.

Results of the 1 a. m. sprints:
1—O'Brien, Malatesta, Diot, Thomas.
2—D. Peden, De Baets, Rodman, Cohen.

New York, Nov. 8.—[Special.]—Th Chicago Bears skidded to a 25 to victory over the New York Gian on the Polo grounds today while crowd of 34,789 braved rain and chi to watch a game of football playe under the most adverse conditions imaginable.

The Bears stepped off to an early 1 to 7 lead before the rain turned th gridiron into a swamp and then c fied the Giants to do anything abou it.

It was the strangest battle that h been waged in New York in many moon. In fact the moon was abou the only thing missing, since darkness so enshrouded the field from the end of the first half that the last two quarters of this supposed daytime struggle were played under floodlights.

Bears Start Fast.

But while the visibility was at its best and the underfooting fairly certain, the Bears fired away with a devastating attack with Bronko Nagurski splitting the Giants apart with quick opening plays and Beattie Feathers slashing away at the tackles for gain after gain.

Then just to make the Giant defensive burden a bit heavier Bernie Masterson proved a deadly passer. It was Masterson who passed 29 yards to Bill Hewitt for the first touchdown that culminated a 77 yard march, and it was a Masterson-Bill Carr aerial of 26 yards that was the backbone of a 55 yard Bear advance, Masterson himself sweeping the end in a surprise maneuver for 8 yards and the score.

Pass Finishes 70 Yard March.

Again in the second period Masterson flicked the ball to Ray Nolting for 2[illegible] yards and the third Chicago touchdown that finished off in a fine flourish a 70 yard march. The fourth Bear touchdown came on a one foot quarter back sneak, Masterson himself taking personal charge.

Between the second of these scores and the third the Giants fashioned out a touchdown of their own. A forward pass from Ed Danowski to Dale Burnett and a lateral to Tod Goodwin, almost on the goal line, brought the Giants' score.

The Bears struck quickly for their first score. Feathers and Nagurski romped up 48 yards after one exchange of punts and then Masterson dropped back and whirled a spot pass down the center to Hewitt. He caught the ball over his shoulder as he stepped over the goal line.

Masterson Scores Around End.

Came the kickoff, a Giant punt, and the Bears were under way again. A Masterson-Karr aerial placed the ball on the New York 22 yard line and Feathers and Nagurski moved it up to a first down on the 8 yard line. The Giants assembled to stop Nagurski at center, but Masterson calmly went around his own right end for the touchdown.

Then the Giants tightened everything up. A Danowski quick kick that traveled 67 yards to the Bear 10 yard line and Feathers' punt return set the New Yorkers up on the Chicago 38 yard line as the first quarter ended. A Danowski-Goodwin pass netted 15 yards. Danowski and Tuffy Leemans picked up more along the ground. Then Danowski passed to Burnett in the right flat.

Burnett shook loose from a tackler on the [illegible]5 yard line, was stopped on the 4 yard line, and promptly looked around for help. He started to lateral to Bill Owen, saw quickly that it would be an illegal forward and then tossed to Goodwin for the touchdown.

Inspired by that the Giants came stampeding 70 yards to the 1 yard line, but lost the ball on downs. They came down again to the 12 yard line and lost the ball again when two passes went into the end zone.

The Bears soon went to work again. A 38 yard pass from Masterson to Hewitt and another of 29 yards from Masterson to Nolting covered most of the 70 yards the drive necessitated. In the third period Leemans fumbled a punt and Chicago went 38 yards for the last touchdown.

Beware Lazy Rabbit; He Is Health Peril

BY BOB BECKER.

With the Illinois pheasant and rabbit season opening tomorrow morning hunters have the opportunity to shoot two cock pheasants per day up to and including Nov. 15. The rabbit season allowing a hunter 15 cottontails per day will continue for many weeks, but every hunter about to indulge in a little rabbit shooting is being warned against he lazy rabbit.

"Don't shoot and bring home the inactive, easy-to-kill cottontails," warns Dr. Lloyd Arnold of the University of Illinois College of Medicine because such an animal probably is ill with tularemia or rabbit fever. This is a disease contagious to humans.

Health reports of the last five years show a sudden upswing in the number of tularemia cases in November and a really startling number in December and January. Any rabbit that is sluggish or dopey, doesn't run speedily from the hunter, and is easy to get, doubtless is a tularemia victim, says Dr. Arnold.

Danger in Cleaning.

Humans who clean the animal contract the disease through small cuts or cracks in the skin of their hands. We have followed the reports on cases in Illinois and we note that a large majority of those who have contracted the disease are women. As one physician has pointed out, this doubtless is due to the fact that women have helped clean the rabbit after they have been brought home.

This point is interesting about tularemia; after the rabbit meat is cooked you don't have to worry about tularemia because cooking destroys the germs. The menace of rabbit fever is in handling the animal. Several years ago meat handlers and furriers wrote us about methods to follow to avoid the disease. We recalled that the health editor of THE TRIBUNE advised them to wear rubber gloves when handling skins or carcasses. We understand now that Dr. Lee Toshay of Cincinnati has discovered a safe way to prepare vaccine with which he has successfully immunized butchers against contracting tularemia.

Will Not Run If Sick.

All rabbit hunters are advised to keep these points in mind while enjoying their sport. Never touch or dress a rabbit that was shot sitting still. These are sick rabbits. Never dress a rabbit that the dog has brought in. Most rabbits caught by dogs are sick or a dog wouldn't have caught them.

With a pretty good rabbit and pheasant crop this fall upland game hunters are expecting some fun starting tomorrow. The biggest trouble this year is to find hunting land not posted against shooters. Du Page, Kane, and other counties will have scores of deputies on guard to see that hunters do not invade acreage from which the farmers have barred all hunters.

Pittsburgh Americans Beat Shamrocks, 14 to 6

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 8.—(AP)—The brilliant half back combination of Dick Beltz and Bob Snyder led Pittsburgh to a 14 to 6 triumph today over the Boston Shamrocks, delaying the visitors from clinching the first American pro gridiron league pennant. Beltz ran wide around his own left end from the three yard line for the first score on the second play of the second quarter. Snyder smashed over from the one foot line on the final scrimmage of the third period and place kicked both extra point goals.

The announcement was made yesterday by Raymond H. Schultz, Chicago, president of the Schnauzer club, whose fourth annual show will be held simultaneously with that of the association.

Among those in Chicago territory who will exhibit the breed are Dr. John Thomas Nerancy, 4701 North Sheridan road; Morton Weil, Lake Forest; Mrs. V. Devault, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. W. F. McLaughlin, Glencoe; Mrs. Myrtle Falcon Cooper, Evanston, and John J. Bryant, Wheaton.

Revolta, Guldahl Defeat Little, Everhart, 6 and 5

Coral Gables, Fla., Nov. 8.—(AP)—Johnny Revolta, national P. G. A. champion, teamed with Ralph Guldahl of St. Louis today to defeat Lawson Little of San Francisco and Ned Everhart, Miami Biltmore resident professional, 6 and 5, in an exhibition golf match. The foursome played out the 18 holes with Revolta's deadly approach shots helping him to card 34—36—70, one stroke under par. Guldahl, runner-up to Johnny Goodman in the 1933 national open, scored 73. Both he and Little, who had a 74, were erratic on the greens.

North Park Will Meet Concordia at Homecoming

North Park college and Concordia Teachers of River Forest will meet at Dyche stadium as the climax of North Park's forty-sixth annual homecoming. Each team has won two games and lost one.

Battaglia to Use Misko as Stepping Stone

Tonight's Card

Frankie Battaglia vs. Frankie Misko [10], 165.
Billy Gladstone vs. Tony Cianciola [4], 148.
Babe La Varre vs. Duke Calloway [4], 124.

Frankie Battaglia, who fought for the middleweight boxing championship three years ago, tonight will meet Frankie Misko of Saginaw, Mich., in a ten round bout at Marigold Gardens, Broadway and Grace street. The veteran Palmyra, Wis., fighter, who was shunted in the background following a defeat by Solly Krieger at Pittsburgh several weeks ago, will try for a knockout to regain his former lofty position. Although Misko whipped Tait Littman in ten rounds at Green Bay, Wis., Sept. 29, it is doubtful that he will be able to avoid the storm of lether bound to come.

Pete Lello, 1936 Chicagoland Golden Gloves lightweight champion, with nine straight professional triumphs in his possession, is signed to meet a suitable opponent in the semi-final. Billy Gladstone, north side welterweight, whose improvement in recent contests has surprised, clashes with Tony Cianciola of Milwaukee in one of three supplementary matches at four rounds. A wrestling bout also is carded.

Hans Schnabel has been substituted for José Manuel against Frankie Hart in the main event of Joe Coffey's wrestling show tonight at White City. At 245 pounds, Schnabel will outweigh Hart by approximately 45 pounds. Jack Conley and Al George will be semi-final opponents. Other matches include those between Jim Landis and Andy Chikos, and Mike Chacoma and Johnny Silvy.

Three matches will head the amateur boxing card tonight at the Johnny Coulon club, 1154 East 63d street. Jimmy Dunham, Terre Haute, Ind., bantamweight, is paired with Henry Lewis, Nick Toth, East Chicago heavyweight, will combat George Snoddy, and Paul Frazier, Golden Gloves product, is matched with Charley Richardson. . . . Walter Roxy, Detroit heavyweight wrestler, will be in quest of revenge for a previous defeat by Stan Buresch at Arcadia Gardens Wednesday. . . . Ali Baba will try for his twelfth consecutive Chicago victory when he meets Everett Marshall, heavyweight mat champion claimant, at Chicago Stadium Nov. 20. . . . Eddie Boyle, Cleveland light heavyweight, is booked to oppose Max Chowaniec at Milwaukee tomorrow. . . . A ten round headliner involving Eddie Pierce, middleweight from South Africa, and George Black, scheduled tonight at Milwaukee, has been set back to Nov. 30. . . . An amateur program will be presented at the Duncan Y. M. C. A. Nov. 18. F. M.

H. W. BAYSINGER, 1928 SYRACUSE CAPTAIN, DIES

Syracuse, N. Y., Nov. 8.—(AP)—Harold W. Baysinger, captain of the Syracuse university football team in 1928, died tonight of an infection following pneumonia. He was brought to a Syracuse hospital Oct. 28 after becoming ill while teaching in Ossining High school. He was quarter back on the Syracuse football team in 1926-'27-'28 and was noted as a forward passer.

After graduation in 1929 Baysinger played with the Montreal team in the Canadian amateur football league and returned to Syracuse to coach freshman football when his brother Reaves was drafted to coach the varsity line.

A native of Akron, O., he attended Norwich High school, where his brother was football coach. Surviving besides the brother are the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hartley Baysinger of Akron, O., and his wife, the former Miss Louise Bardwell of Auburn.

Maccabees Lose to All-Star Team in New York, 4-1

New York, Nov. 8.—(AP)—A picked team of American Soccer league stars proved a better rainy-day club than the touring Maccabee team today and defeated the touring players from Palestine, 4 to 1, at the Yankee stadium. Neither team was able to do its best on the muddy field. Moniz, outside right, scored two goals for the winners, while Ray and Sheppell tallied one each. Zelivansky, a substitute, scored the only Maccabee goal.

WON'T CHANGE LINEUP.

Although two substitutes to a side will be permitted in next Sunday's international soccer double-header at Sparta stadium, the Maccabees from Palestine will go through both games without a change in lineup except in case of injury.

This was announced last night following a conference between representatives of the Spartas and Chicago Maccabees, who will oppose the two squads of Jewish champions, and Alex Matalon, representing the Europeans, when the two substitutions to a side were agreed upon.

As in all of the games on their present tour of the United States, the Maccabees wanted to restrict each team to the use of only eleven men. Matalon pointed out that his team takes pride in its infrequent use of substitutes and declared that in the ten games played thus far in this country it has averaged less than one lineup change per contest. He said that in several of its American games the team finished with only ten men on the field.

In their previous appearance here when the Maccabees defeated the Illinois All-Stars 1 to 0 before a crowd of 20,000 they made only one change in their lineup.

ROAR OF CROWD MEANS NOTHING TO BUCKEYES

Columbus, O., Nov. 8.—(AP)—Most of the half million or more football fans who strained their lungs and stretched vocal cords today with frantic cheers for their favorites may not care to know it, but to the boys down on the field the shouts meant little or nothing.

Ohio State university's Buckeyes agreed that the shouts of the 50,000 to 80,000 spectators who gather in the Buckeye stadium for home games are mostly for the crowd's own benefit.

The cheering, say the boys who do the playing, serves to stir the emotions of the thousands above the gridiron—but it's just so much noise to the eleven men on the field.

"I don't notice any cheering until the intermissions—but if the crowd gets a kick out of it let them yell," said Alex Schoenbaum, husky Buckeye tackle.

From the other end of the line Charlie Hamrick agreed that most cheering — organized or otherwise, falls on deaf ears. "We usually try to play our best anyway," he said.

Jumping Joe Williams declared the team as a whole benefited from the cheers of the fans, but asserted it was not the noise but "something behind us" that gave the stimulus.

Quarter Back Nick Wasylik summed up his team's outstanding opinion of football cheering:

"The only time we notice it," he said, "is when it interferes with our signals."

Maccabees Beat Olympia at Soccer, 3-0

BY OFFSIDE.

The Maccabees defeated Olympia, 3 to 0, yesterday in a Chicago Soccer league match to retain second place in the league standings. The Maccabees started a drive at the start only to miss scoring as the ball was kicked past by Pearlman. The Olympias tried to make headway only to be turned back by the good play of Henney and Davidson. After 20 minutes the Maccabees went into the lead when Lillie drove past Kratochvil close in.

This lead was held to the interval. In the second period the Olympias had an easy chance to tie it up, but Tomecek muffed badly when he shot feebly past the goalie. Keberle also missed with a drive high over the bar. The Maccabees started to press and went further into the lead as Art Waldron got possession from Pearlman to run on and shoot into the net. The third goal came from a disputed penalty kick, Lillie taking the kick to make it three up.

The lineup:

OLYMPIAS.		MACCABEES.
Kratochvil	G.	Fisher
O'Boyle	R. B.	Henney
Pelej	L. B.	Davidson

SPARTA DEFEATS CROATS.

The Sparta Garden City ran through the Croatian Eagles of Milwaukee, 8 to 2, yesterday at the Sparta stadium in an intercity match. The Brewers were outclassed from the start as goal after goal was scored, Fidler getting four, Wright two, and Coyle and Monroe getting the other. For the Eagles Kezele scored from a penalty and Mirko beat Cross near the close with a hard drive into the net.

In the National Challenge cup the Wilsons and the Bohemian Oddfellows battled two hours to a draw. The game will be replayed next week to a finish.

Many Games Postponed.

In the International league most of the games were called off on account of the bad weather. Two matches were finished in the major division, the Norwegian-Americans defeating the German-Americans, 5 to 1, and the Swedish-Americans won from the Viennas, 4 to 0. Scores of other matches:

LEWIS, HARVEY FIGHT TONIGHT EXCITES LONDON

LONDON, Nov. 8.—(AP)—It has been nine years since London has become so worked up over a prize fight as it is about the 15 round light heavyweight championship bout tomorrow night between the American colored titleholder, John Henry Lewis, and Len Harvey.

All the best seats were sold several days ago and there is the prospect of a capacity crowd of 14,000 filling the Wembley stadium and creating a new indoor record attendance for England.

The last time this country witnessed a real championship bout was in 1927 when Tommy Milligan made a spectacular but unsuccessful assault on Mickey Walker's middleweight crown, losing on a tenth round knockout.

The consensus among most of England's experts who have watched Lewis train is that Harvey's quest is doomed to a similar failure. Although he is undoubtedly one of the cleverest defensive fighters in the world, he has been boxing professionally for 17 years and is unlikely to win the world title at this late date. He is bound to win something, however, as he promoted the fight himself.

VIKINGS REACH SEMI-FINALS IN TRIBUNE SOCCER

Kicker Reserves Win in Class B Match.

The Vikings defeated the Ravenswood Hearts, 3 to 2, in a class A quarter final match of the Tribune soccer tournament yesterday at Winnemac park. In the semi-finals next Sunday they will meet the Olympias at Olympia stadium. The other class A semi-final will bring the Schwabens against the Swedish-Americans at Winnemac park.

Kickers Reserves Win.

The Kickers Reserves reached the class B semi-finals by beating the Viking Reserves, 3 to 2, also at Winnemac park, in the only other Tribune tournament game played yesterday. The winners will meet the German-American reserves next Sunday at Kedzie and Elston avenues. The Oak Park Acorns and the Swedish-American Reserves will clash at Greenfield and Woodbine streets, Oak Park, in the other class B semi-final.

The interstate junior final will be held next Sunday as a curtain raiser to the Olympia-Viking match. This game will bring together the Mooseheart team and the Croatian Eagles of Milwaukee.

Vikings Take Lead.

The Vikings took the lead after fifteen minutes of play in their game with the Ravenswood Hearts yesterday, Brostrom taking a pass from Erickson to score the first goal. They increased their advantage a few minutes later when Dalquist booted one into the goal, giving Wisneski no chance to stop it. Just before the half ended, Clays scored for the Hearts. In the second period, Dalquist made the most brilliant shot of the match to give the Vikings a 3 to 1 lead. A few minutes later, Sterrett of the Hearts slipped past Fors and beat Johanson to conclude the scoring for the day.

Lineup:

Wisneski	G.	Johanson
Duncan	R. B.	Fors

ST. NORBERT IS 9-7 VICTOR OVER ST. VIATOR ELEVEN

Green Bay, Wis., Nov. 8.—[Special.]—St. Norbert college closed its home schedule with a 9 to 7 homecoming victory over St. Viator college at DePere this afternoon. It was the victors' fifth straight triumph.

Eddie Smith, St. Norbert quarter back, kicked a field goal in the first quarter to give the winners an early lead. Both teams scored in the third period, Werner Finke, half back, plunging over in three tries for St. Norbert's touchdown after Vernon Ellis had put the ball in scoring position with a 20 yard run.

Later in the same quarter Bob Lenahan, St. Viator full back, dashed 35 yards over right tackle for the visitors' touchdown. Joe Saia kicked the extra point.

feat Iowa and Indiana in remaining games.

Fordham, Pittsburgh, or Alabama may be the choice of the Pacific coast for a Rose Bowl opponent. Fordham and Alabama are undefeated although each has been tied. Alabama was tied by Tennessee, but Saturday whipped Tulane decisively, 34 to 7. Pitt has the blight of its loss to Duquesne.

Marquette, still undefeated, would like to have a chance to play in the Rose Bowl. It's handicap is possible failure to attract customers. The Hilltoppers may have removed this barrier by beating St. Mary's 20 to 6, but Saturday's narrow victory over Creighton, 7 to 6, was no advertisment. Marquette's record this season is almost astounding in view of limited material. There is no question that Marquette would be a worthy opponent for any Pacific coast team.

Washington Near Title.

The University of Washington, although tied Saturday by Stanford's steadily improving team, 14 to 14, is nearer a championship today because Southern California's Trojans lost to California, 13 to 7. It was Southern California's first defeat, although the Trojans previously had been tied by Washington State. Saturday's game between Southern California and Washington can only produce a deadlock if Southern California wins.

Notre Dame lost its second game of the season Saturday to Navy, 3 to 0. The Irish failed to capitalize on scoring opportunities and an alert Middie secondary later checked the Notre Dame passing attack. A completed forward pass beyond the end zone—a touch back instead of a touchdown—is one of several items for Notre Dame to regret as it now prepares to invade the east again to face Army in New York City.

Nebraska marched on toward a Big Six title Saturday by beating Kansas, 26 to 0. Temple, which had halted Holy Cross' victory march, was tied by Michigan State, 7 to 7. In the southwest Texas Aggies' decisive victory over Southern Methodist, 22 to 6, was the surprise of the day. Texas lost again, this time to Sam Baugh and Texas Christian, 27 to 6. The Longhorns now have the prospect of playing Minnesota at Minneapolis.

See New Ring Stars Develop in C.Y.O. Meet

After two weeks of sectional meets in the south and west sides of the city, during which 128 boys have survived elimination to qualify for the quarter-final round of the meet Nov. 17, 18, 19 and 20, followers of the annual C. Y. O. boxing classic have begun to nominate their favorites for this year's finals, scheduled for Dec. 2 at the Chicago Stadium.

Among the favorites whose skill has elicited the admiration of the south and west side fans who have attended the sectional trials at the 124th Field Artillery and the 132d Infantry armory are several boys who are competing in the C. Y. O. tournament for the first time. Among them are Joe Bresnahan, Nick Galotte, George Runge, Phil Brown, Jim O'Malley and the two O'Connell brothers—Eddie and Joe.

Impress Fans, Experts.

Eddie O'Connell and Brown are entered in the 118 pound division, Joe O'Connell and Runge are fighting as featherweights, Galotte and O'Malley are a pair of lightweights, and Bresnahan is a light heavyweight. All of these boys have impressed both fans and experts in battling their way to the quarter-finals, and some of them are picked to reach the title finals Dec. 2—provided that they will be able to thwart identical aspirations on the part of north and suburban section contenders Nov. 17, 18, 19 and 20.

Other boys whose effective method of disposing of their opponents has captivated the attention of fans include John Xanthakis, Al Noto, Alex Maksymiec, Sig Ligocki, Stanley Murczyk, Wayne Fidler, Stanley Kogut, Cornelius Young, Gus Giannores, Dave Walker, Jack Goodman, and Joe Howe.

In Quarter-Finals.

These C. Y. O. lether tossers will also be seen in the quarter-final matches of the tournament starting a week from tomorrow night and continuing Nov. 18, 19 and 20.

Meanwhile, the attention of the fans will be centered at Loyola university gymnasium, Sheridan road and Loyola avenue, where the north side preliminaries will be run off tomorrow night, Wednesday and Thursday. Winners of Thursday's contests will qualify for the tournament quarter-finals together with winners of the south and west side trials.

Braddock Only 3 Pounds Over Fighting Weight

Hot Springs, Ark., Nov. 8.—[Special.]—James J. Braddock, heavyweight champion, is just three pounds over his fighting weight, he announced today. Braddock said he would begin training in two weeks. Joe Gould, his manager, left for New York predicting that Braddock would "K. O. both Schmeling and Louis." The latter's manager, Julian Black, is here and said Louis is expected next week.

LADY OF GRACE WINS.

Our Lady of Grace, Cook county football champions, scored its third straight victory yesterday, defeating the Kedzie-Irving Merchants, 13 to 0, at Lane Tech field. The touchdowns were scored by James Sullivan and Joseph Surek.

Wings Defeat Rangers 5 to 2 for 2d Victory

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 8.—(AP)—The champion Detroit Red Wings scored their second victory of the National Hocky league campaign by beating New York's Rangers, 5 to 2, before 12,000 spectators here tonight.

The Rangers, making their first start of the year, were held scoreless until the third period as the Wings piled up a five goal advantage.

Defense Men Score.

A final surged as the Red Wings took the defensive late in the game shot two New York goals past Normie Smith. Babe Pratt took Lynn Patrick's rebound for the first, and Butch Keeling scored the second on Murdoch's pass out from behind the nets.

Defense men scored the Wings' first two goals. Bucko McDonald broke for a solo while a mate was in the penalty box to put in the first counter, and Ebbie Goodfellow fired the second on a pass from Marty Barry. Johnny Sorrell scored another alone a minute later.

Score in 35 Seconds.

Before many customers had returned to their seats for the second period Syd Howe fired the puck past Goalie Dave Kerr after 35 seconds. Larry Aurie climaxed the prettiest drive of the night, with help from Marty Barry, to poke the Wings' final goal in.

Lions Score 28-3 Victory Over Pirates

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 8.—(AP)—The Detroit Lions, after losing three consecutive times, defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates, 28 to 3, in a National Professional Football league game here this afternoon.

Scoring three touchdowns in the second period and one in the last, the Lions were never seriously threatened. Only once did the Pirates advance deep into Detroit territory. Early in the first period they reached Detroit's 25 yard line. After three attempts for a touchdown failed, Niccolai place kicked a field goal.

A brilliant run by Ken Petersen brought the 18,000 fans to their feet in the last quarter. Taking the ball on his own 16 yard line Petersen ran around his left end, behind perfect interference, and then reversed his field to score a touchdown.

Other touchdowns for the Lions were scored by Cadell, Ebding, and Gutowsky and resulted from runs and passes by the same men, aided by the veteran Dutch Clark, who dropkicked three extra points. Presnell place kicked the last one.

The Lions outgained the Pirates by passes and rushing, 449 yards to 163. Lineup:

PHOTOGRAPHER'S LEG BROKEN AS HE SHOOTS PLAY

Farrell, Pa., Nov. 8.—(AP)—Photographer Ernest Graff's determination to get a closeup picture of a football play cost him a broken leg.

The Youngstown, O., resident was so intent on getting his camera properly arranged he failed to see three players charging Harold Matthews, Sharon ball carrier, who was trying a sweeping end run nearby.

The three tackled simultaneously, knocking Matthews out of bounds and all tumbled over Graff. The players got up. Graff had to be carried off the field.

FRED KING OF HOBART LEADS SCORING IN EAST

New York, Nov. 8.—(AP)—Fred King of Hobart, who was well down the list a week ago, was far out in front in the eastern individual football scoring race today as a result of his performance against Buffalo yesterday.

King crossed the goal line five times and kicked one extra point to score 31 points and bring his season's total in seven games up to 75. Joe Szur of Canisius, who took the lead last Sunday after being tied with Sam Padjen of Dickinson Saturday, kept second place with 66 points against Padjen's 60. Each made two touchdowns yesterday.

Szur and King shared the touchdown lead with eleven each, one more than Padjen, but King's nine points after touchdowns supplied his margin of leadership.

SORENSON WINS 30 LAP MIDGET AUTO FEATURE

Shorty Sorenson won the 30 lap feature event at the 124th Field artillery armory last night, his eighth victory since the opening of the indoor midget auto racing season. He gained the lead shortly after the start but was hard pressed by Jimmy Snyder, who finished second, half a lap ahead of Duke Nalon.

The crowd of more than 6,000 gave Snyder a big hand when he defeated Duke Nalon in a special match race at five laps. Nalon led for two laps and when Snyder passed him clung closely to the finish, losing by less than a car length.

Snyder came from the rear to win the 15 lap handicap in which most of the field was eliminated when three cars crashed within three laps of the finish. Sorensen was a close second. No. 19, the jinx car which has sent 3 men to hospitals on account of crackups this year, won the 15 lap consolation. It was driven by Carl Peterson.

FIRST RACE, elimination, 12 laps—Won by Shorty Sorenson; Jimmy Snyder, second; Duke Nalon, third. Time, 2:46.

SECOND RACE, elimination, 12 laps—Won by Emil Andres; Ted Hartley, second; Bones Skelton, third. Time, 2:50.

THIRD RACE, elimination, 12 laps—Won by Harry Lewis; Karl Hattel; second, Ted Johnson, third. Time, 2:54.

Cards Defeat Eagles, 13-0; First Victory

ing the ball on short jabs at tackle. The advance broke up against a determined Cardinal stand on the 44 yard line and Frey punted over the goal line for a touchback.

Both teams resorted to punting thereafter until the Eagles recovered a Cardinal fumble on the Cardinal 27 yard line, from where they went on to make their only serious threat of the half. Kellogg running wide to the left from punt formation, attempted to lateral to Vaughan, but the ball got away from Vaughan and Smukler recovered.

Eagle Threat Fails.

Thomason and Smukler picked up four yards, then Smuckler charged off tackle, running nine yards past Bill Smith. This put the ball on the Cardinals' 14 yard line.

Robinson threw Thomason for a 3 yard loss, then Smukler's pass was grounded. Smukler's second pass was taken by Leonard but gained only one yard. On fourth down Smukler passed to Thomason in the end zone, but Thomason overran the ball and Vaughan batted it down for a touchback. The half ended three plays later.

Philadelphia opened the second half with a rush, Smukler and Thomason battering their way twenty-seven yards in eight plays before the Cardinals braced and took the ball on their own 29 yard line.

Grosvenor Runs 88 Yards.

Eagle Pass Intercepted.

The quarter ended without further threat by either team, but the Eagles got under way early in the fourth period with Smukler, Hanson and Kusko, who relieved Smukler, advancing 29 yards to the Cardinals' 18 yard line before Pangle broke up the threat by intercepting Kusko's pass. Pangle broke up another Eagle sortie a few minutes later by intercepting Hanson's pass and returning 16 yards to the Cardinals' 46 yard line.

Kellogg's interception of Smukler's pass and his 21 yard return to the Eagles' 25 yard line gave the Cardinals another scoring opportunity in the final two minutes of the game. The chance was wasted, however, when Vaughan failed to gain, lost a yard on an attempted pass and Kellogg was stopped at the line of scrimmage. On fourth down Kellogg dropped back to the 32 yard line to attempt a field goal. The kick was blocked, but Kellogg recovered and ran 10 yards, one short of a first down on the Eagles' 16 yard line.

ROSASCO-KING TEAM IS VICTOR IN ROLLER DERBY

The team of Johnny Rosasco and Ivy King, formed during the closing miles of the race, last night won the roller skate Derby before a capacity crowd at the Coliseum. In winning the race, which opened on Oct. 13, Rosasco and his partner covered 2,779 miles, equivalent of the distance from San Diego to Chicago.

The Wes AronsonClara Sholl duo was second, while Gene Vizena and Joe Nyra wound up third. Nine teams finished the grind.

Rosasco had been skating with Millie Duello but the latter was disqualified for fighting and Rosasco teamed with Ivy King, who also skated solo for a short time after her partner, Billy Lyons, was injured Friday and could not continue. Brilliant skating by Rosasco marked the final night's competition, Johnny lapping the field. The winning team had a four point advantage on the runners-up at the conclusion of the race.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

BIG TEN TITLE.

WHILE the Big Ten or Western conference title of 1936 already has been awarded to Northwestern no matter what happens next Saturday, it would afford considerable embarrassment to Purple supremacy if the Wolverines pulled the unexpected against them at Ann Arbor. And it is not impossible for Michigan to do that, based on the play against Columbia when the Wolverines clicked.

The Wake does not subscribe, in toto, to the percentage theory of deciding conference titles. Occasion might arise where one eleven, with a comparatively easy schedule, finished 5-1, where another with a more difficult chart ended 4-1. Perhaps technically the 5-1 fellows would be champions, but we'd reserve individual right to place the 4-1 eleven at least on an even rating.

Before Saturday's game at Evanston we consulted several other sports writers whose opinions we value on what would be the status if Northwestern defeated Wisconsin. All agreed the crown would go to the Wildcats. Primarily, Northwestern defeated both co-champions of 1935, Ohio State and Minnesota. Iowa, expected to be stronger than it proved and favorite over Purple, Illinois, and Wisconsin were added victims, with Michigan to come. Northwestern never has framed its schedule to secure soft picking.

Minnesota rolled up a much larger score against Iowa than did Northwestern. Its 26 to 0 against Michigan may be, probably will be, larger than Northwestern does. Up in the northwest they think the Gophers could down the Wildcats nine out of ten times. But they didn't, and "ifs" don't count in the record book. Comparative scores too often have proved false guides.

Northwestern already has its conference title, but its supporters will have a much better talking basis for a game, fighting eleven if nothing unpleasant happens at Ann Arbor.

[Written after Ohio State Game.]

When they ask "What's become of the Irish
Who play football for old Notre Dame?"
Just suggest to such querulous gentry—
Take a slant at last Saturday's game.
When the fighting was right in its thickest
And the test of the Irish arose,
You will notice the lineup was studded
With names like the Macs and the O's.

Chuck O'Reilly and Bunny McCormick
Kept Ohio completely off keel,
While McCarthy shot bulletlike passes To Joseph Ignatius O'Neill.
Sure, there's Sweeney, McGrath, and McCarthy,
Red Gleason and others galore,
Darcy and Clifford and Megin,
Sullivan, Marr, and some more.
There is Martin and Cronin and Hickey—
We won't name the whole hall of fame,
But these are a few of the Irish
Who play football for old Notre Dame.

Packers Whip Boston, 7-3, on Herber's Pass on the Green Bay 40 yard line. Battles skirted right end behind perfect interference for a 27 yard run to the Packers' 18 yard line, and two plays later Britt completed another pass to Malone on Green Bay's 12 yard line. With three yards to gain on fourth down, Battles was halted on a short side reverse and the Packers took the ball.

Packers Score Touchdown.

Green Bay received the second half kickoff and immediately opened up an aerial offensive which carried it past midfield before Boston held. On receiving Riley Smith's punt at their own 43 yard line, the Packers again took to the air in a drive which brought them their touchdown. With Herber tossing first to Gantenbein and then to Hutson, the Packers moved down to the Boston 18 yard line, lost four yards on the next play, and then Herber flipped to Hutson for the score. Hutson caught the ball on the Boston 14 yard line and zigzagged over. Ernie Smith placekicked the extra point.

Boston tried something new when Britt caught the next kickoff right on the goal line. The whole team huddled around him, then spread out to rush down the field. The Packers were not fooled, however, for they found Pinckert was carrying and dropped him on the 12 yard line. Soon after Svendsen intercepted a Britt pass on the Boston 25 yard line, but the Packers could not gain, and Hinkle's attempted placement field goal from the 30 yard line was wide.

As the third period ended the Redskins had pounded out one first down to their own 36 yard line, and at the start of the fourth Rentner, Musick, and Battles advanced to the 50 yard line for another. A long pass, Rentner to Tosi, gave Boston the ball on the Green Bay 29 yard line, and Musick plunged to the 26 yard line. The march was halted, however, when Hinkle intercepted Rentner's shovel pass and ran 43 yards to the Boston 35 yard line. Boston held, and Ernie Smith's field goal attempt from the 32 yard line was far short.

REPORT PERRY IS READY TO START PRO NET CAREER

Has Signed Contract, Tilden Declares.

New York, Nov. 9 [Monday].—(AP)—A statement by Bill Tilden in the orient and several signs of activity in the professional tennis area here led early today to the report that Fred Perry has turned professional and that the formal announcement would be made shortly.

Tilden, the lanky Philadelphia professional, returning from a playing tour of the orient, said in Hongkong that Perry, generally regarded as the world's best player today, already has signed a contract to appear as a money player.

May Announce It Today.

At the same time it was learned here that Francis T. Hunter, close friend and former Davis cup player with Tilden, is giving a luncheon for tennis writers tomorrow and that some announcement is expected. Whether it would be definite word that the British ace already has signed to appear with a play-for-pay troupe was not known.

It was known, however, that Bill O'Brien, who has promoted most of Tilden's professional tours of this country, has reserved Madison Square Garden for the night of Jan. 9. If Perry turns professional — a move which has been often rumored in recent weeks — the Garden would undoubtedly be the site of his first appearance.

$50,000 for Signing.

O'Brien has said that Perry would get $50,000 for signing as a pro. Perry has denied that he already has made the move. He could not be reached tonight for comment on Tilden's statement in Hongkong.

Tilden, closely associated with the rise of the professional game in recent years, said Perry "may not be tops among the pros, but probably will be richer by one hundred thousand United States dollars by going into the money game."

EAST AURORA STAYS IN RACE FOR BIG 7 TITLE

East Aurora stayed in the Big Seven conference race with a 20 to 6 victory over Joliet over the week-end. Both the Aurora schools are undefeated, but West has won four and East three, and East has been tied once. East High meets Freeport in the feature game of the coming week. Standings:

BRITISH VISION RECOVERY TIDE MOUNTING IN U. S.

Rise of American Markets Followed in London.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 8.—President Roosevelt's success in the United States presidential election was received philosophically in London financial circles, where it is felt the tide of economic recovery in America, accompanied by rising values in Wall street, will continue "no matter what the politicians may do."

Disappointment was expressed in several quarters that the victory was in such proportions, as it gives little prospect of a healthy opposition in congress, but on the whole the belief persists that an industrial revival is now well under way and, barring serious international developments, the fact that the American election is over is likely to give fresh impetus to worldwide business activity.

London Stock Market Advances.

This belief is encouraged by the buoyant behavior of the New York market, which was reflected in London notably in the sharp recovery of many issues. Shares of tin, copper, lead, gold, rubber and selected home industrials took part in the spurt. The volume of market transactions was so large that many brokers' offices remained busy over the customary week-end holiday in order to catch up on their work.

Optimism relegated the big international problems, such as the Spanish war and questions of Anglo-German and Anglo-Italian relations, into the background.

In the foreign exchange market the tendency of the dollar to appreciate and of the franc to weaken continued, necessitating intervention of the Franco-British and American controls.

Send Funds to Wall Street.

At the same time funds from Britain, France and other countries of Europe are pouring into Wall street to join the "bull" market. One of the consequences of this monetary current is that gold shipments estimated to value $30,000,000 left Britain for the United States this week.

The most significant aspect of the British reaction, however, is the growing tendency in industrial and political circles to regard Uncle Sam as the rejuvenator of world trade. Mr. Roosevelt's success is being represented here as a "victory for economic internationalism over economic nationalism" and financial writers confidently propose that the Roosevelt administration take the lead in relieving the world's economic ills by a reduction of trade barriers.

The British government is already laying the lines for a resumption of talks on an Anglo-American trade treaty similar to those the United States has negotiated with 14 other nations in the last two years.

A Plan for the readjustment of the financial structure of the Follansbee Brothers Company has been formulated by the undersigned, in cooperation with other creditors of that Corporation. The Plan is now before the United States District Court for the Western District of Pennsylvania in proceedings under Section 77B of the Federal Bankruptcy Act.

This Plan should not be confused with others, which may call for the borrowing of large amounts of new money, or which otherwise seriously and in our opinion unnecessarily impair valid rights of present security-holders. Although existing First Mortgage bondholders desire to cooperate in restoring the Corporation to profitable operations, they cannot permit such impairment of their rights.

Proper recognition is afforded under our Plan not only to the relative rights of security-holders, but also to the problem of the Corporation from the standpoint of operations and sales. Definite financing commitments have been obtained, assuring necessary working capital. The burden of fixed charges is greatly reduced.

We believe that this Plan offers the only effective means for an early termination of the existing bankruptcy; and removes the danger of ultimate liquidation through foreclosure proceedings with the losses such action would entail. Accordingly, we urge that holders of both bonds and stock consider promptly and carefully its provisions.

A summary of the Plan will be forwarded by the Secretary of this Committee upon request. A copy of the detailed Plan, as filed with the Court, is available for inspection at The First National Bank at Pittsburgh, Pittsburgh, Pa.

CORN ADVANCES WITH DELAY IN SELLING CROP

Supply in Terminal Markets Limited.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

The delay in the movement of the corn crop to market brought a sharp advance in the price of the December future last week in Chicago. Stocks of corn in public elevators in Chicago are extremely small and although farmers can now obtain excellent prices for their grain they are not shipping it to market in normal volume.

The price of the December future advanced 8 cents a bushel last week, closing at $1.02⅞ a bushel, or less than two cents below the high price of the season.

The supply of corn has been meager in the commercial markets for some time. This year's crop was one of the smallest in the country's history.

Corn Crop Abnormally Low.

Latest estimates suggest that the final production figures will show a total corn crop of about 1,500,000,000 bushels. This is approximately a billion bushels below normal production and is the poorest crop, with the exception of 1934, that the country has harvested in a half century.

The delay in the movement of the corn crop to market is attributed to various causes. Unsettled weather has slowed up harvesting. Alternating wet and dry periods have retarded work on the farms. More important, however, is the apparent inclination of farmers to hold their grain.

Only a small portion of the crop ever reaches the commercial market. With the supply available for commercial consumption already small, prices have responded sharply to the delay in the movement from the country.

Argentine Corn Sold Here.

More than a quarter of a million bushels of Argentine corn have been received in the Chicago market and the bulk of this has been resold to commercial users. Some of the corn has been shipped to central Illinois, the heart of the middle west corn producing belt. Although not adaptable for some purposes the corn has been extensively used in chicken feed mixtures.

Shipments of corn from Argentina to the United States continue in heavy volume. Reports last week indicated that nearly 10 million bushels had cleared from Argentine ports for this country.

The approach of the wheat harvest in Argentina and steady improvement in prospects for the crop were depressing influences on wheat prices in the foreign markets last week.

American Markets Higher.

In Chicago and Winnipeg, however, wheat prices did not share the weakness shown in the Liverpool and Buenos Aires markets. In Chicago the principal wheat futures closed moderately above the closing quotations of the preceding week.

The Argentine crop is harvested in December and January. Estimates now indicate a crop of around 240,000,000 bushels, or considerably larger than was anticipated a few weeks ago. With a crop of this size Argentina would be able to export about 100,000,000 bushels more than last season.

Times Better, Says Reserve Board Digest

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 8.—The federal reserve board governors today released a post-election statement of better times in industry, trade, and finance for 1936 in the November issue of the Federal Reserve Bulletin. All lines are showing "the cumulative effects of continued recovery," according to the board.

The statement broke a self-imposed silence of the reserve board governors during the campaign. Members of the board, after receiving a barrage of criticism several months ago for making public speeches on behalf of the New Deal, notably Chairman Marriner S. Eccles, ducked their heads in the sand and kept them there until the election was over.

The board admitted that unemployment was still large and gave as reasons "the growth of population and the progress of technological improvements."

Part Time Employment Reduced.

"In the last two years larger increases in production than in employment have been due in part to increases in the average number of hours worked, which have been reflected in expanding pay rolls," said the board. "It appears that at present the amount of part time employment has been reduced and that further growth in output will result in a larger increase in the number employed. The fact that expansion is now proceeding in industries where unemployment has been greatest also contributes to this end."

Industrial production has increased considerably in 1936, according to the reserve board. The board's seasonally adjusted index averaged 108 per cent of the 1923-'25 level in the third quarter of the year, compared with 98 per cent in the first half and with annual indexes of 90 per cent for last year, 64 per cent for 1932, and 119 per cent for 1929.

More Durable Goods Produced.

Output of durable manufactures continued to expand this year and from the low level of 33 per cent of the 1923-'25 average in 1932 advanced to 106 per cent in the third quarter of 1936, the board said. Production of nondurable manufactures, which had declined to 88 per cent in 1932, averaged 113 per cent in the last quarter.

Construction also was up, according to the board. With public construction continuing in substantial volume, the total value of contract awards is currently 60 per cent of the 1923-'25 average as compared with 25 per cent in 1932 and 1933. Value of residential building contracts after three years at about 12 per cent of the 1923-'25 average, began to increase in 1935 and for the third quarter of 1936 was 46 per cent of the average. The increase was mostly in one and two family houses.

Farmers' Cash Income Rises.

Total cash farm income for the year was estimated at $7,850,000,000, compared with $7,100,000,000 last year and a low of $4,300,000,000 in 1932. The board took department of agricultural figures.

Sales at department stores were larger in 1936 than in 1935 in all federal reserve districts.

The reserve board saw nothing alarming in the fact that imports into the United States were increasing in greater volume than exports and that in recent months this country has suffered an unfavorable balance of trade. The board asserted that increased imports reflected increased buying power of consumers and greater raw material requirements of expanding industry.

Critics of the administration have charged that the disadvantageous trade balance has resulted from the administration's program of reciprocal trade agreements and agricultural scarcity.

WAVE OF BUYING ORDERS BOOSTS STOCK PRICES

Bright Trade News Aids Market.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Nov. 8.—With election uncertainties out of the way, the share market is again on the march with business, industry and a forward facing nation in general. After the resumption of trading following the election, a flood of buying orders—many of them coming reputedly from abroad—poured into the list sending prices sharply higher in all departments in the most active session in nearly a year.

Thursday saw a widening of the movement which slackened in the face of profit taking on Friday only to resume with fresh momentum in yesterday's abbreviated dealings. The net result of the four days was an improvement of nearly 4 points in the general averages and the establishment of new highs for the year and movement in virtually every department of the market except the utilities.

Election Worry Over.

Brokerage house observers are convinced that the movement is destined to go much further. For with the election factor off the "worry" list, there has set in a flood of extra dividends, bonus payments and wage increases that is emphasizing the recovery movement with an accent hitherto unapproached since the depression and commentators say there can be no doubt that much of the new "prosperity" income is going to find its way into the shares of "going" corporations.

The week closed with a rush of news which reflected vividly the improvement in business. For the most part the news was viewed as bullish on long term prospects. Steel production, which had declined in the immediate preëlection weeks, rose last week and statistics generally on the industry, wage raises, dividends and the like, were interpreted as showing that the industry's recovery is assuming almost boom proportions.

News Continues Bright.

Railroad freight car loadings for last week were down less than seasonally from the preceding week, and increased largely over the corresponding period of last year. Numerous corporations reported earnings for third quarter at high gains over a year ago, and the flow of dividends widened. The extra dividends voted were in large measure a means adopted to escape the penalty tax on undistributed earnings, but they emphasized the fact that earnings this year are well above those of recent depression years.

OCTOBER SALES OF MONTGOMERY WARD SET RECORD

October sales of Montgomery Ward & Co. were the largest for any month in the company's history, while sales for the first nine months of the company's fiscal year established a new peak for that period, the concern announced yesterday.

The total for October was $45,455,401, compared with $33,357,194 in September and $35,897,447 in October last year. This is an increase for the year of $9,557,957, or 26.63 per cent.

Sales for the nine month period ended Oct. 31 amounted to $265,598,051, against $217,207,992 last year, an increase of $48,390,059, or 22.28 per cent.

AIR CONCERNS REPORT GAINS IN TRAFIC AND PLANS FOR EXPANSION

United Air Lines in the first nine months this year flew 9,978,000 "trafic ton miles," President W. A. Patterson announced yesterday, an increase of 17.3 per cent over the corresponding 1935 period. The showing set a new world's record, Vice President Harold Crary said. A trafic ton-mile represents the movement of a ton of payload one mile, passengers and their baggage being estimated at 200 pounds.

American Airlines is completing preparations for the busiest winter season in its history, C. R. Speers, district sales manager of the company, announced. Instead of curtailing schedules in anticipation of lessened trafic, American is adding schedules to its major routes and making available a greater number of passenger seats.

In Chicago alone, he pointed out, American Airlines has in operation 23.1 per cent more schedules than a year ago, while the installation of 21-passenger planes on the Detroit-Buffalo-New York route and 14-passenger transports between this city and Fort Worth has made available 71.4 per cent more seats than on Nov. 1, 1935.

SHIP TONNAGE IN SAULT LOCKS SETS RECORD

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., Nov. 8.—(AP)—Trafic through the Sault locks recorded new highs in October with the result that tonnage this year is 14,000,000 tons ahead of the 1935 season.

Already 62,070,778 tons of freight have passed through both Canadian and United States canals this year, while the 1935 total was 48,293,308. With at least 10,000,000 more tons expected by the end of the shipping season, officials said, this year's total should reach 72,000,000 tons for the first time since 1930.

October saw 10,798,338 tons of freight, of which iron ore provided 7,641,262 tons, pass through the locks.

OIL INSTITUTE'S ANNUAL MEETING TO OPEN TODAY

Leaders in the nation's oil industry were assembled in Chicago yesterday for the seventeenth annual meeting of the American Petroleum institute which will be opened this morning at the Stevens hotel. The institute, which will be addressed by speakers of national prominence, will continue its sessions through Thursday.

Axtell J. Byles, president of the organization, said last night that rational utilization of an abundance of oil and not the often repeated warning of scarcity will be one of the chief concerns of the meeting.

"The remarkably rapid progress being made in the technique of discovering, recovering, and processing crude oil," he said, "is assuring us of a greater percentage recovery of oil from subterranean pools, greater percentage of useful and needed products of refining and efficiency of utilization beyond anything previously known."

Byles predicted a record consumption of nearly 20 billion gallons of fuel oil in 1936 and said that the industry's ills are at a new low as the 1936 meeting opens.

September Building, Loan Business at 12 Month Peak

The United States Building and Loan league yesterday reported new loans disbursed during September by savings, building and loan associations amounted to $115,495,000.

ILLINOIS MANUFACTURE RISES 50.5 PER CENT IN VALUE OVER 1933

The value of products manufactured in Illinois in 1935 was 50.5 per cent larger than in 1933, the Illinois Manufacturers' association announced yesterday from data in the latest census bureau statement. The gain for the city of Chicago stood at 50.8 per cent.

The preliminary figures showed that the value of the state's manufactured products last year amounted to $3,765,502,000, compared with returns of $2,502,175,233 in 1933, $3,492,656,270 in 1931, and $6,232,863,025 in 1929.

An average of 533,649 full and part time wage earners was employed in 1935, the statement showed, representing an increase of 27 per cent over 1933. Their wages in 1935 totaled $591,007,000, exceeding the 1933 wage payments by 46.4 per cent.

Illinois in 1935 continued to hold third rank in value of manufactured products, following New York and Pennsylvania. The total number of Illinois wage earners for 1935 was 22.7 per cent under the 1929 figure. Recently, the association placed last year's manufacturing activity at approximately 80 per cent of the 1929 basis.

Gen. Motors' Cash Position Is Stronger

New York, Nov. 8.—[Special.]—The pamphlet report of the General Motors corporation released for publication tomorrow shows that on Sept. 30 cash, government, and other marketable securities amounted to $284,397,262. This compares with $199,435,633 at the close of 1935 and $219,802,942 on Sept. 30, 1935. Net working capital at the end of September this year amounted to $336,636,390, against $319,961,219 at the close of last year and $314,135,092 on Sept. 30, 1935.

Earned surplus increased to $371,335,261 on Sept. 30 from $324,110,083 a year before.

Discusses Tax Situation.

Alfred P. Sloan Jr., president, in his remarks to stockholders called "attention to the fact that the new federal tax law imposes penalties, through the form of increased taxes, whenever earnings are not distributed as dividends. Since this penalty varies with the percentage of earnings retained in the business for the entire fiscal year, the corporation's position as to such extra taxes cannot be established until earnings for the full year can be more accurately estimated and dividends determined with relation to same, as well as to such conditions as may be pertinent to the question. In view of such circumstances, pending such final determination, no provision has been made for such federal surtax, if any, as may be applicable to undistributed earnings."

Directors of the corporation are scheduled to meet tomorrow for action on the distribution of dividends. On Sept. 12 the company paid an extra dividend of 75 cents a share on the common in addition to the regular quarterly payment of 50 cents.

This followed a similar distribution in the preceding quarter. In the March quarter 50 cents a share was paid, so that total disbursements for the year to date amount to $3 a share.

Earnings Show Increase.

Net earnings for the third quarter of 1936 were $34,626,078, the same as previously published in the preliminary statement. After dividend requirements on the preferred stock, earnings were equal to 75 cents each on the average common shares outstanding. In the September quarter last year net earnings were $30,753,088, or 66 cents a common share.

For the first nine months of this year the corporation earned $175,198,624, or $3.92 a share, which compared with earnings of $114,482,926, or $2.51 a share, in the nine months ended Sept. 30, 1935. Net earnings for the twelve months ended with September totaled $227,942,208, or $5.10 a share on common.

STEEL DEMANDS STEADY; OUTPUT HOLDS AT 73%

Taxes, Wages Still Are Problems.

Demand for steel has remained steady so far in the few days following the election, with steelworks operations throughout the nation holding at 73 per cent of plant capacity, the magazine Steel reported yesterday.

Following the wage advances announced by some of the leading steel producers after weeks of negotiations, it was generally assumed, according to Steel, that finished steel prices would be advanced $1 to $2 a ton.

Effect of Wages on Prices.

"Relating the leading interest's pay rolls of $242,635,540 in the first nine months of this year to its total shipments of 7,876,707 tons of finished steel, brings a pay roll factor of $30.84 a ton," the publication stated. "On this basis, a 10 per cent wage increase apparently would raise production costs $3 a ton, but it is obvious that no advance as high as $3 a ton in prices could be made.

"One of the price structures commanding considerable attention at present is that concerning rails. If an increase is effected Dec. 1 railroads likely will take advantage of the first quarter period of grace on the present quotation, and rail mills should be fairly busy until the end of the year."

Prepare More Coke Ovens.

With a shortage of coke continuing, at least 120 more beehive ovens are rapidly being made ready for production in the Connellsville, Pa., district.

Price weakness in several districts have forced Steel's scrap composite down 21 cents to $16.04, the third decline from the year's peak of $16.54. The iron and steel composite at $34.60 is down 2 cents as a result of the decline in scrap. The finished steel index is unchanged at $53.90.

Operations last week in the Pittsburgh district were up 1 point to 70 per cent; Wheeling, 3 to 89; Cleveland, 2½ to 79½; Birmingham, 5¼ to 67; New England, 13 to 88. Youngstown was down 2 to 74; Buffalo, 3 to 84; eastern Pennsylvania, ½ to 47½, and Cincinnati, 5 to 91. Other districts were unchanged.

The Unavoidable Claims against every man's estate

HOVERING over every man's estate are certain claimants. These may be grouped together under the general heading "cost of estate transfer"... including State and Federal taxes and probate expense.

To ignore these claimants—to fail to make adequate provision for them—is to invite possible hardships upon the beneficiaries. These claims must be paid within definite time limits—in cash. Satisfying them with funds derived from the forced sale of assets may easily throw a testator's entire plans out of balance.

Through sound planning and a proper coordination of estate assets, the payment of these transfer costs may be anticipated so as not to disturb the provisions made for the chosen beneficiaries.

Today's changing conditions suggest the wisdom of reviewing your Will regularly with these facts in mind. The officers of this institution will be pleased to place at the disposal of you and your attorney its 47 years of experience as executor and trustee for hundreds of estates. Your Will, of course, should be drawn by your attorney.

The Northern Trust Company's interesting new booklet, "An Example of Estate Planning," may be found helpful in a discussion of these matters with your attorney. You are invited to request a copy of this booklet by mail or telephone today.

APPEALS COURT UPHOLDS REALTY BOND GUARANTEE

Rules Operator Cannot Avoid Responsibility.

Real estate promoters cannot use section 77B of the amended bankruptcy act to avoid responsibility they have incurred in guaranteeing payment of principal and interest on real estate bonds, according to a decision handed down here last week by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

The Court of Appeals last Friday dissolved an injunction issued by Federal Judge John P. Barnes in connection with the reorganization of the Diversey Building corporation, owner and operator of a large apartment building at 644 West Diversey avenue.

Restrained from Action.

In the injunction Herman Weber, Knute Swanson and Loretta Hamann were restrained from proceeding against Fred Becklenberg in an effort to collect on their holdings of an original bond issue of $1,250,000, which was secured by the building and by a personal guarantee of Becklenberg to pay the principal and the interest at the rate of 6½ per cent.

After the bonds on the property were defaulted, foreclosure proceedings were instituted. Meanwhile, Weber got a judgment in the Municipal court for $1,193, representing principal and interest on a $1,000 bond. In 1934 the building corporation filed a petition for reorganization under section 77B of the amended bankruptcy act and on June 28, 1935, a reorganization plan was approved by the court which provided, among other points, the release of Becklenberg from his original guarantee.

Weber and other bondholders refused to accept the plan and on Oct. 16, 1935, the corporation filed a petition for a restraining order to stop the bondholders from suing Becklenberg.

Rules Against Barnes.

In overruling the injunction granted by Judge Barnes, the Circuit Court of Appeals held that the District court did not have the power to release Becklenberg from his obligations.

The Appellate court held that the only way Becklenberg may obtain relief is to tender "his estate to the Bankruptcy court for administration and establish the fact that he is insolvent, or is unable to meet his debts as they mature." It held that his estate is not subject to reorganization under section 77B, and he cannot modify his obligations by the reorganization of other insolvents.

Granby Consolidated Mining.

Investors' Guide: Would appreciate any information you can give me on Granby Consolidated Mining.—R. M.

Answer: Liquidation of Granby Consolidated Mining, Smelting and Power Co., Ltd., was halted Oct. 31, following decision of stockholders to resume operations at the Allenby properties in British Columbia. This decision was the result of higher copper prices which directors believe will permit profitable operations.

At the low copper prices prevailing during recent years, the company found it impossible to operate at a profit and stockholders voted on Jan. 24, 1936, to liquidate the company. The Allenby properties had been closed since 1930.

Liquid assets were equal to $10.38 per share at the end of 1935, largely due to sale of metals on hand, which enabled the company to show a net income of $1,652,000, or $3.67 per share, during 1935. The company had losses of $1,028,000 in 1934, $1,347,000 in 1932, and $507,000 in 1931, while net income was $533,000, or $1.19 a share, in 1933.

After making liquidating payments of $8 a share on March 13 and $2 a share on June 10, the company now reports having $400,000 in cash which is estimated to be sufficient working capital to put properties in operation.

Granby formerly was engaged in mining, milling, and smelting of copper ores, with small amounts of gold and silver also being recovered. After exhaustion or sale of other mining properties, the Allenby properties are the only principal asset of the company remaining aside from its modern smelting mill.

The Allenby properties are estimated to contain approximately 10,000,000 tons of low grade copper ore blocked out for mining, said to be enough for ten years' operations. Ability of the company to earn a profit for its stockholders will depend largely on continuance of current copper prices or higher prices.

Western Union 4½s of 1950.

Investors' Guide: I am considering buying a $1,000 Western Union Telegraph funding and real estate 4½ per cent bond of 1950. It is not callable. Do you consider it a sound investment?—Miss J. B.

Answer: These bonds have a high investment rating. They are to be secured by a prior lien on any property which the company hereafter may mortgage. Western Union has earned its interest charges by a wide margin in each of the last twelve years except 1932.

FOREIGN MEATS FLOW INTO U. S. IN VAST VOLUME

Pork Imports Set Record for September.

Meats produced in foreign countries continue to flow into America in huge volume. A department of commerce report yesterday disclosed that pork imports for September at 3,665,987 pounds set up a new all time record for that month, which compares with 1,112,465 pounds a year ago, and with 128,000 pounds in September, 1934, a rise of 2,764 per cent in two years. The five year average for the month, 1930-1934 inclusive, stands at 244,000 pounds.

In the first nine months of 1936 American consumers have eaten 28,640,183 pounds of pork from other countries, compared with 6,784,530 pounds in the same period of last year, and only 1,096,000 pounds two years ago. Annual imports for the ten year period, 1923-1932, averaged 8,446,000 pounds.

Domestic Pork Supply Low.

Although production of American pork is running ahead of the record low output last year, domestic supplies are expected to remain sufficiently low to guarantee a profitable outlet for foreign product here for many months. Other countries are rapidly increasing hog production and are setting up packing house facilities for handling of larger pork supplies with which they hope to retain the gains they have made in pork and lard trade in the last three years.

In one recent week Poland sold 822,291 pounds of cooked hams in tins in this country. The same exporter that week shipped us smoked sausage, bacon, dry salt cured pork bellies, and luncheon meat in tins.

Import Meats from Canada.

Canada marketed shipments of bacon, sausage, fresh pork cuts, smoked pork shoulders, sweet pickled hams, and fresh beef. Cooked hams in tins came from Czechoslovakia and also from Denmark, which also shipped bacon and smoked sausage. Such cuts also came from England, Estonia, Holland, Hungary, Irish Free State, Lithuania, Uruguay, Switzerland, and Sweden, these countries all being represented in one recent week at the New York port.

Beef and Veal Imports Rise.

During the first nine months of 1936 American consumers ate 78,194,635 pounds of beef and veal from other countries, compared with 65,745,498 pounds during the same period last year, and 31,296,000 pounds two years ago, an increase of 149 per cent in the two years.

FOREIGN FUNDS POURED INTO U. S. SECURITY MARTS

Alien Investment Estimated at 7 Billion Dollars.

New York, Nov. 8.—[Special.]—The rush of foreign capital into American security markets this week, following the reëlection of President Roosevelt, called attention to a movement of international economic importance which has been gathering force since May, 1935. Within the last week the movement has been accelerated with the pound sterling, the franc and other currencies showing pronounced weakness in terms of the dollar.

The long term investments of foreigners in this country are now estimated to amount to about $5,700,000,000, while short term balances aggregate at least $1,300,000,000, making a total of around $7,000,000,000, probably the largest stake foreign investors have had in America since before the world war.

Withdrawals Not Expected.

Economists and bankers calculate that our markets are today more vulnerable to a European withdrawal of capital than at any time since the outbreak of the war in August, 1914, when foreign liquidation forced the stock exchange to suspend operations. But they also feel that there is little likelihood of an early recall of much European money; that, on the contrary, most indications point to a continued influx.

In any event, financial experts believe, the huge surplus gold stocks of this country, combined with the new instruments of monetary control, including the treasury's stabilization fund and the federal reserve's power over margins and bank reserves, would make it possible for the United States to sustain a large recall of foreign capital without serious deflationary effects upon the banking system.

Gold Pours Into United States.

Since the stabilization of the dollar in January, 1934, more than $3,800,000,000 in gold has poured into this country from abroad, reflecting the repatriation of American capital which had previously taken flight, the restoration by foreigners of normal working balances here, the flight of European capital to seek refuge from threatened devaluation abroad and the investment of funds in this country to take advantage of the recovery.

There had been widely expressed fears that the devaluation of the gold bloc currencies would bring about a great repatriation of foreign money from the United States, but thus far the contrary has been the case. Since France suspended the gold standard on Sept. 26, $107,700,000 gold has been engaged in London for shipment here and additional smaller amounts have been taken in Belgium and elsewhere, indicating the continued strong flow of capital to this country.

Estimate Foreign Investments.

Foreign long term investments in the United States were estimated by the department of commerce to have a value at the end of last year of $5,035,000,000 of which $2,951,000,000 was in stocks and bonds, $1,045,000,000 in direct investments, such as real estate, plant and equipment, and $1,039,000,000 in other investments. Of the total British investors held about 27 per cent, Canadians about 20 per cent, and Dutch, Swiss, and French investors combined, about 29 per cent.

The current total, while the largest in over 20 years, appears to be smaller than the amount of foreign investments in this country before the war. Such investments were estimated by Sir George Paish, editor of the London Statist, to have amounted in 1910 to about $6,000,000,000.

PREDICTS WHEAT CROP TO EXCEED NATION'S NEEDS

Washington, D. C., Nov. 8.—(AP)—A wheat harvest in this country far above domestic needs for this chief bread grain, with a resulting decline in prices farmers would collect, was forecast for next year by the agriculture department today. This increased yield and decline in prices was conditioned upon normal weather both in this country and other important wheat growing countries of the world.

Unfavorable crops in most parts of the world in recent years were said to have caused the comparatively high wheat prices now existing in this country and much of the world. The current prices already have caused thousands of wheat farmers to plant a big acreage of winter wheat this fall, the department said, adding that most of the crop was in excellent condition.

Drouth this year shortened the wheat production and supply in this country, the department said, despite seeding of 75,500,000 acres, the second largest area planted to wheat on record. For next season the area of this country in wheat fields "will be at least as large," it was said.

MANY VESSELS BRING CANADIAN WHEAT TO U. S.

Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 8.—[Special.]—Large quantities of wheat continued to leave the Canadian lakehead terminals for eastern ports where it will be in a position to meet the winter demand. While not as large as last week, when ten million bushels were shipped, it is believed this week's total will be eight million.

The following vessels carried grain to United States ports the last week: Fort Willdoc, South Chicago, 180,000 bushels wheat, 60,000 barrels flour. Prindoc, Toledo, 220,000 barrels flour. Soodoc, South Chicago, 125,000 bushels wheat, 856 tons screenings. Ashcroft, Buffalo, 304,000 bushels wheat. Calgodoc, Duluth and Superior, 480 tons screenings, 95,000 barley. Windoc, Buffalo, 275,000 bushels barley. Algocen, Buffalo, 330,000 bushels wheat. Anna C. Minch, Buffalo, 229,000 bushels wheat. Laketon, Buffalo, 256,000 bushels wheat. Thordoc, Duluth and Superior, 105,000 bushels wheat. Mantadoc, Buffalo, 237,000 bushels wheat.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

Corn Dry and Good.

Nov. 8, 1936.

CORN picking got well under way last week at The Tribune's Yorkshire experimental farm after several days' delay due to wet fields. Two single row pickers were started in an eighty acre field of hybrid corn on Thursday and the farm manager plans to get a new two row picker going about the middle of this week provided the weather is favorable.

The corn appears to be dry and in good condition for storing, but the harvesters have been handicapped by having to work in muddy cornfields. Nights were cold enough last week to freeze the surface of the ground and as this frozen crust thawed during the mornings, the ground became wet and slippery, causing tractor wheels to slip as they pulled the pickers and wagons. Teams were used to pull the wagons from the fields to the crib. About 30 bushels of corn were hauled at a load. The wagons are equipped with boxes that hold about 42 bushels of ear corn, but they were not loaded to capacity because of the hard pulling in the soft ground.

About 220 acres of corn will be picked this year at the Yorkville farm. The manager figures that 190 acres of this should yield about 35 bushels to the acre. He does not expect to get more than 25 bushels per acre from the other 30 acres.

Lespedeza Is Clipped.

The Corean [Korean] lespedeza that grew in test plot A at the Wheaton farm was clipped last week and the seeds will be threshed out and saved for planting next year. The Corean plants remained fairly green until late and it was feared that the seed might not mature, but the plants finally turned brown and dried up and none of the seeds appear to have been injured by frosts.

Workmen cut the Sericea lespedeza several days ago. The tall plants were tied in bundles and now are standing in small shocks in the field to dry out. The men are doubtful as to whether or not the seeds of this perennial lespedeza had matured when frost killed the plants.

They plan to thresh out any mature seed the plants may contain and plant them next spring. The roots of the Sericea plants are expected to live over winter in the ground without injury. This year's heavy growth of plants came from roots that withstood the severe cold of last winter.

Leaves Still Hang On.

Leaves still are hanging on many of the trees in the woodlots at the Tribune farms. Some were green only a few days ago and are just now showing the brilliant colors commonly seen in early fall.

The oaks and hard maples seem to be holding their leaves longer than any of the other forest trees, although shade trees of various species and many kinds of small saplings and bushes growing in the woods have shed only a comparatively small portion of their foliage. Some years find most of the trees bare early in September.

MORE THAN A CREDIT MAN

After all, there are many men thoroughly versed in the expert handling of credit work. But there are comparatively few with a collateral business education and experience sufficient to produce ideas, sales co-operation, good will and added profits. I DO have these qualifications, and I'm looking for a bigger opportunity. Will start right to show what I can do. Any real opportunity in credits, collections, accounting, or office supervision.

We have eight factories worldwide making our electrical units, patent-protected and endorsed in more than 45 countries.

If you know that you must settle down to an opportunity that will give you success, then an official of this company will be glad to interview you if you call at 10 a. m.—no other time—this morning, Nov. 9. Room 1837 Midland Bldg., 176 W. Adams-street.

Promise-to-Pay PLAN
No Security—No Endorsers.
No Wage Assignments.
Just Your Plain Note

Now you can get a loan on just your Promise-to-Pay. If you can make regular payments, sign only a plain note and nothing else. It is just like borrowing from a friend on a simple I. O. U.—no endorsers, no wage assignments, co-makers, furniture, real estate, stocks, bonds, diamonds, or other security required. We take you at your word and give you the money you need on just your Promise-to-Pay. Unbelievably simple, yet there is no catch to this offer. Your honesty, integrity, and ability to pay are absolutely the sole requirements for a loan on the New Promise-to-Pay Plan.

Reduced Rates

Monthly charges are 3% on balances up to $100 and only 2% on balances above $100. Also all other types of loans at the same reduced cost. For full particulars, telephone, write, or stop in the office nearest you.
